THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

JANUARY, 1918

CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN, LL.B.

By CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN, JR., A.B., J.B., of Newton, Mass.

CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN, a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1889, Corresponding Secretary of the Society in 1895, at various times a member of its Council, and at the time of his death Vice-President of the Society for Massachusetts, died at his home in Newton, Mass., 10 April 1917, in the seventy-fifth year of his age.

He was born at Hartford, Conn., 26 July 1842, the only child of Sidney Ariel and Julia Maria (Brockway) Ensign, and was seventh in descent from James¹ Ensign of Cambridge, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., through David,² Thomas,³ Moses,⁴ Isaac,⁵ Ariel,⁶ and Sidney Ariel,⁷ his father.

The Ensign family is probably of Frisian or Danish origin, its eponymous ancestor in England being, we may assume, one of the early invaders of the British Isles who in the period of the Teutonic migrations settled in Kent. It is likely that he was called Ens, from the name of his former home, a small fishing community on the isle of Schokland in the Zuyder Zee, included in the region then known as Frisia and now a part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands. In 1852, on account of the inroads of the sea, the inhabitants of this little island were ordered to abandon it and seek abodes elsewhere. The son of this invader was doubtless known as Ensing, -ing being an old English term meaning "descended from," which was used later to designate a family or tribe. It is a singular fact that this name kept its original form, with only slight variations in spelling, until after some of the bearers of this surname had migrated to New England. In Hartford, Conn., the name appears as Ensing, the form used by a witness to a will in October 1666 and in the wills of James¹ Ensign and his wife Sarah in 1670 and 1676.

Early English records speak of the family as ancient and honorable, but small. Its seat was at Chilham, co. Kent, not far from Canterbury. On the present map of Kent, a few miles north of Chilham, may be found an Ensden Wood, and near it is a hamlet or village called Ensden, Ensden being a contraction from Ensingden. It would appear, therefore, that at an early date an Ensing made his abode in a wooded vale, called in Old English a "den." The arms of the Chilham family were: Sable, three swords erect argent, pommels or, two and one. In 18 Richard II [1394-5] Richard, son of William de Ensigne, held a manor called Ensigne's manor. A younger branch of the family was settled at Windham in Norfolk, an old Saxon locality. Their arms, according to the Visitations of Norfolk, were: Sable, three swords erect in fesse, points in chief, argent, hilts and pommels or, a crescent for difference. The male line of the Ensings of Windham soon became extinct.* That the Ensigns of New England were an offshoot from the English family of Ensing is a reasonable conjecture, but not a proved fact.

A Thomas Ensigne came to the Plymouth Colony in 1633/4, and settled at Scituate. He married, 17 January 1638/9, Elizabeth Wilder,† and he was propounded for admission as freeman on 5 March following. He became an influential man in the Colony, and died in 1663. In his will, dated 16 July 1663 and proved 9 June 1664, he mentioned his surviving children, John, Hannah, and Sarah. Another son, Thomas, of Cranbrook, co. Kent, yeoman, had died five or six years earlier, and in his will, dated 3 September 1657 and proved 24 March 1657/8, had mentioned his father, Thomas Ensigne, his brother John, and his sisters Hannah and Sarah, all in New England.‡ John was killed in 1676 in King Philip's War, and by his death the male line of this branch of the family became extinct.

James¹ Ensign, probably the ancestor of every Ensign in the United States and presumably the brother of Thomas, came to Newtown, now Cambridge, Mass., with Rev. Thomas Hooker's company. In Governor Winthrop's History of New England, under date of 14 August 1632, is this entry: "The Braintree company, (which had begun to sit down at Mount Wollaston,) by order of court, removed to Newtown. These were Mr. Hooker's company." It is supposed that they were called the Braintree Company because they came from Braintree, a town about forty miles from London. This change, however, was not permanent, for in May 1636 Governor Winthrop entered in his History: "Mr. Hooker, pastor of the church of Newtown, and the most of his congregation, went to Connecticut. His wife was carried in a horse litter; and they drove one hundred and sixty cattle, and fed of their milk by the way."

Among this company of hardy pioneers was James Ensign. Where and when he was born is unknown; but it appears that he was made a freeman in Cambridge on 4 March 1634/5, and owned an estate on the easterly side of Brighton Street, extending from Mt. Auburn Street to Winthrop Street.

On his removal to the Hartford settlement, as one of the original proprietors he was allotted twenty-four acres on the south side of the town. He was prominent in church and town affairs, was chosen constable for several years, and was chimney viewer, surveyor, and townsman. In February 1669/70 he, with his wife Sarah and thirty others, formed the South, or Second, Congregational Church. He died in November 1670, and in his will bequeathed £6 "towards the building of the new meeting house." His estate was appraised at £729. 2s. 9d., a considerable estate for that period. His wife died in 1676.

† This was evidently not his first marriage.

‡ This will is recorded in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, Register Wootton, 198. It contains much genealogical information, the testator mentioning his uncle William Austen and several other relatives. Cf. abstract in New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, vol. 42, p. 97.

His son, David,² was born at Hartford in 1644. Like his father he was prominent in church and town affairs, and was chosen chimney viewer, surveyor, and grand jurymen. He married first, 22 October 1663, Mehitable Gunn, daughter of Thomas Gunn of Windsor, Conn., who came from Dorchester, Mass., in 1636; and secondly Sarah (Wilcocks) Long of Middletown, Conn., daughter of John and Sarah (Savage) Wilcocks and former wife of Thomas Long. He was one of the first settlers of West Hartford, whither he moved in 1713, and was a petitioner for the establishment there of an ecclesiastical society, his name standing first on the list of church members. He died 14 December 1727, in his eighty-third year, and was buried in the old cemetery in West Hartford, where his gravestone bears the following inscription: "Here Lyeth the Body of Mr David Ensign Who Died Decem^r ye 14th 1727 in ye 83 year of his age."

Thomas³ Ensign, son of David, was born 7 December 1668. He married, 1 December 1692, Hannah Shepard, daughter of John and Rebecca (Greenhill) Shepard. He, too, played his part in the affairs of the Colony, holding the offices of chimney viewer, constable, grand jurymen, and surveyor of highways. He died in January or February 1737/8.

Moses⁴ Ensign, the date of whose birth is uncertain, was baptized 29 February 1707/8 in the Second Church at Hartford. He married, 3 January 1731/2, Love Andrus or Andrews, daughter of Thomas and Love (Knight) Andrus, and died 26 May 1751.

Isaac⁵ Ensign, a skilful and noted blacksmith, the recipient in 1770 of a grant of land from the town of Simsbury, Conn., on which he built his blacksmith's shop in 1770-1, and a soldier in the Revolutionary War, was born at Hartford 16 December 1747. He married, 29 December 1771, Lurannah Pettibone, daughter of Capt. Jacob and Jennie (Cornish) Pettibone of Simsbury. He was elected in 1773 surveyor of highways and in 1808 was grand juror. He died 12 May 1816, and was buried in the cemetery in Simsbury, where the following inscription appears on his tombstone: "Mr Isaac Ensign was born Dec. 16, 1747 & died May 12, 1816."

Ariel⁶ Ensign was born at Simsbury, Conn., 19 July 1778, and was baptized 21 May 1780. He removed to Hartford, Conn., and was a teacher, merchant, and the compiler of the first directory of Hartford, in 1828. Later he was an editor in New York, where he died about 1844. In 1804 he married Roxy Gilbert of Berlin, Conn., daughter of Col. Seth and Lucy (Kelsey) Gilbert, and a descendant of Jonathan Gilbert, the first marshal of the Hartford Colony and grandfather of Jonathan Belcher, Colonial governor of Massachusetts and later of New Jersey. He held the offices of lister, fence viewer, collector, and grand juror.

Sidney Ariel⁷ Ensign, son of Ariel and father of the subject of this memoir, was born at Simsbury, Conn., 3 February 1817. He was a boot and shoe merchant in Hartford, and afterwards an extensive real-estate operator in Connecticut, New York, and the West. He was a member of the Hartford Common Council in 1860-61, and a man of unquestioned ability and integrity. During the Civil War he was treasurer of the Union Defence Committee of Hartford, and in this capacity upwards of $200,000 passed through his hands, the auditors finding his accounts accurate to a cent. He married Julia Maria Brockway, daughter of Alva and Maria (Hull) Brockway, granddaughter of Elijah Brockway, son of Isaac, a drummer in the War of 1812, great-great-granddaughter of Samuel Brockway, who served under Pepperell in the siege of Louisburg, and a direct descendant of Wolston Brockway, one of the original settlers of Lyme, Conn.

Charles Sidney⁸ Ensign received his early education in private and public schools at Hartford, Conn., in the commercial school of Nicholas Harris, and in the private school of Edward L. Hart at Farmington, Conn. At the age of fifteen he was prepared to enter Yale College, but owing to poor health abandoned his studies and entered his father's boot and shoe warehouse, where he remained until he was sixteen. He then entered the law office of Thomas C. and Charles E. Perkins, leading lawyers in Hartford, and remained with them for one year, when he entered the Hopkins Grammar School, with the idea of preparing again for college, but again ill health compelled him to abandon this plan. In September 1861 he entered the Harvard Law School, and was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Laws on 15 July 1863. He remained at Harvard another year, pursuing a postgraduate course. He was admitted to the Middlesex County bar at Cambridge, 5 January 1864, intending at that time to practise law in Boston, and entered the law office of James Bradley Thayer, Esq., late professor in the Harvard Law School. He decided, however, to return to Hartford, was admitted to the Connecticut bar 19 July 1864 and to the bar of the United States Circuit and District Courts 23 November 1864, and began the practice of the law at Hartford.

On 10 April 1865, before he was twenty-three years of age, he was elected a member of the Hartford Common Council, and served on a special committee to confer with a committee of the Connecticut State Legislature in regard to the erection of a new capitol in Hartford. This conference resulted in the agitation that caused the abolition by constitutional amendment of the capital at New Haven.

In July 1865 he went to Europe, and remained there until August 1867, engaged in study and travel. He visited many countries, including England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Poland, and Russia. He attended lectures at the College of France in Paris, although he was not regularly matriculated in that institution.

In the fall of 1867 he settled in New York City, and on 9 April 1868, at the general term of the Supreme Court, was admitted to the New York bar.

In 1871 he moved his home to Brooklyn, N. Y., and there became interested in public affairs, serving as president of the Citizens' Association, and as vice-president of the Citizens' Democratic Association of King's County. He was a member of the Municipal Union Society, organized 12 February 1874, to promote the union of New York City with Brooklyn, a manager of the Advisory Committee of Ward 22, and a member of the Board of Managers of the Brooklyn Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. He was also an original member of the Bar Association of Brooklyn, organized 17 June 1872. On 24 January 1876 he was elected for three years a delegate at large from Ward 22 to the Democratic General Committee of King's County, and during the Tilden campaign he was its corresponding secretary. On 15 February 1877 he was elected a delegate from the Twenty-second Ward Tax-Payers' Association to the Tax-Payers' Central Association of the City of Brooklyn. On 5 March 1877 he was elected its secretary and on 5 March 1878 its president. It was through this organization that real municipal reform in that city was begun. He was also a member of the influential, nonpartisan Committee of One Hundred.

In the fall of 1879 Mr. Ensign removed to Watertown, Mass., and in 1884 engaged in the active practice of the law in Boston. In Watertown likewise he took a leading part in town affairs. He was a member of the School Board for eight years (1886-1894) and a trustee of the Public Library for three years (1887-1890), being secretary of the Board in 1887 and its chairman in 1888 and 1889. He declined a reelection to each office. He was also moderator of the Watertown town meetings. In 1891 he represented Watertown and Belmont in the General Court, serving as chairman of the Library Committee of the House of Representatives and as clerk of the Committee on Probate and Insolvency and being one of the twenty members who caused the defeat of the Salary Grab Bill. In 1895 he was a candidate for senator on a Citizens' ticket from the second Middlesex senatorial district, but was defeated by the Republican nominee by only nineteen votes, the usual Republican majority being three thousand. This defeat was due to the refusal of the authorities to allow a recount of the vote in the city of Waltham, as everything indicated his election.

In 1897 he moved his home to Newton, Mass., where he continued to take the same active part in public affairs. He was a member of the Board of Aldermen for five years (1901-1905), serving on the Committee on Public Works and as chairman of the Committee on Claims; and in the spring of 1917 he was a candidate for delegate to the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention, but was defeated in the primary election.

In politics he was always a firm believer in the principles of Thomas Jefferson, although independent, especially in municipal affairs. He came by these beliefs naturally, as one of his grandfathers voted for Thomas Jefferson and both voted for Andrew Jackson. In 1884 he allied himself with the Independents of Massachusetts. In 1887 he became a member of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Massachusetts, was elected in December 1888 to its Executive Committee, and in August 1889 was made secretary of the Committee, with headquarters at 127A Tremont Street, Boston. During his residence in Brooklyn his name was considered for the Board of Education, the Legislature, the Mayoralty, and the Bench; and in Massachusetts his name was twice presented to the Governor as a possible selection for judicial honors. He never sought political preferment. The offices which he filled were urged upon him without solicitation on his part, and often without his knowledge and against his will. He was firmly convinced that "the office should seek the man and not the man the office."

In the earlier part of his life Mr. Ensign was connected with the Protestant Episcopal Church, having been confirmed in St. John's Church, Hartford, by Bishop Williams of Connecticut, 30 August 1863. From the time of his removal to New York until 6 June 1869 he was a communicant of Grace Church, New York. At that time, with his wife, he united with the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, and on 4 January 1874 both united by letter with the Clinton Avenue Congregational Church in Brooklyn. On removing to Massachusetts, on 7 March 1880 both united with the Eliot Congregational Church of Newton.

In 1885 he was president of the Eliot Literary Association, connected with the Eliot Church. For seventeen years he was clerk of the Eliot Religious Society, and was often moderator of its meetings and church auditor. He was likewise a strong supporter of the Sunday school, and for a number of years before his death had been leader of the Mutual Bible Class, an adult class, which is older than the Church itself.

In the field of organized charity and social welfare also Mr. Ensign was active. At the time of his death he was a director of the Newton Welfare Bureau and was first vice-president of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, being a director of the latter organization and chairman of its Executive Committee. He had also been, since January 1904, president of the Associated Charities of Newton.

From early manhood Mr. Ensign had devoted much time to the study of family history and to genealogical and antiquarian research. For nearly sixty years he had been engaged in the examination of records, both public and private, relating to the Ensign family, and had been able to collect a vast amount of interesting information. In fact he had compiled a genealogical history of its various branches, and hoped that some day he would be able to publish it. This genealogy is invaluable, and is now in the possession of his son. He had also collected much material of value regarding the Hull, Gilbert, and Brockway families, and had accumulated valuable data of an historical character.

Elected a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society on 6 November 1889, he became a life member in the same year, and for more than a quarter of a century endeavored in every possible way to promote the welfare of the Society, rendering to it loyal and faithful service in the numerous and various positions to which he was called by vote of the Council or of the Society. He was repeatedly appointed to important committees in the Society, being a member of the Committee on Ancient Graveyards in 1899, of the Committee on the Cabinet in 1900 and 1901, of the Committee on Graveyard Inscriptions in 1901 and 1902, of the Committee on Memorials (holding the position of editor of this committee) in 1902, of the Committee on Epitaphs during the ten years 1903-1912 (serving as chairman in 1911 and 1912), and of the Committee on the Library from 1914 until his death (being chairman from 1915 on). In 1914 he was appointed by the President of the Society as chairman of a Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, and reported from this committee to the Society the amendments to Chapters II, III, IX, and XII of the By-Laws, which were adopted on 3 May 1916, the most important change introduced by these amendments being the transfer of the election of members of the Society from the Society to the Council. He continued as chairman of this committee until his death, and he was also, in March 1917, placed on a committee on which he had not previously served, the Committee on Finance. In February 1893, only a few years after his membership in the Society began, he was chosen by the Society to fill a vacancy in the Council; he was elected Corresponding Secretary of the Society for the year 1895; and on three different occasions he was elected as Councillor for the full term of three years, viz., for the years 1896-1898, 1900-1902, and 1914-1916. At the annual meeting of the Society on 7 February 1917 he was nominated and unanimously elected as Vice-President for Massachusetts, in succession to the late Nathaniel Johnson Rust, whose death had occurred only two days before this meeting. He had often been summoned to act as chairman pro tempore at the meetings of the Council or of the Society, especially at the annual meetings of the Society, when the election of officers and councillors took place. His conspicuous ability as a presiding officer was recognized by all. Not the least of his services to the Society in recent years was the preparation of a memoir of the late Col. Albert Harrison Hoyt, A.M., a former editor of the REGISTER and prominent member of the governing board of the Society, a task for which Mr. Ensign was especially fitted by reason of his long-standing acquaintance with Colonel Hoyt. This memoir was published in the REGISTER of January 1916.

On the membership rolls of many other organizations — social, literary, historical, patriotic, legal — Mr. Ensign's name was to be found. Since 1885 he had been a member of the Newton Monday Evening Club, organized in 1880, a social and literary organization, and for many years he was its secretary. He was also one of the founders of the Eight O'Clock Club, a similar organization for younger men. He was a life member of the American Historical Association, a member of the Connecticut Historical Society and of the Newton Historical Society, a corresponding member of the Maine Historical Society, an original member and one of the incorporators of the Historical Society of Watertown, and formerly a member of the Bostonian Society. He was an associate member of Charles Ward Post No. 62, G. A. R., and also a member of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, an original member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, and a life member of the Harvard Law School Association, organized in 1886.

Mr. Ensign married, 2 December 1868, Angeline Faxon Barker, daughter of Hiram and Hepseybeth (Faxon) Barker of Brighton, Mass., and great-granddaughter of Lieut. Roger Adams, who fought in the Battle of Lexington. Mrs. Ensign and their two children, Angie Gertrude Ensign and Charles Sidney Ensign, Jr., a lawyer practising in Boston, survive him.

Mr. Ensign was a sound lawyer, and a profound student not only of the law but also of the science of government, economics, and kindred subjects. He was an able parliamentarian, and was in constant demand as a presiding officer at all kinds of public meetings. He was a lover of good books, and his numerous addresses and papers, principally of an historical and genealogical nature, show a high grade of literary skill.

He was a friend to all. The poor laborer in the street as well as the wealthy neighbor greeted him heartily. As some one said of him not long ago, "In all the many years I have known him I have heard not the slightest word spoken against him or his character."

He was blessed with a long and busy life, well-rounded, useful, and happy. Since boyhood he had enjoyed perfect health. His death came suddenly, for he was apparently in his usual vigor until three days before, when he was stricken with pneumonia.

No more we hear his footsteps; we see his vacant chair; we miss his kindly greetings; but we think of him, and thank God that

"His life was gentle; and the elements
So mix'd in him, that Nature might stand up,
And say to all the world, This was a man!"

A GRANDSON OF ELDER THOMAS CUSHMAN AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

Compiled by JAMES THOMAS CUSHMAN of Seattle, Wash., and communicated by THEODORE PARKER ADAMS, A.B., of Plymouth, Mass.

IN Henry Wyles Cushman's "Genealogy of the Cushmans," published in 1855, and in Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary of New England," Thomas Cushman, eldest child of Elder Thomas Cushman of Plymouth in New England, is said to have had five children, viz., by Ruth Howland, afterwards his first wife, a son named Robert, who was born 4 Oct. 1664, and by his second wife, Abigail Fuller, four sons, Job, born probably about 1680, Bartholomew, baptized 13 Mar. 1684 [1684/5], Samuel, born 16 July 1687, and Benjamin, baptized 1 Mar. 1690/1. Neither to this Thomas, however, nor to any one of his three brothers, Rev. Isaac, Dea. Elkanah, and Eleazar, has a son named Thomas been assigned in printed accounts of the family, and therefore it has been believed that no son of Elder Thomas Cushman had a son named Thomas. It is the purpose of this article to show that Thomas Cushman, the eldest child of Elder Thomas, had a son named Thomas, and to trace to the present day one line of descendants of this last-named Thomas.

In a deed dated 3 Feb. 1702 [1702/3] Thomas Cushman of Plymouth, undoubtedly the son of the Elder, conveyed land in Duxbury to Thomas Loring of Plymouth, "being the Spott upon which my Son, Thomas Cushman hath built." The deed is acknowledged, 5 Feb. 1702/3, by Thomas Cushman and his wife Abigail, and proves that Thomas Cushman, son of the Elder, had a son who bore his father's name. (Plymouth Deeds, Book 4, p. 167.) In a deed dated 4 Feb. 1702/3 Thomas Loring of Plymouth and Thomas Cushman of Duxbury (probably the son Thomas mentioned in the deed of the previous day) conveyed land in Duxbury to Maj. John Bradford of Plymouth, Sarah, wife of Thomas Cushman, joining, 5 Feb. 1702/3, in acknowledging the deed. (Ib., Book 10, part 1, p. 221.) This Thomas Cushman of Duxbury removed to Lebanon, Conn., a deed recorded at Lebanon showing that on 1 Apr. 1703 Thomas Coachman of Duxbury in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay bought land in Lebanon of Henry Woodward of Lebanon. (Lebanon Land Records, vol. 1, p. 281.) On gravestones in the Old Cemetery at Lebanon are the following inscriptions:

Here lies the Body of Mr. Thomas Cushman, late husband of Mrs. Sarah Cushman, who died January 9, 1727, aged 57 years. [Verses follow.]

Here lies the Body of Mrs. Sarah Cushman, late wife of Mr. Thomas Cushman, who died Dec. 25, 1726, aged 52 years. [Verses follow.]

This Thomas Cushman, therefore, was born about 1670, and must have been the son of Thomas Cushman by the latter's first wife, Ruth Howland, a daughter of John and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland, both of whom were passengers in the Mayflower in 1620. Sarah, wife of Thomas Cushman of Duxbury and Lebanon, was daughter of Jedediah Strong of Coventry, Conn., as is proved by a receipt (dated Coventry, 25 Sept. 1733) from William Cushman [son of Thomas and Sarah] to "Preserved Strong Executor of y^e last will of his father Jedediah Strong late of Coventry deceased," for 9s. 9d., "in full of what was will'd to me by my honoured Grandfather Jedediah Strong." (Windham, Conn., Probate Records, vol. 2, p. 260.) The following brief genealogy shows some of the descendants of Elder Thomas Cushman in the line of his grandson, Thomas of Duxbury and Lebanon; and it will be observed that the name Thomas has descended in this branch of the family from father to son, from Elder Thomas of Plymouth almost to the present day.

1. ROBERT¹ CUTCHMAN or CUSHMAN,* baptized at Rolvenden, co. Kent, England, 9 Feb. 1577/8, died in England, probably in the summer of 1625. He married first, in the parish of St. Alphege, Canterbury, England, 31 July 1606, SARA REDER, who dwelt in the precincts of the Cathedral at Canterbury and whose parentage has not been discovered; and secondly, at Leyden, Holland, 5 June 1617, MARY (CLARKE) SHINGELTON, widow of Thomas of Sandwich, co. Kent, shoemaker, the licence for her marriage to her first husband, which was to be celebrated at St. Mary Bredman's, Canterbury, being dated 28 Jan. 1610/11. Robert Cushman is well known as the agent of the Leyden Pilgrims in England, and arrived at Plymouth in New England, with his son Thomas, in the Fortune in Nov. 1621. He sailed for England in the same ship about a month later, on business for the Colony, leaving his son Thomas in the care of Governor Bradford. Apparently his wife never came to New England, and she probably died before her husband and stepson began their voyage to Plymouth in 1621.*

Child by first wife:

2. ELDER THOMAS² CUSHMAN (*Robert*¹), of Plymouth in New England, baptized in the parish of St. Andrew, Canterbury, co. According to family tradition he was, while camping out with his father-in-law, accidentally shot and killed by the latter, who in the darkness mistook him for an Indian.§ He married at New Providence, N. J., 5 June 1764, MARY FRAZEE,* who married secondly ——— Abbott, was living in 1797 as Mary Abbott, and died in Kentucky. Thomas Cushman was a Revolutionary soldier, and after the Revolution entered at various dates his claims to sundry lands in Monongalia Co., in what is now the State of West Virginia, the latest entry being dated 11 Apr. 1787. Whether he actually settled on these lands does not appear.||

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND

FREESTONE-RAITHBECK-THEW

Contributed by G. ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR., A.M., LL.B., of Newport, R. I.,
 and communicated by the Committee on English Research

ACCORDING to the records of the First Church of Boston, Mass., Ann and Frances Freestone, "kinswomen of our brother, William Hutchinson," were admitted to the church on 9, 9 mo., and 28, 10 mo., 1634, respectively. In Lechford's Note-Book (pp. 327-328 of the printed book) is the following entry, placed immediately after an entry dated 26 Oct. 1640:

Elizabeth Freestone late of Alford in the County of Lincolne and now of Boston in New England spinster daughter of Richard Freeston late of Horn-castle in the County of Lincolne aforesaid wollendraper deceased makes a letter of Attorney to John Hutchinson of Alford aforesaid wollendraper to receive & recover 40^l of Mary Freeston of Thimbleby in the said County widdow & Executrix of the last will & testament of Robert Freeston my uncle who was executor of the last will & testament of Robert Freeston my grandfather one of the Executors of the last will & testament of my said father and 6^l 13^s 4^d dividend part belonging to me by reason of the Death of my sister Mary and 5^l of Nathaniell Cuthbert of Warmington in the County of Northampton Executor of the last will & testament of my grandmother Mary Cuthbert given me by her will.

In the Essex Institute Historical Collections, vol. 48, pp. 265-268 (July, 1912), the contributor of this article, in an account of the early generations of the Turner family of Salem, Mass., showed that Ann, Frances, and Elizabeth Freestone were sisters, and from information derived from English records and "Lincolnshire Pedigrees" * explained the genealogical statements contained in the entry in Lechford's Note-Book and set forth the English ancestry of the Freestone sisters and their exact relationship to the Hutchinsons. Frances Freestone became the first wife of Valentine Hill of Boston, and Elizabeth Freestone married Robert Turner of Boston. In the present article are given abstracts of English wills and entries found in English parish registers that confirm and supplement what has already been published about the English ancestry and connections of the three Freestone sisters.

The Will of RICHARD FRESTON of Ashby Puerorum [co. Lincoln], 16 February 1533 [1533/4]. To be buried in the churchyard of St. Andrew in Ashby

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By ALFRED JOHNSON, A.M., Litt.D., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 3 October 1917. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

In the absence of the Recording Secretary, Henry Edwards Scott was authorized to act in his place.

The minutes of the May meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of fifty-two persons who had been elected resident members.

An election by ballot to fill the vacancy existing in the office of Vice-President for Massachusetts being in order, the Chair appointed Walter Kendall Watkins, George Beckwith Stevens, M.D., and Mrs. Ida Louise Farr Miller as tellers to distribute, receive, and count the ballots and to report to the Society at a later stage in the meeting.

The Chair then presented as the speaker of the afternoon Hon. Howard Randolph Bayne, M.A., LL.B., of New York City, who addressed the Society on The Origin and Application of the Monroe Doctrine.

Beginning with a short sketch of the life and career of President Monroe, Senator Bayne set forth the important historic events which led up to the policy propounded by Monroe in his famous message to Congress. The significance of the principles laid down in this message was pointed out, and in conclusion a number of instances were cited in which the Monroe Doctrine was effectively applied by later presidents.

After some remarks by Mr. James H. Stark in reference to President Cleveland's application of the Monroe Doctrine in the Venezuelan boundary dispute in 1895, a vote of thanks to Senator Bayne for his clear, interesting, and scholarly exposition of the Monroe Doctrine was unanimously adopted.

Vice-President Chase then called Mr. Scott to the chair, and the report of the tellers was presented. In accordance with this report the Chair announced the election of John Carroll Chase as Vice-President for Massachusetts.

Vice-President Chase, on resuming the chair, thanked the Society for the honor conferred in electing him Vice-President for Massachusetts, and then, no further business being presented, declared the meeting dissolved.

After the meeting the usual social hour followed.

7 November. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

In the absence of the Recording Secretary, Henry Edwards Scott was appointed Recording Secretary pro tempore.

The minutes of the October meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of three persons who had been elected resident members.

By ballot the following were elected members of the Nominating Committee: Lawrence Brainerd, George Walter Chamberlain, Miss Idelle Keyes, George Sawin Stewart, and Mrs. Susan Cotton Tufts.

President Baxter then presented as the speaker of the afternoon Mr. Henry Collins Brown of New York City, who exhibited, in connection with his subject, A Night with John Pintard in Old New York, an interesting series of pictures showing the contrast between old New York and the New York of to-day.

Vice-President Chase moved that the thanks of the Society be extended to the speaker, and after remarks by Mr. James H. Stark, who seconded this motion, and by Mrs. Sara W. Lee-Mortimer, the motion was adopted by a unanimous vote.

At 3.35 P.M. the President declared the meeting dissolved.

5 December. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

The minutes of the November meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of two persons who had been elected resident members.

The report of the Nominating Committee was read and accepted, and the Committee was discharged.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Charles Sherburne Penhallow and Charles Edward Lord as auditors to audit the accounts of the Treasurer for the current year, and announced that the President of the Society had appointed Hon. James Parker Parmenter as Chairman of the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, vice Charles Sidney Ensign, deceased, and Samuel Mitchell Child as a member of the same committee.

Vice-President Chase then presented as the speaker of the afternoon Lieut. Robert Archer Bowlby, of the Canadian Grenadiers, who had recently returned from active service at the front.

Lieutenant Bowlby was born in Somerville, but, being in Canada at the outbreak of the war, he enlisted in the Canadian forces. With an ingenuous, boyish, and direct manner, he held his audience for over an hour while he narrated personal experiences and visualized the life of the average American youth crossing the seas to fight for his country. Interspersed with anecdotes of trench life were statements of serious facts which revealed a keen discernment of the larger issues of the war. Frequent applause accompanied his remarks, and on motion of Judge Henry N. Blake a vote of thanks was adopted.

After questions had been asked from the floor, at 4.15 P.M. the Chair declared the meeting dissolved.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

LEAVENWORTH. — A private graveyard was once in existence on Good Hill in Roxbury, Conn., near the Woodbury town line, on the road leading to "Tophet." It was established in 1805 (Roxbury Deeds, vol. 2, p. 538) by Elihu Leavenworth, who for this purpose conveyed a corner of his farm to Capt. David Leavenworth, Gideon Leavenworth, Morse Leavenworth, Thomas Beardslee, Ephraim Beardslee, and Samuel Thompson, reserving one seventh of the lot to himself. About forty years ago the Elihu Leavenworth farm, adjoining the graveyard, came into possession of a man who resided there until recently, when it was again transferred. The present owner found the graveyard under cultivation, the only indication that it had been used as a burial ground being gravestones which had been thrown alongside the wall. Other stones and fragments were found in the cellar, where they were used as table tops and as props for a stove.

The Beardslee stones were removed several years ago to the modern cemetery in Roxbury, so that all but one of those still remaining on Good Hill are Leavenworth stones. The facts derived from the records still decipherable are given below, the words in brackets having been supplied by the contributor.

Capt. David Leavenworth, died 23 Mar. 1820, ae. 82.

Olive his wife, died 8 Oct. 1804, ae. 67.

Olive, wife of Capt. David Leavenworth, died 8 Oct. 1804, ae. 63.

Martin Leavenworth, died 16 Feb. 1813, ae. 28.

Shelden, son of Gideon Leavenworth, died 14 Apr. 1800, ae. 14.

Morse Leavenworth, died 12 Nov. 1822, ae. 58.

Loi[s, wife of] Gideon L[ea]venworth,] [illegible] Sep[illegible].

[illegible] Leavenworth [illegible].

Abigail, wife of Ephraim Beardslee, died 15 Mar. 1812, ae. 43.

The Leavenworth Genealogy (followed therein by later publications) states that Thomas² Leavenworth, son of Thomas¹ and Grace, married Mary Jenkins, daughter of David, basing the assertion on the fact that Thomas² called David Jenkins his father-in-law. This is erroneous. Grace, widow of Thomas¹ Leavenworth, married secondly David Jenkins, as surmised by Cothren (History of Woodbury). Thomas² Leavenworth married Mary Dorman, born 12 May 1680, daughter of Edmund and Hannah (Hull) of New Haven, Conn. In the settlement of the estate of Edmund Dorman in 1711 his daughter Mary is called wife of Thomas Levensworth of Stratford. It is likely that Mary Dorman was mother of all the children of Thomas, since the youngest was named Edmund, and the son Thomas³ named a son Dorman.

John³ Leavenworth, son of Thomas² and Mary (Dorman), married first Deborah Moss, born 10 Feb. 1714/15. They were parents of the Capt. David and grandparents of the Morse Leavenworth whose gravestone inscriptions are given above. The Leavenworth Genealogy gives Deborah's maiden name as Hurd instead of Moss.

The same publication assumes that John² Leavenworth, the only other son (besides Thomas²) of Thomas¹ and Grace, left no issue. John removed from Stratford, Conn., to Newtown, Conn., married Phebe Wooster of Derby, Conn., (see New Haven Probate Records and Derby Deeds), and died in Feb. 1762. In his will he mentioned wife Phebe, son Thomas, and daughters Alice Camp, Sarah Botsford, and Abigail Turner; also son Lemuel Camp and grandsons Jabez Botsford and Jeremiah Turner, Jr. (Danbury Probate Records, vol. 1, p. 229.)

EDGAR FRANCIS WATERMAN.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY. — The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those resented for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manor houses, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

SHERMAN. — Thomas Townsend Sherman, Esq., of 60 Wall Street, New York City, has compiled a genealogy of the Sherman family, beginning with Thomas Sherman of Diss, co. Norfolk, England, who died in 1493, and including many of his descendants in England for several generations. The American families given in this work are descendants of the immigrants Samuel Sherman, Rev. John Sherman, and Capt. John Sherman of Watertown, Mass. The book will soon be published by Tobias A. Wright of New York City.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Atherton. — Joshua, born at Harvard, Mass., 20 June 1737, died at Amherst, N. H., in Apr. 1809, by Miss Anne Middleton Means, 248 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass.

Healy. — William (Hele), born probably at South Hele, parish of Cornwood, co. Devon, Eng., about 1613, died at Cambridge, Mass., 28 Nov. 1683, by Clarence Loveland Healy, Red Road, Chatham, N. J.

Means. — Robert, born at Stewartstown, Ire., died at Amherst, N. H., in Jan. 1823, by Miss Anne Middleton Means, 248 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass.

Rice. — Edmund, born in England about 1594, died at Marlborough, Mass., 3 May 1663, by Mrs. May Louise Rice Jenkins, 5463 Blackstone Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

RECENT BOOKS

[The Editor particularly requests persons sending books for listing in the REGISTER to state, for the information of readers, the price of each book, with the amount to be added for postage when sent by mail, and from whom it may be ordered. Henry Deering

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

APRIL, 1918

HENRY DEERING, A.M.

By LAWRENCE BRAINERD of Cambridge, Mass.

HENRY DEERING, elected to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1877, made a life member in 1894, and for the years 1913-1917 Vice-President of the Society for Maine, passed away at his family residence, familiarly known as "Deering Mansion," in Portland, Me., on the morning of 19 August 1917. He was born at Portland 29 September 1842, the son of Nathaniel and Anna Margaret (Holwell) Deering.

In the death of Mr. Deering Portland lost one of its most conspicuous citizens, whose broad humanitarian interests and varied activities as a lawyer, man of affairs, trustee of public institutions, philanthropist, antiquarian, and art connoisseur had placed him in the front rank of the city's native sons.

The Deering family of Maine has the somewhat unusual distinction of having maintained for nearly three centuries its residence in substantially the same locality in which the first American ancestor of the name made his original settlement; and for nearly two centuries the members of this family have been prominently identified with Portland as leaders in the business, intellectual, and social life of that city.

The immigrant ancestor of this family, George¹ Deering, a native of England, came to America in 1635 and settled as a planter on Richmond Island, off the coast of Cape Elizabeth, in Maine. For several years he was employed by Robert Trelawney, who maintained, under Capt. John Winter, a flourishing fishing and trading post at Richmond Island. Later he removed to Scarborough, Me.

His son, Roger² Deering, who was born at Scarborough, and died at Kittery, Me., in 1676, was a substantial citizen and successful shipwright.

Clement³ Deering, son of Roger, married, in 1678, Joan, daughter of John Bray (an eminent shipbuilder of Kittery) and maternal aunt of Lieut.-Gen. Sir William Pepperrell, Bart., and died in 1701.

Capt. John⁴ Deering (1680-1712), a mariner of Kittery, married Temperance, daughter of Capt. William and Elizabeth (Langdon) Fernald and granddaughter of Dr. Reginald Fernald, who was surgeon in Capt. John Mason's company in 1631.

Capt. John⁵ Deering (1710-1758) of Kittery commanded the vessels of his father's cousin, Sir William Pepperrell, and married Anna, daughter of Nicholas Dunn, Esq., of Boston.

Capt. Nathaniel⁶ Deering (1736-1795), great-grandfather of Henry Deering, in his early manhood removed from Kittery to Portland, establishing himself there in business with his stepfather, Capt. and Dea. James Milk, whose daughter, Dorcas Milk, he subsequently married. At the death of Captain Milk in 1772 Nathaniel Deering, both as stepson and as son-in-law, came into a large share of his handsome estate, a portion of which was an extensive and valuable tract of land lying between Middle Street and Exchange Street and extending from Middle Street to the low-water mark. By his purchases of other tracts of land in different parts of the city and his innate business sagacity he laid securely the foundation of the present Deering estate. Among these purchases was the beautiful grove of oaks, later given to the city of Portland by the Deering heirs and immortalized by Longfellow's poem, "My Lost Youth." Nathaniel Deering was an ardent patriot, and in 1776 he bought and equipped the ship Fox as a privateer, letters of marque and reprisal having been granted to him by Gov. John Hancock. In February 1777 he was commissioned a captain in Colonel Noyes's regiment by the Massachusetts Council. Captain Deering was survived by two children, his son James and his daughter Mary, the latter becoming the wife of Commodore Edward Preble, U. S. N., the hero of Tripoli.

James⁷ Deering (1766-1850), a merchant prince of Portland, the grandfather of Henry Deering, was educated at the famous Dummer Academy in Byfield, Mass., and on reaching his majority entered upon a mercantile career of marked distinction. He was one of the original incorporators and first directors of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad and the largest subscriber in Portland to this successful enterprise. In 1804 he erected on his farm in Westbrook, Me., "Deering Mansion," now the residence of his great-grandson, Edward Deering Noyes, Esq.; and in his honor the town of Deering, Me., for some years a separate municipality, was named. His wife was Almira, daughter of Hon. Enoch Ilsley, a noted merchant and a member of the Committee of Correspondence and Inspection for Portland during the Revolutionary War. James Deering was survived by one son, Nathaniel, and by several daughters, two of whom, Dorcas and Ellen, married respectively Hon. Thomas Amory Deblois, LL.D., and United States Senator William Pitt Fessenden.

Nathaniel⁸ Deering, A.M., lawyer and litterateur, was born at Portland 25 June 1791, and was graduated with honors at Harvard in the Class of 1810. His legal studies were pursued under Hon. Ezekiel Whitman, afterwards Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Maine, and in 1815 he was admitted to the Maine bar. He practised law with success till 1836, when he abandoned that profession for literature, in which he had already gained a standing in that early circle of American men of letters composed of Willis, Mellen, Percival, and Neal. He was the author of "Carrabasset," a tragedy in five acts, founded on the massacre of Father Rasle, and of the well-known comedy "Clairvoyants," both of which were successfully staged in Boston and other American cities. In 1851 appeared his tragedy "Bozzaris," the most carefully written of his productions, which received the flattering approbation of the best critics of that period. Possessed of an ample fortune, Mr. Deering was able to devote his time to the enjoyment of his scholarly inclinations, and the more mature years of his life were so employed. He died in the spring of 1881, in his ninetieth year. He married at Portland, 4 October 1824, Anna Margaret Holwell,* and from this union came the subject of this memoir, Henry⁹ Deering, the eighth in a family of nine children.

Henry Deering had the advantage of an academic and classical education under private tutors in his own home. Reaching his majority when the Nation was in the midst of the dark days of the Civil War, young Deering, with patriotic zeal, entered the service of his country as paymaster's clerk in the United States Navy, and served for the period 1863-64. After the War he studied law, was admitted to the Cumberland County bar in June 1870, and for over forty-seven years was engaged in the practice of his profession, combining the same with the exacting duties involved in the management of his large property interests and in the unselfish discharge of the requirements which were incumbent upon him as a trustee and director of various benevolent and literary institutions.

Mr. Deering joined the Maine Historical Society in 1877, subsequently became a life member of the same, and for many years served on the standing committee of this organization. This society is largely indebted to him for most intelligent service and many material benefactions, including two large portraits in oil (reproduced from the originals) of Sir William Phipps and Sir William Pepperrell and a canvas from life of Isaac Ilsley.

The success of the restoration of the Longfellow House, maintained by this society, owes much to Mr. Deering's enthusiastic labors. To this now-familiar shrine of historic and literary interest, annually visited by thousands of tourists, he was most devoted, visiting it daily and bringing each summer morning, for the adornment of the rooms, a profusion of floral bloom from his own gardens.

Mr. Deering was a life trustee of the Portland Public Library and a member of the boards of management of the Maine Genealogical Society, the Portland Society of Art, and the First Parish (Unitarian) Church, of which he had been a member of long standing. He found time for the exercise of literary tastes, and his love and appreciation of literature and art were conspicuously ardent and most intelligently

* Anna Margaret (Holwell) Deering, the mother of the subject of this memoir, was born at Belize, British Honduras, 5 November 1805, and was descended from a distinguished family, the Holwells of Holwell House, Tavistock, Devonshire, England. She was the daughter of Maj. John Zephaniah Holwell (1775-1813), Royal Army, by his wife Martha, daughter of William Jackson, an American merchant who resided for many years at Belize. Her grandfather was Lieut.-Col. James Holwell (1747-1807), Royal Army, whose wife was Hester, daughter of Thomas Heywood, Esq., Speaker of the House of Keys of the Isle of Man. Her great-grandfather was Gov. John Zephaniah Holwell (1711-1798), M.D., of Bengal, British India, one of the twenty-three survivors of the horrors of the Black Hole of Calcutta (1756), that most dramatic incident in the history of the British dominion in India. Governor Holwell, whose portrait was executed by Sir Joshua Reynolds, was the grandson of John Holwell (1649-1686), who occupied the post of Astronomer Royal and surveyor of crown lands and was distinguished as a mathematical author and scientist. Biographies of members of the Holwell family may be found in the Dictionary of National Biography.

discriminating. In recognition of these accomplishments the Board of Trustees and Overseers of Bowdoin College conferred upon him in 1908 the honorary degree of Master of Arts.

He was one of the charter members of the Maine Society of Colonial Wars, and had served as its genealogist for eighteen years. His eligibility to this society was derived from a score of notable progenitors, among whom may be mentioned Hon. Ambrose Gibbons, Judge Henry Sherburne, Gov. Tristram Coffin, Surgeon Reginald Fernald, Capt. Thomas Bradbury, and Capt. Stephen Greenleaf. He also enjoyed membership in the historic Order of the Cincinnati, as the representative of his great-grandfather, Capt. Nathaniel Deering, and he was enrolled as a member of the Maine Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. He was also a member of the Cumberland Club of Portland and of the Union Club of Boston.

Mr. Deering's strong personality and strict integrity won him respect and admiration in the professional and business world, and his broad culture, his natural conversational powers, and his savoir-vivre made him ever a delightful companion and friend and a thrice-welcome guest at social gatherings.

To him the poet's allusion in the prelude to "Tales of a Wayside Inn" may be most aptly applied:

"A man of such a genial mood
The heart of all things he embraced,
And yet of such fastidious taste,
He never found the best too good."

The public bequests in Mr. Deering's will were to the Maine General Hospital, the Portland Public Library, and the Maine Historical Society. The bequest of $3000 to the Maine General Hospital is to be known as the Anna Margaret Holwell Deering Fund, in memory of his mother. The money is to be invested and the income used for the support of a district nurse, who will work among the poor of Portland. The bequest of $1000 to the Portland Library is to be known as the Deering Fund, the income of which is to be expended in the purchase of books of permanent value. The income of $1000 given to the Historical Society is intended for the purchase of English parish registers, town and county histories, and books of value to historians and genealogists. By the terms of his will substantial bequests also were provided for his immediate relatives and for family servants.

Mr. Deering is survived by one sister, Mrs. Marion (Deering) Noyes of Portland, widow of Col. George Freeman Noyes, U. S. Volunteers, by a niece, Mrs. Margaret Deering (Gilman) Bursley, daughter of the late Pay Director Augustus Henry Gilman, U. S. Navy, and his wife, Margaret (Deering) Gilman, and by four nephews, Edward Deering Noyes, Ilsley Noyes, George Freeman Noyes, and Wadsworth Noyes.

THE ENGLISH HOME AND ANCESTRY OF JOHN GROSVENOR OF ROXBURY, MASS.

By DANIEL KENT, B.A., of Worcester, Mass.

In the old burying ground at the corner of Washington and Eustis Streets in Roxbury (now a part of Boston), Mass., on the right of the entrance gate and not far distant, near the wall on the Eustis Street side, stands a dark slate stone in a good state of preservation, on which is inscribed:

Here Lyeth Buried ye Body of : Iohn Grosuenor who Decd Septem^r ye
27th in ye 49 Year of his Age 1691

On this stone is cut a coat of arms, the garb in the dexter quartering and the crest, a talbot statant on a wreath, pointing apparently to a connection with the ancient Grosvenor family of co. Chester, England.*

The family tradition that John Grosvenor of Roxbury, Mass., came from Chester, where he married Esther Clarke, an heiress, has been accepted as an established fact. Most published genealogical sketches of him state that he was a son of Sir Richard Grosvenor, Bart.; but this cannot be true, as Sir Richard, the first baronet, who died 14 Sept. 1645, left only one surviving son, Sir Richard, the second baronet. This second Sir Richard, who died 31 Jan. 1664/5, had five sons, of whom all except Roger, the eldest, died unmarried.

* The well-known family of the Grosvenors, of which the Duke of Westminster, of Eton Hall, co. Chester, is at present the most prominent member, claims descent from Norman lords who in the tenth century held a barony at Venables in the Duchy of Normandy, about thirty miles from Rouen, on the road to Paris. Hugh Lupus came into England with the Conqueror and was made Count Palatine of Chester. With him, it is said, came his nephew, the ancestor of the later Grosvenors, Gilbert le Veneur (the Huntsman), who, with others of the family, received large estates in Cheshire. The appellation le Veneur was taken from the office of huntsman (in Latin venator) to the Dukes of Normandy, which was hereditary in this family before the Norman Conquest of England. The name Grosvenor, which, according to Ormerod, the historian of Cheshire, is not found before 1260, is said to be derived from the title le Grand Veneur, which appears in various forms, such as le Graunt Venur, Grauntvenour, le Gros Venour, le Grosvenour, le Gravenor, and finally Grosvenor. Pedigrees of the various branches of the family may be found in the English Visitations, and much information is given in Ormerod's History of Cheshire. The Grosvenor arms were: Azure, a garb or. Various signs for difference distinguished the various branches of the family.

The writer of this article has made an exhaustive search of the Grosvenor records in England. Having become convinced, by research and by correspondence with the Duke of Westminster, the Rector of Eton Hall, co. Chester, and the Secretary of the Lancashire and Cheshire Historical Society, that John Grosvenor, the immigrant ancestor of the family in New England, did not come directly from the Chester family, he turned his attention to the branches of this family scattered throughout England. Guided by the coat of arms on the gravestone at Roxbury, he decided that John Grosvenor must have come from Shropshire; and his labors were rewarded by finding in St. Leonard's Church, at Bridgnorth, Shropshire, the record of John Grosvenor's baptism. At the College of Arms in London he found a pedigree of the Grosvenors of Bridgnorth, certified in 1663 by Leicester Grosvenor, the eldest brother of John of Roxbury, which was resipit "to make prooffe of the Descent from the Grosvenours of Eton in Cheshire," but "nothing [was] done therein." This pedigree, a copy of which is given in this article, enabled the writer to go back to the grandfather of John of Roxbury; and the wills of the grandfather and father of the immigrant, abstracts of which are given below, as well as entries in the registers of the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, confirm the line given in the pedigree. The writer has not succeeded in determining the connection of the Grosvenors of Bridgnorth with the Chester family; but that John Grosvenor of Roxbury was descended from that family there can be little doubt.

The English records relating to the Grosvenors of Bridgnorth follow.

The Will of WILLIAM GRAVENOR of Bridgnorth within the countie of Salop, gent., 28 December 1599. William Grosvenour = ... daughter of Cruock of Cruckhall
in Bridgnorth

Certified by M^r Leicester Grosvenour

From the foregoing and a few other English records and from various New England sources the following Grosvenor* pedigree has been compiled:

1. ——— GROSVENOR.†
Children (order of births unknown):
 2. i. WILLIAM.
 - ii. ROGER, of Coventry, co. Warwick, living in 1599, when he was mentioned in the will of his brother William.
 - iii. JOYCE, living in 1599, when she was mentioned in the will of her brother William.
2. WILLIAM GROSVENOR, of Bridgnorth, co. Salop, Gent., the testator of 1599, was buried in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 17 Jan. 1599/1600.‡ He married in that parish, 16 Nov. 1590, URSULA BLUNT,§ who married secondly, in the same parish, 4 June 1600, John Davies (or Davis) and was living, as the wife of John Davis, 22 Nov. 1604, when her second husband proved the will of her first husband.
Children, baptized in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth:
 3. i. WILLIAM, bapt. 18 Dec. 1593.

* In the early records this surname often appears in the forms Gravener and Gravenor.

† Perhaps the William Gravener, "Hon^{le} Gen.," who was buried in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, co. Salop, 30 Oct. 1589, was identical with No. 1 of this pedigree; and the Margaret Gravener who was buried in that parish 5 Oct. 1583 may have been his wife. The Barbara Gravener who was buried in the same parish 18 Mar. 1613/14 was perhaps a sister of the William who was buried there in 1589. In the same parish William Peat and Johoane Gravener were married 26 June 1592, and Hugh Gravener and Joane Streete were married 11 Dec. 1593; but the connection of these Graveners with the family described in this article is unknown.

‡ The Church of St. Leonard, founded in the tenth or eleventh centuries, stands in a close near High Street, Bridgnorth, which is surrounded by buildings of Elizabethan or Jacobean date. Its fine old stained glass and its tombs were destroyed during the siege of Bridgnorth by Cromwell in 1646. But in more recent years the church has been restored, and is worthy of the ancient town that it adorns. The original church was built mainly in the style of the thirteenth century, though its handsome tower, of salmon-red sandstone, is of a somewhat later style. A fine open-timbered roof was brought to light during the restoration. The nave is remarkable for its exceptional width, and in this respect the church is exceeded by no other parish church in England and by only three cathedrals.

§ In the pedigree entered by Leicester Grosvenor, her grandson, in 1663, the wife of William Grosvenor (2) is called "daughter of Cruck of Cruckhall in Bridgnorth." The marriage record in the registers of the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, calls her "Ursula Blunt." In 1404 Sir Nicholas Blunt or Blount, who had been involved in a plot for the restoration of King Richard II, changed his name to Croke, in order to escape punishment from Henry IV; and his descendants appear sometimes under the name of Croke or Cruke and sometimes under the name of Blunt or Blount. In the registers of the parish of St. Leonard both names are found for this family. Members of the Blount family played important parts in English history. Sir Walter Blount, a supporter of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, and of his son, King Henry IV, was slain by Archibald, Earl of Douglas, at the Battle of Shrewsbury, 23 July 1403. He is a prominent character in Shakspeare's King Henry IV, Part I. He married Donna Sancha de Ayála, a Spanish lady of high rank, and in the reign of Edward IV their grandson became the first Baron Mountjoy and was Lord High Treasurer of England. William Blount, the fourth Baron Mountjoy, a grandson of the first Baron Mountjoy, was a patron and friend of Erasmus. Mrs. Anne (Marbury) Hutchinson, so famous in the early history of New England, was a descendant of Sir Walter Blount and his wife, Donna Sancha de Ayála, and several New England families may trace their ancestry, through the Marbury family, to this Shakspearean knight and his Spanish consort. For the Blount family see pedigrees in various English Visitations, articles in the Dictionary of National Biography, and Sir Alexander Croke's Genealogical History of the Croke Family, surnamed Le Blount.

- ii. MARGARET (or MARGERY), bapt. 16 May 1596; m. JOHN HORD of Hord Park, co. Salop.*

3. WILLIAM GROSVENOR (William), of Bridgnorth, co. Salop, Gent., the testator of 1652, was baptized in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 18 Dec. 1593, and was buried in the same parish 21 June 1652. He married, probably about 1625, SUSANNA PASTON,† who was buried in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 20 June 1667, daughter of Rev. George, Rector of Drayton-Basset, co. Stafford, who was buried 10 Jan. 1629/30. William Grosvenor's messuage at Bridgnorth was called "The Friars," and was near the site of the present carpet works in the lower town of Bridgnorth.‡ He was a churchwarden of St. Leonard's Church in 1635, and was a Royalist in the Civil War.

Children:§

- i. SUSANNA, b. probably abt. 1626; living unm. 27 May 1652, when she was mentioned in her father's will; not mentioned in the pedigree of 1663.
4. ii. LEICESTER, eldest son, b. abt. 1627.
- iii. MARY, b. probably abt. 1628; living 27 May 1652, when she was mentioned in her father's will; m. before that date EDWARD HARRISON of Bridgnorth.
- iv. LETTICE, b. probably abt. 1630; d. in 1690, aged 60; m. before 27 May 1652, when she was mentioned, with her dau. Lettice, in her father's will, THOMAS LEVINGE of Sheepy, co. Leicester.||
- v. GERALD (or GERRARD), second son, b. probably abt. 1631; bur. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 27 June 1671.
- vi. GRACE, b. probably abt. 1632; m. after 27 May 1652 DANIEL BILLINGSLEY of Bridgnorth.
- vii. WILLIAM, third son, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 17 Apr. 1634; bur. in the same parish 3 Feb. 1672/3.
- viii. JANE, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 26 July 1636; m. after 27 May 1652 FRANCIS BAYLEY of Bridgnorth.
5. ix. JOHN, fourth son, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 2 Jan. 1640/1; probably the emigrant to New England.¶

* Perhaps she had been married previously to her marriage to John Hord, for the marriage of Richard Phillips and Margere Gravenor, 2 June 1630, is recorded in the registers of the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth.

† Perhaps she was his second wife, for the marriage of a William Gravenor and Anne Baskerfield, 28 Nov. 1624, is recorded in the registers of the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth.

‡ The name of the messuage may have been derived from the priory of the Grey Friars that existed in Bridgnorth before the dissolution of the monasteries in the reign of Henry VIII.

§ The names of the children of William Grosvenor are given in what seems to be the most probable order. The order of births of the four sons is given in the pedigree entered in 1663, and Leicester, the eldest son, is said in this pedigree to have been 36 years old at that time. The baptisms of the sons William and John and the daughter Jane are recorded in the registers of the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth. In his will of 1652 William Grosvenor apparently mentions first his unmarried daughters in the order of their births and then his married daughters in the order of their births. The pedigree of 1663 gives the daughters (except Susanna, who does not appear there) in this order: Mary, Lettice, Grace, Jane.

|| If this Lettice Grosvenor was born about 1630, she was, of course, too young to have been the Lettice Gravenor whose marriage to John Wood, 19 Oct. 1641, is recorded in the registers of St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth.

¶ Since the gravestone of John Grosvenor of Roxbury, Mass., states that he died 27 Sept. 1691, in his 49th year, and since the John Grosvenor who was baptized at Bridgnorth 2 Jan. 1640/1 would have been in his 51st year in Sept. 1691, it is possible that the John who was baptized 2 Jan. 1640/1 died in infancy, and that another son was born about two years later, who was named John and became the emigrant to New England. It is more likely, however, that the gravestone at Roxbury gives the

4. LEICESTER GROSVENOR (William, William), of The Friars, Bridgnorth, co. Salop, Gent., eldest son of his father, was born about 1627 (since in the pedigree entered by him in 1663 he declared that he was 36 years of age on 14 Aug. 1663), and was buried in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 14 May 1690. Administration on his estate was granted, 7 Oct. 1690, to Eleanor, his widow. He married, probably about 1652, ELEANOR EASTWICKE (or ESTWICKE), who was buried in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 26 Nov. 1708, eldest daughter of Christopher and Eleanor (Walden) of Stoke, co. Warwick, Eleanor Walden being daughter of Isaac of Coventry, co. Warwick. In 1663 he entered a pedigree of his family that went back as far as his grandfather, William Grosvenor; but this pedigree was respited in order that descent from the Grosvenors of Eton, co. Chester, might be proved, and nothing further was done in the matter. When Leicester Grosvenor died in 1690, all his sons and all his brothers except John were dead; and therefore his only surviving brother, John Grosvenor, then residing in New England, became the head of this branch of the Grosvenor family.

Children:

- i. LEICESTER, d. young; bur. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 24 Sept. 1655.
 - ii. CHRISTOPHER, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 8 Aug. 1655; bur. in the same parish 17 Sept. 1655.
 - iii. ELEANOR, b. abt. 1658, since she was 4 years of age on 14 Aug. 1663.
 - iv. SUSANNA, d. young before 14 Aug. 1663.
 - v. WILLIAM, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 19 Mar. 1662/3 [sic, ? 1661/2]; probably d. between 14 Aug. and 20 Sept. 1663.
 - vi. WILLIAM, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 20 Sept. 1663; d. before 14 May 1690.
 - vii. EASTWICKE, bapt. in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, 4 Mar. 1666/7; bur. in the same parish 18 Mar. 1669/70.
5. JOHN GROSVENOR (William, William), of Roxbury, Mass., tanner, baptized in the parish of St. Leonard, Bridgnorth, co. Salop, 2 Jan. 1640/1, emigrated to New England probably about 1670, a few years after the death of his mother, and settled at Roxbury, Mass., where he died 27 Sept. 1691, being then, according to his gravestone, in the 49th year of his age.* He married, probably about 1672, HESTER (or ESTHER) CLARKE, born, probably at Watertown, Mass., about 1651, died at Pomfret, Conn., 15 June 1738, aged about 87 years,† daughter of Hugh and Elizabeth.‡

age at death incorrectly. There can be no doubt that John Grosvenor of Roxbury was a son of William and Susanna (Paston) Grosvenor of Bridgnorth.

* Vide supra, p. 137, footnote.

† On her gravestone in the Wappaquian Burial Ground, at the foot of Prospect Hill, Pomfret, Conn., is the following inscription: "Here lyes y^e Body of M^{rs} Esther Grosvenor y^e Widow of M^r John Grosvenor Died June 15th 1738 Aged About 87 years." In the same cemetery are many other gravestones bearing inscriptions to members of the Grosvenor family.

‡ Hugh Clarke was at Watertown, Mass., as early as 1641, and lived there until about 1660, when he removed to Roxbury, Mass. He was freeman 30 May 1660, and died at Roxbury 20 July 1693, aged 80. His wife Elizabeth died 11 Dec. 1692.

On 14 Mar. 1672 [1672/3] John Grosvenor was one of the witnesses to a deed in Roxbury.* The Roxbury records show that on 13th, 2 mo., 1673, Esther Gravenor was excommunicated, but that on 2d, 9 mo., 1673, she was reconciled to the church and solemnly owned the covenant. On 28 Jan. 1684 [1684/5] John Grosvenor's father-in-law, Hugh Clarke of Roxbury, confirmed to him by deed a grant made about 1672 of the land on which John Grosvenor's house stood and the land on which his tanyard and tan house stood, a portion of the deed reading as follows:

"Know Yee that the said Hugh Clarke Sometime past about twelve or thirteene Yeares agoe or thereabout for and in consideration of a part of my Daughter Hester Graveners portion and many other good and considerable Considerations: Hath . . . granted and given possession and . . . by these presents Doth . . . grant . . . and confirme unto John Gravenor my Sonne in Law, and Hester Gravenor his wife, two Small peices of Land, the one peice of Land is that Land whereon John Graveners dwelling House now Standeth being in Roxbury; and as it is now fenced from the land of Hugh Clarke, and abutting on the Highway Leadeing from Stony River towards Muddy River Southerly, and upon the Land of Hugh Clarke or his Successors West North, and Southeasterly. And the other Smal peice of Land lyeing neerer to the Now dwelling house of sd Hugh Clarke whereon John Gravenors Tanyard and Tan house standeth being in Roxbury and as it is now fenced from the Land of Hugh Clark or his assignes, and abutting upon the Highway leadeing from the Mill at Stony River Towards Muddy River Southerly, and upon the Land of Hugh Clarke Southwest and easterly with all and Singular the appurtenances and priviledges thereunto belonging." (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 13, fo. 328.)†

Drake in his "Town of Roxbury" (p. 323) says that John Grosvenor's dwelling house and four acres of orchard and pasture were on the northeasterly corner of the present Tremont and Parker Streets. He was the first person to carry on the trade of a tanner in Roxbury, a town later noted for its tanneries. In the seventeenth century, along the valley of the River Severn in England, from Shrewsbury down to Worcester, the tanning industry was very important, and Bridgnorth was famed for its tanneries and for the quality of the leather produced there. It is probable, therefore, that John Grosvenor, one of the younger sons of the family, learned his trade there. In 1678 the town of Roxbury granted to him a lot of land "at the bridge and old mill . . . for liming leather in fee, and not to sell but for such use, and to be forfeit if it damage the water for cattle or man." (Ib., p. 324.) He also held at Roxbury "the responsible office of town constable, then of great dignity and importance." (Ib., p. 102.)

John Grosvenor was one of the six original purchasers from Maj. James Fitch, 1 May 1686, of the Mashamoquet grant of 15,100 acres, which included the territory of the present towns of Pomfret, Brooklyn, and Putnam, and the parish of Abington, Conn. It is said that he was sent by the proprietors to Norwich, Conn., to pay to Major Fitch the purchase money. On 6 May 1686 the original grantees named six other associates.* These twelve proprietors were all residents of Roxbury, Mass., and on 9 Mar. 1686/7 they met to consult about the settlement of their purchase. The consent of Major Fitch to any arrangement that they might make being judged necessary, they voted that their "truly and beloved friends, Samuel Ruggles, Sen. and Jun., John White, Samuel Gore and John Grosvenor," were authorized "to treat with Major Fitch in and concerning all matters relating to said lands." On 7 Apr. these men reported that half of the land was to be laid out at once. Before the division was effected, however, Andros assumed the government of Connecticut and it seemed best to defer action. The survey and division were accomplished at last during the winter of 1693/4, and on 27 Mar. 1694, nearly eight years after the purchase, the proprietors met in Roxbury to receive their respective shares. John Grosvenor had died in 1691, but he was represented by his widow, who received the first allotment. It consisted of 502 acres, and comprised the land where the village of Pomfret now stands and the hills which surround it, including Prospect Hill, which faces the east, and the commanding eminences called Sharp's Hill and Spaulding's Hill on the west. (Cf. Larned's History of Windham County, Connecticut, vol. 1, pp. 181-185.)

* Suffolk Deeds, lib. 9, fo. 140.

† The original deed is in the possession of Benjamin H. Grosvenor of Pomfret, Conn.

Esther Grosvenor was appointed administratrix of the estate of her deceased husband, and on 17 Feb. 1691/2 filed her bond for £700. On 16 Sept. 1695 she sold 6 acres called Rock Pasture, the "Rightful Inheritance of Hugh Clarke late of said Roxbury dec^d and by the said Esther Grosvenor purchased of his son John," and 3½ acres, the "Rightful Inheritance of aforesaid John Grosvenor . . . together with Mansion house, barn, &c." On the same day she and her son William "and all other heires of the said John Grosvenner" purchased 65 acres at Muddy River, now Brookline, Mass., together with a dwelling house, the consideration being £312. On 7 Oct. 1695 they purchased 30 acres at Muddy River, "together with the house, fruit trees, wood," etc., the consideration being £150. On 15 Apr. 1701 Esther Grosvenor, William Grosvenor, Gentleman, and Susannah Grosvenor of Muddy River, and John Grosvenor of "Mashamnggabuck" in New London Co., Conn., sold "their Farme Tract" at Muddy River.† About this time, probably, the Widow Esther Grosvenor went with her family to Mashamoquet in Connecticut, where she resided for the remaining years of her life. The road to Hartford and Windham passed through the Grosvenor land, near the first Connecticut residence of the family, which was on the western declivity of Prospect Hill, near the site afterwards occupied by Col. Thomas Grosvenor's mansion house. Mrs. Grosvenor was a woman of great courage and energy, and was held in high esteem by the early settlers of Pomfret. It is a family tradition that she was skillful in tending the sick. The so-called "Sabin" house, in which she died, is still standing, and is owned by her descendants. Her sons aided in bringing the large possessions of the family under cultivation, and identified themselves early with the growth and interests of the town.

Children, born at Roxbury, Mass.:

- i. REV. WILLIAM, A.B. (Harvard College, 1693), b. 8 Jan. 1672/3; bapt. by Rev. John Eliot 14 Oct. 1673; d. before 1733. He was minister at Brookfield, Mass., from 24 Oct. 1705 to 25 Aug. 1708, and is said to have removed from Massachusetts to Charleston, S. C.

WILLIAM BROOKS OF SPRINGFIELD, MASS., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

By JOEL NELSON ENO, A.M., of Brooklyn, N. Y.

1. WILLIAM¹ BROOK or BROOKS, of Springfield,* was born in England in 1610, sailed from London for Virginia in 1635, and appeared in the Massachusetts Bay Colony as early as 1653, when he petitioned for a grant of land at Springfield. He removed from Springfield to Deerfield in 1686, and died at Deerfield 30 Oct. 1688. He married at Springfield, 18 Oct. 1654, MARY BURT, who died at Deerfield, as his widow, 30 Aug. 1689, daughter of Henry and Ulalia (Marche) of Springfield.†

The land in Springfield for which William Brooks petitioned in 1653 was granted to him 8 Feb. 1653/4; and between 1654 and 1686 various other grants of land to him are recorded at Springfield, some of the land granted lying in Chicopee Plain, on the west side of the Connecticut River, opposite the mouth of the Chicopee. Many sales also, probably necessitated by the needs of his large family, reduced his acres; but at Deerfield land was cheaper, being wild and exposed to Indian attacks.‡

Children, born at Springfield:

- i. REMEMBRANCE,² m. 17 Jan. 1673/4 JAMES BROWN of Springfield, later of Deerfield.
- ii. WILLIAM, b. 8 Aug. 1655; killed, with his brother John, by the Indians at Westfield 27 Oct. 1675, in King Philip's War.
- iii. JOHN, b. 10 Feb. 1656/7; killed, with his brother William, by the Indians at Westfield 27 Oct. 1675, in King Philip's War.
- iv. SARAH, b. 4 May 1658; m. 11 July 1678 JONATHAN TAYLOR, JR.
- v. MARY, b. 21 Dec. 1659; d. before 1677.
- vi. PATIENCE, b. 5 June 1661; m. soon after 8 Aug. 1680 THOMAS TAYLOR of Springfield.
- vii. EBENEZER, b. 21 Dec. 1662; m. ELIZABETH BELDEN, dau. of Daniel of Deerfield. Children: 1. William,³ b. and d. 12 Oct. 1695. 2. John, b. 20 Oct. 1696; d. 9 Dec. 1696. 3. John, probably a soldier in Father Rasle's War. 4. Ebenezer, b. 24 Mar. 1701/2. 5. Elizabeth, b. 9 Oct. 1706. 6. Jonathan, b. 17 Nov. 1709. 7. Esther, b. 15 Sept. 1715.
2. viii. NATHANIEL, b. 9 May 1664.
- ix. ABIGAIL, b. 25 Jan. 1665/6; d. in 1720; m. 10 Dec. 1685 SAMUEL STEBBINS, widower.
3. x. JOSEPH, b. 17 Oct. 1667.

† On 23 Dec. 1619 a marriage license was issued to Henry Burt of Harberton, co. Devon, England, and Ulalia Marche of Dean Prior in the same county. (Cf. Vivian's Marriage Licenses of the Diocese of Exeter, part 1, p. 66.) The Henry Burt of the marriage license is undoubtedly the Henry Burt who, with wife Ulalia, was at Roxbury, Mass., in 1638 and settled at Springfield about 1640. For Henry Burt of Springfield and his large family see Burnham's Genealogical Records of Henry and Ulalia Burt, 1892, and Burt's Life and Times of Henry Burt of Springfield, 1893. According to a letter from Frank H. Burt of Newton to the Springfield Daily Republican of 6 Mar. 1905 Aaron Ferry Randall of Boston, now deceased, while searching in the library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, found in the volume of marriage licenses edited by Vivian the license issued to Henry Burt and Ulalia Marche in 1619.

A PLEA FOR AN AMERICAN HERALDRY

Contributed by Rev. LEFFERD M. A. HAUGHWOUT of Ponce, Porto Rico, and communicated by the Committee on Heraldry

[In communicating the following paper the Committee on Heraldry would say that, in respect to the origin of coat armor and the significance which coats of arms possessed among Englishmen in Tudor times, Mr. Haughwout expresses views which are in close harmony with the views expressed by the Committee in a report which it made to the Society in 1914, the recommendations of which were adopted by the Society in that year. (See REGISTER, vol. 69, pp. xvi-xxiii.) In this report the Committee ventured to say that the frank and fearless assumption of arms which told no genealogical falsehood had much to commend it, and more than hinted at the possibility that such a practice might some day be favored by the Society. Consequently the Committee deems Mr. Haughwout's suggestions well worth consideration and discussion.]

If heraldry were nothing more in essence than an appurtenance of rank and aristocracy, it would merit but scant consideration in a land of democratic ideals. Both its history, however, and the interest which it inspires in many of our best citizens — persons whose democracy is unimpeachable — indicate that it is something more. In an Old-World environment, to be sure, it has reflected Old-World ideals and conceptions, and has adapted itself to the complex structure of the body social. But the same may be said of many another institution; and it would be too much to assume that heraldry, on this account, is contrary to the genius of a democratic people.

The essential purpose of primitive heraldic devices was not the distinction of rank, but of families and clans, or, in case of combat, of their leaders and representatives. How true this is will be seen from a consideration of the heraldic achievement itself. The feature of prime importance in a coat of arms is, of course, the shield, and after that the crest. But both of these are common property (with variations of a purely genealogical significance) of the whole family, and are borne by persons of widely different station. It is only in the form and position of the helmet or coronet that differences of rank are indicated. And this pertains to the "paper heraldry" of later times, and not to the institution in its prime.

Nor is it true, even in modern heraldic practice, that there is anything essentially aristocratic in the mere possession of a coat of arms, if we may judge from so learned an exponent of heraldic science as Mr. Arthur Fox-Davies. "No man," he says, "can demand, as a matter of right, that a grant of arms shall be made to him; but there are few people who desire to have arms and are ready to pay the fees who would meet with the refusal. . . . I have never heard of a person with a title, a member of any of the professions, a justice of the peace, or a graduate of a university, being refused a grant of arms, and . . . down to the present day, 'merchants,' under that description and without subterfuge, have continually had grants made to them." (Heraldry Explained, pp. 17-18.)

It is apparent, then, that the accident of birth bears no necessary relation to the right to display arms, even under the strict laws and usages of English heraldry. And from the preceding paragraph it is seen that the idea of rank is itself an accident and not an essential feature of the institution. Heraldry is not, in other words, inconsistent with democratic theory; and if sufficient cause existed, there would be no real objection to the adoption of an heraldic system in our own country.

But is there a justifying cause? To the writer's mind there is, and it is not different in kind from that which first brought heraldry into existence. Never was there greater need for emphasis upon family unity than at the present time. The great expansion of our population and the kaleidoscopic conditions of modern life have well-nigh destroyed the old and healthful conception of the clan family. And with it have gone the ideas of family honor and the perpetuation of inherited traditions. Surnames no longer identify the family stock, and the old clans which at one time centred about ancestral homesteads are scattered the length and breadth of the land.

Here then is the justifying reason for an American heraldry — for the adoption by established families of such insignia as will serve to identify them and emphasize their unity. Much to this end has already been accomplished by the various historical, patriotic, and genealogical societies of the country; but the significant symbolism of the heraldic system is needed to complete and popularize their work.

It would be futile, of course, to look for the establishment by law of an institution for "granting arms," after the pattern of the heralds' colleges of Europe. Even if it were possible, it would be undesirable. If heraldry is to come to all, it must come as a natural growth, with its roots started in favoring soil. It must win its way through a slow, practical demonstration of usefulness and not by the artificial method of legal creation. Later on, it may be, the Government will see fit to regulate or protect it through an extension of the copyright law, but not until it has first demonstrated its existence. And this, indeed, is precisely the history of heraldry in the past. Family insignia were used by our ancestors before the elaborate laws of heraldry were invented. The State intervened, not to create the institution but to regulate it.

As we are not subject in this country to foreign laws, and as the idea of family insignia is older than any existing college of arms, there is no theoretical reason why any American family should not adopt an appropriate symbol. It would be far better, however, if an heraldic society were formed for registering such insignia and for the better maintenance of correct heraldic principles. This function might well be assumed, for the benefit of their members, by the patriotic societies mentioned above; or the historical and genealogical societies might undertake to register or assign arms for individuals of good standing who would file authenticated pedigrees. Nominal fees might be charged for the service, and it would be the society's especial care to see that the devices chosen conform to heraldic usage and that the rights of those already possessed of arms are not invaded.

To avoid the assignment of coats of arms to different branches of the same family, the English usage should be followed of making the grant "to the grantee and his descendants, and to the other descendants of any specified ancestor." Other matters of detail, no doubt, would have to be worked out, and difficulties of one kind or another might arise; but there should be nothing insuperable.

The most probable and, at first sight, most weighty objection to the plan will be advanced by those who esteem the heraldic idea most highly and who are themselves provided, it may be, with inherited coats of arms. "There is a certain idea very prevalent," says Mr. Arthur Fox-Davies, "that, whereas an ancient coat of arms is most honourable, a modern one is a fit subject for ridicule and contempt." No one will question, of course, the desirableness of an ancient coat of arms rightfully inherited through a line of ancestors. But to assume, therefore, that no other device is worthy of respect is the height of absurdity, and would, in course of time, bring all heraldry to an end. There was a time when the oldest "coats" were new, and we can hardly think the less highly of our ancestors on that account.

And, after all, is there not much to be said for the proposition that it is better to create a new and honestly American system of our own than to depend upon the precarious armorial titles which have drifted upon our shores? Some of these, but very few, are authentic enough. A much larger number, four fifths of those actually claimed and displayed on American walls and stationery, are entirely fictitious. Mere identity of surname is assumed by many as sufficient basis for the use of a coat of arms, regardless of descent or the actual date of the original grant. It is not uncommon to find representatives of families of eight or ten honorable American generations using coats of arms which were granted in England long after their ancestors came to the Western World — and to grantees of much less distinction. Nor is this larceny of arms always the fault of the user, for many professional genealogists do not scruple to deceive their clients in the interest of a fee.

That there is a growing desire in this country for family insignia, for some outward and visible token of clan unity, is indisputable. The desire itself is a healthy and honorable one, and there should be provided a legitimate mode of satisfying it. Satisfied it will be in any case, legitimately or not; and unless something is done by those in a position to deal with the matter, we may expect to see the present confusion worse confounded. The plan suggested above is eminently worthy of consideration, on the grounds both of practicability and of its faithfulness to the essential principles of heraldic science. A coat of arms, backed as to "gentility" by a good American pedigree, duly registered and proven, and bearing as an augmentation the distinguishing mark of some Revolutionary or Colonial society, would not fail to command respect, even in the Old-World haunts of the heraldic art. In no other way can the use of arms in this country be vindicated as a democratic institution.

MORE BLANCHARD FAMILY RECORDS

Communicated by WILLIAM HENRY BLANCHARD of Montpelier, Vt.

THE records given below may be regarded as a supplement to the records of the family and some of the descendants of Samuel¹ Blanchard of Andover, Mass., which were printed in the REGISTER, vol. 60, pages 373-376. They are preserved in a little notebook, apparently home-made, of sixteen pages, with a paper cover, the pages being about 6½ inches in height by 4 inches in width. The records are scattered over six different pages of the book, the other pages being blank, and, with the exception of the entries on the page giving the children of Nathaniel³ Blanchard and the entry of the death of Lemuel⁴ Blanchard, are in the handwriting of Lemuel⁴ Blanchard.

Nathaniel³ Blanchard (Thomas,² Samuel¹ of Andover, Mass.) was born 2 Feb. 1719 [1719/20] (REGISTER, vol. 60, p. 373). He lived in the plantation called Roadtown, which in 1761 was incorporated as the town of Shutesbury, now in Franklin Co., Mass.; and his farm was conveyed to him by his father, Thomas Blanchard, in two deeds, recorded at Greenfield, Mass. The first of these deeds, dated 3 Feb. 1745 [? 1745/6], establishes the parentage of Nathaniel of Shutesbury, "Thomas Blanchard of Andover in the County of Essex and Province of Massachusetts Bay in New England yeoman" acknowledging the payment of "fifty pounds old tennar . . . by my son Nathaniel Blanchard of Road town in the County of Hampshire," etc.

Lemuel⁴ Blanchard, son of Nathaniel,³ spent more than half his life in Shutesbury and vicinity. He married first, in 1785, Phebe Mayo, and after her death on 4 Mar. 1816 he went to Acworth, N. H., where his brother Joseph had settled about 1790,* stopping on the way at Westmoreland, N. H., where his brothers Isaac and Nathaniel were living. He married secondly, 17 Sept. 1818, Widow Margaret (Witherspoon) Davidson, and their daughter Betsey was born 20 June 1820. In 1832, leaving his wife and twelve-year-old daughter Betsey with one of his wife's sons, he returned to Massachusetts and lived, it is supposed, in New Salem and later in Rutland with his daughter Miranda, who had married George King at Shutesbury in 1805. His journeys between Massachusetts and Acworth are entered in the records given below. In 1849, some nine years after the death of his second wife, he went to live at Worcester, Vt., with his daughter Betsey, who had married Phineas A. Kemp; and there he died in 1855. He is buried in Worcester near his daughter, whose grave is marked "Betsey Blanchard Kemp," his own grave being marked "Father."

PATTESHALL*

Contributed by WILLIAM EBEN STONE, A.B., of Cambridge, Mass.,
and communicated by the Committee on English Research

A CLUE to the English home of the Patteshall family of Maine and of Boston, Mass., was found several years ago in a marriage licence issued by the Bishop of London in 1634, an abstract of which was printed in the Publications of the Harleian Society and in the Essex Institute Historical Collections. At the request of the contributor of this article a search of the registers of the parish of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, was made by Miss Elizabeth French, and several entries referring to the Patteshall family and to the Denham family (the family to which Edmund Patteshall's wife belonged) were discovered. Summaries of these entries, preceded by the abstract of the marriage licence already mentioned, are given below, and are followed by a brief genealogy of Edmund Patteshall, the immigrant to New England, and his immediate descendants.

FROM MARRIAGE LICENCES GRANTED BY THE BISHOP OF LONDON

1634, 29 December. Edmond Pateshall of St. Mary Strand als Savoy, citizen and salter, bachelor, and Martha Denham of the same parish, spinster, about 22, daughter of Richard Denham of the same place, salter, who giveth consent; at St. Margaret Pattens.†

[From the foregoing records and from various New England records the following brief genealogy[†] has been compiled:

ROBERT, off Boston, Mass., b., probably in England, abt. 1615, since he deposed 27, 8 mo. 1655, aged abt. 40;† d., probably unm., in New England not later than 17 June 1671, the date of the inventory of his estate. Administration on his estate was granted in Boston, 27 July 1671, to his nephew, Richard Patteshall (3).‡ According to Savage's Genealogical Dictionary he was of Boston in 1652, a merchant, and was captain and magistrate in the temporary County of Devon, Me. It was not this Robert, however, as Savage conjectures, who was killed by the Indians at Pemaquid, Me., in 1689, but his nephew and administrator, Richard Patteshall. Robert Patteshall appears in Boston records as early as 1653, and is often called "Mr." In 1655 he petitioned the General Court against duties on importations.§ His name appears in the records of York Co., Me., as early as 14 Feb. 1655/6, when he was witness to a deed,|| and he acquired land in Maine on the Kennebec River and above Saco Lower Falls. The inventory of his estate includes lands in "Kynni-

2. EDMUND PATTESHALL, of the parish of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, citizen and salter, married, by licence of 29 Dec. 1634, MARTHA DENHAM, baptized in the parish of St. Mary-le-Strand 26 May 1611, buried there 16 Aug. 1667, daughter of Mr. Richard Denham of the same parish, salter.† Edmund Patteshall was at Pemaquid, Me., as early as 1665, having, it is evident, left his wife in England when he came to New England. As "Capt. Edmnd Pattesstall" he took the oath of fidelity to Massachusetts at a court at Pemaquid, 22 July 1674;‡ and as "Capt^a Edmund Pattishall of Kenebeck" he was appointed a commissioner, with others, to hold courts within the County of Devon, to join people in marriage, and to punish criminal offences, according to the order of the General Court in Boston dated 27 May 1674. He lived at one time on an island which he owned in Kennebec River, called Paddishale's Island, and his name occurs often in Maine records. He was living in 1675.§

Children, recorded in the parish of St. Mary-le-Strand, London:

3. i. RICHARD, bapt. 20 May 1636.
 ii. WILLIAM, bapt. 17 Apr. 1639.
 iii. JOHN, bapt. 12 Nov. 1640.
 iv. MARTHA, bapt. 21 Nov. 1641.
 v. SAMUEL, bapt. 7 Mar. 1643/4.
 vi. ROBERT, bapt. 4 June 1646; bur. 4 Dec. 1649.
 vii. MARY, bapt. 9 Aug. 1648.
3. RICHARD PATTESHALL (Edmund), of Boston, Mass., and of Maine, merchant, baptized in the parish of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, 20 May 1636, is found in New England as early as 1664, and probably came over with his father. He was killed by the Indians at Pemaquid, Me., 2 Aug. 1689.|| He married first, about 1663, ABIGAIL —; and secondly MARTHA WOODY, born at Roxbury, Mass., 24 Jan. 1651/2, died 21 Apr. 1713, aged about 61, daughter of Capt. Richard of Roxbury. He was appointed in Boston, 27 July 1671, administrator of the estate of his uncle, Robert Patteshall; and he was admitted freeman in Boston 7 May 1673.¶ He acquired lands and islands in Maine, and lived for many years on Paddishale's Island in the Kennebec River, on which his father had lived before him. In 1684 he was appointed justice of the peace for the County

* Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 7, fo. 145.

† Mr. Richard Denham, as appears from the records given above, had in 1620 a wife named Elizabeth, but it is not certain that she was the mother of his daughter Martha, baptized in 1611. She was probably the Mistress Denham from whose house Anne White was buried 23 Nov. 1646. Six children of Mr. Richard Denham are recorded in the registers of St. Mary-le-Strand, and he was buried 22 Mar. 1636/7. He was churchwarden in 1621 and 1622, and was evidently well-to-do, three of his menservants and one maidservant being buried in 1603 and another manservant in 1613.

|| In Mather's Magnalia, book 7, appendix, article 4, the story of the attack by the Indians on the fort at Pemaquid, 2 Aug. 1689, and of the surrender of the fort on the following day is told, "and Mr. Patishal," Mather adds, "as he lay with his sloop in the Barbican, was also taken and slain." That this was Richard Patteshall is proved by the deposition of John Cock in Boston, 18 Sept. 1736, who, aged about 78 years, declared that he well remembered that "Rich^d Paddeshall Carried his family from s^d Island in Kennebeck River to Pemamquid where he was killed as he afterwards Heard." - ii. RICHARD, of Boston, mariner, b. in Boston 7 Feb. 1665/6; d. unm. in 1701. Administration on his estate was granted, 9 Oct. 1701, to his sister Frances Pateshall of Boston, spinster. The administration papers describe him as a seaman, "sometime of Pemaquid . . . late of Boston," and mention, besides his sister Frances, the administratrix, his mother-in-law [i.e., stepmother], Widow Martha Padishall; his brother Edward, "sent for to Town by said widow Padishall," who refused to act as administrator; Mary Padishall, daughter of Widow Martha; and Abigail, sister of the deceased, who married John Turner.†

§ For Richard Patteshall see REGISTER, vol. 17, p. 237, and Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 67, ff. 161, 163. His estate, according to the inventory of 7 Oct. 1768, was appraised at £259. 16s. 10d. The marriage intention of Richard Pateshall and Ann Milford was recorded in Boston, 16 Sept. 1748, and is marked "forbid." It is probable that they were married later and that Ann Milford was a widow, with a daughter Ann; for the marriage intention of Thomas Crane and Ann Milford was recorded in Boston, 18 Nov. 1756, and in his will, dated 8 Feb. 1791, Thomas Crane mentions his wife Ann and his mother-in-law Mrs. Ann Patteshall (REGISTER, vol. 47, p. 80). Thomas Crane's wife, therefore, seems to have been Ann Milford, a stepdaughter of Richard Patteshall, and not his own daughter (as is suggested in REGISTER, vol. 47, p. 79).

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, A.B., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 2 January 1918. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

In the absence of the Recording Secretary, Henry Edwards Scott was authorized to act in his place.

The minutes of the December meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the name of one person who had been elected an honorary member and the names of three persons who had been elected resident members.

The Chair announced that the President of the Society had appointed Mr. George Sawin Stewart as one of the auditors to audit the accounts of the Treasurer for the year 1917, in place of Mr. Charles Edward Lord, who was unable to accept the appointment tendered to him.

Vice-President Chase then presented to the Society Mr. Walter Adams of Framingham, who read a scholarly and instructive paper on John Swift, First Minister of Framingham.

After a vote of thanks to the speaker had been adopted, the Chair declared the meeting dissolved.

In celebration of the fifth anniversary of the first meeting of the Society in its present building, a reception with refreshments closed the afternoon.

6 February. The annual meeting of the Society was held this day, for a report of which see the Supplement to the present number of the REGISTER.

6 March. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the annual meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of five persons who had been elected resident members.

President Baxter then presented to the audience of over four hundred members and guests Miss Mary Boyle O'Reilly of Boston, who, in an address entitled One Thousand Days Back of the Front, described some of her experiences in the countries devastated by war, holding the undivided attention of her hearers as she portrayed the sufferings of stricken humanity beyond the seas. Apropos of the work of this Society, Miss O'Reilly emphasized in a series of interesting anecdotes the value placed on the preservation of town and family records by those forced to abandon their homes at the approach of the invaders.

On motion of Rev. Anson Titus a vote of thanks to Miss O'Reilly was adopted, and the President declared the meeting dissolved.

* As "Elizabeth Mullineux" she shares in the distribution of her brother Robert's estate on 30 Nov. 1764, and she is probably the Mrs. Reynolds who shares in the further distribution of the same estate on 6 Aug. 1773. (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 63, fo. 456, vol. 73, fo. 169.)

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

TRUESDALE-GILBERT RECORDS. — The records given below are found on fly-leaves at the back of an imperfect copy of a volume of sermons which came into my possession many years ago. The book states that the sermons were written by "Samuel Bolton, D.D. and Master of C. C. C." [Christ College, Cambridge], and that they were "Printed by Robert Ibbitson, for Thomas Parkhurst, and are to be sold at his Shop over against the Great Conduit in Cheapside, 1656." The records are written on seven different pages, but on the first page fragments only of some of the entries remain, the page having been badly torn. On the succeeding pages, however, the entries, beginning with the words "Reacord of the Gilbert Family From the Year 1706," are well preserved. The records are as follows:

[These records pertain to two related New England families. Richard Truesdale of Boston, Mass., servant to Mr. John Cotton, was admitted to the church 27 July 1634, and was made a freeman 4 Mar. 1634/5. He became a butcher, was a deacon of the First Church, and one of the founders of the Third or Old South Church in 1669. He deposed 28 Jan. 1670/1, aged about 64 years, and died in the following December, his will, dated 9 Dec. 1669, being proved in Jan. 1671/2. He left a widow, Mary, but no children. In his will he mentioned, in addition to other relatives, his kinsman, William Gilbert; and his widow, in her will of 1672, which was proved 26 Nov. 1674, mentioned various relatives, including her cousin William Gilbert, whom she appointed sole executor of her will, his wife Rebeckah Gilbert, and their son William Gilbert, Jr., who was not of age. This William Gilbert, also, in a letter dated at Boston, 10 Nov. 1680, and addressed to his "most Kynd and Loveing Grandfather, Mr. Arthur Bridge living in Sherborn in Dorsetshire," mentioned many of his relatives. (Cf. REGISTER, vol. 4, p. 342, Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, and Pope's Pioneers of Massachusetts.) — EDITOR.]

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY. — The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those respite for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manor houses, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Bradford. — Gov. William, baptized at Austerfield, Yorkshire, Eng., 19 Mar. 1589/90, died at Plymouth in New England 9 May 1657, by William Bradford Browne, Blackinton, Mass.

RECENT BOOKS

[The Editor particularly requests persons sending books for listing in the REGISTER to state, for the information of readers, the price of each book, with the amount to be added for postage when sent by mail, and from whom it may be ordered. For the January issue, books should be received by Nov. 1; for April, by Feb. 1; for July, by May 1; and for October, by July 1.]

FRANKLIN HOWARD GILSON

By ALDEN P. GILSON, S.B., of Wellesley Hills, Mass.

FRANKLIN HOWARD GILSON, printer, elected to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1903 and made a life member in 1911, died at his home at Wellesley Hills, Mass., 19 April 1917, in the sixty-third year of his age.

He was born at Cambridge, Mass., 21 December 1854, the son of Henry Yend and Mary Spofford (Bailey) Gilson, and was sixth in descent from Joseph¹ Gilson, through John,² John,³ Solomon,⁴ Asa,⁵ and Henry Yend,⁶ his father. Joseph¹ Gilson married at Chelmsford, Mass., 10 or 18 November 1661, Mary Cooper or Caper, and afterwards settled at Groton, Mass., where he was one of the original proprietors of the town.

Franklin Howard Gilson was educated in the public schools of Somerville, Mass., whither his father had removed from Cambridge in 1857. At the age of seventeen he left the high school, in order to learn music printing, being apprenticed to Andrew B. Kidder, then the leading music printer in Boston. In 1877 he entered the book-printing office of Rand, Avery & Company, to obtain a wider knowledge of the general printing business. When this had been acquired, he started in business in 1878 on his own account, with a fellow workman as partner, each putting in five hundred dollars, with which, as capital, a small music typesetting plant was purchased. Within the first year the partner withdrew, taking for his interest Mr. Gilson's note; and the latter developed the business alone. The field for music typesetting was limited and the competition sharp, and during the second year Mr. Gilson and five employees were sufficient to care for all the work that came to the modest establishment. But as a result of persistency and of careful attention to every detail the volume of business increased, and at the end of five years had doubled.

From 1884 to 1888 some publishing was done, including several school music books and a periodical, The School Music Journal, which Mr. Gilson also edited. Then, finding that his publishing created some feeling among his customers in his printing business who were also publishers, he sold his catalogue to the Oliver Ditson Company, and again confined his work to printing alone.

In 1888 fire destroyed a large part of his plant; but he purchased that of C. M. Gay, his strongest competitor, and when his own plant was reconstructed the two were brought together under one roof. Securing a large contract for presswork and binding in 1889, he bought out the establishment of Carter & Weston, printers and bookbinders, including nine Adams presses and a large amount of bookbinding machinery. In 1891 he added departments of music engraving and lithographing, making five distinct departments in the establishment — those of music typesetting, printing from electrotype plates, music engraving, lithographing, and bookbinding.

In 1891 the business was incorporated under the name of F. H. Gilson Company, with Mr. Gilson as president and manager.

In 1899 the book-composing room of C. J. Peters was destroyed by fire, and Mr. Gilson took over his uncompleted work. This was the beginning of what is to-day the principal work of the company, the printing of scientific textbooks, genealogical books, and other books of a high-grade and intricate nature. Shortly after this the music engraving and lithographing departments were sold, Mr. Gilson preferring to devote all his energies to the typographic method of printing.

In 1914 an electrotpe foundry was added to the establishment, so that now every process in the manufacture of a book is carried on by the company — music composition, book composition, electrotyping, presswork, and bookbinding. The company has not only the largest book-printing plant in Boston but also the only one in Boston in which a book can be made complete from manuscript to bound copy. From five employees in 1879 the regular force has increased to over one hundred and thirty to-day.

The successful development of this large industry is a practical demonstration of Mr. Gilson's great business sagacity. It was a fundamental business principle with him that a transaction, to be right, must be mutually advantageous to the parties concerned. Living up to the high level of this principle won him the confidence and esteem of all with whom he dealt. He was upright and straightforward in all his affairs.

Mr. Gilson made several inventions of commercial value. The interest in amateur photography which he had maintained since boyhood led him to design an adjustable photograph album for his own use. This he later patented and manufactured on a large scale. He also worked out an exposure table for amateur photographers, and invented a "glue pencil" for use in mounting photographs. All these devices have sold widely.

His favorite relaxation from business was in the observation and study of nature, particularly of botany. It was while he was still a young man that he began under difficult conditions this nature study. Making long days in Boston in the printing trade, he would start from home very early and often walk long distances on the way to his train, and then on the train analyze with his faithful Gray's Botany the new flowers he had found. His knowledge of the flora about his home was so complete and his powers of observation so keen that he discovered species new to the region, such as Ceanothus ovatus; peculiar forms, such as the form of the black spruce that establishes a zone of new plants by the natural layering and rooting of its lower branches; also certain characteristics of tree leafing and branching which had escaped the eye of that brilliant botanist, Asa Gray, whom Mr. Gilson knew very well.

Trees he especially loved, and he published in two editions (1887, 1888) "Trees of Reading, Mass.," in which five notably fine specimens were illustrated from photographs. For this work he used a special lens, selected after many trials to secure one that would give the greatest perfection in the definition of details from the ground to the tips of the branches, and the illustrations produced are a striking evidence of his determination to excel in whatever he undertook.

Mr. Gilson's boyhood and early manhood were spent in Somerville. He married, 23 September 1874, Emily Isabel Lowry of Nashville, Tenn., daughter of Robert and Mary Ann Clark (Lowry) Lowry, and in 1875 they moved from Somerville to Reading, Mass., where their five children were born and where they lived until 1890. In that year Mr. Gilson moved with his family to Wellesley Hills, Mass., where he resided until his death.

As a citizen he took a keen interest in the affairs of his town, and was never too busy to do his full share in its service. He served several terms as park commissioner and two terms as selectman of Wellesley. As a town official, as in his business, he analyzed every problem presented to him with the utmost care, and his opinions were definite and positive because they were based on most scrupulous investigation. He was too broad-minded to be actively partisan. Every question was settled in his mind entirely on its merits, as he worked it out without bias and with only the welfare of the town to be considered. No citizen ever gave the town more conscientious and intelligent service.

He was not what would be ordinarily called a social man, as his other interests largely outweighed those of a purely social character. He was so many-sided that new interests were constantly developing to give zest and freshness to his remarkably active mind, a mind which made far too strenuous demands on his body and which completely wore out the body while the mind was at the summit of its development.

Mrs. Gilson survives her husband, and four of their five children are living: Mrs. Beatrice A. Slocombe, A.B. (Cornell, 1904), of Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Isabel C. Adams of Bayside, Long Island, N. Y., Alden P. Gilson, S.B. (Harvard, 1906), of Wellesley Hills, secretary and treasurer of the F. H. Gilson Company, and Mrs. Anna R. Adams of Newton Highlands, Mass. Their second child and elder son, Claude U. Gilson of Holliston, Mass., for many years an officer in the F. H. Gilson Company, died at Holliston 27 December 1916.

JOHN HOLMAN OF DORCHESTER, MASS., AND HIS DESCENDANTS

By ALFRED LYMAN HOLMAN of Chicago, Ill.

THE English home of John Holman of Dorchester, Mass., the immigrant ancestor of the family which forms the subject of this article, was at Swyre, co. Dorset, a parish on the coast of the English Channel, about six miles southeast from Bridport in the same county. According to Moule's "English Counties," published in 1838, the parish contained (presumably about that time) only 43 houses and 210 inhabitants. The parish church, dedicated to the Holy Trinity, is a restoration and enlargement of the old church that has stood there for several centuries. The oldest book of the parish registers, after having been lost for many years, was discovered in the parish of Puncknowle, which adjoins Swyre on the east, and was restored to the custody of the then rector of Swyre in Feb. 1892. It includes baptisms, marriages, and burials from 1587 to 1718, and is in a most tattered condition.* This register and the will of Morgan Holman, father of John of Dorchester, Mass., are the chief sources of information about the English connections of the New England immigrant.

HENRY HOLMAN, of Swyre, co. Dorset, grandfather of John of Dorchester, Mass., is the earliest ancestor of the New England family from whom descent has been proved, and was dead in 1587. He married JOAN JOLLIFFE, who was buried in the church of Swyre 28 June 1604, daughter of William of Martinstown, Winterbourne St. Martin, co. Dorset. In one of the early parish account books at Swyre there is a reference to a bequest of £10 given by Mrs. Joane Holman of Barwick,† widow, who was buried 28 June 1604. Another item in regard to the same bequest reads: "The like somme of Tenne pounds given likewise Mrs. Joane Holman widow late of Barwick in Swyre aforesaid deceased for ever to remaine to the said use and yerely employment & yerely to yeeld 20s.," and there is also "an account showing how 24s recd for year 1614 for the use of £10 given for ever to remain in stock for use of the poor by Mrs. Joane Hollman late of Barwick."

Children (order of births unknown):

- i. MORGAN, b. probably abt. 1563. See below.
- ii. ANNE, living 19 June 1614, when she was mentioned as "my sister Anne Waye" in her brother Morgan's will; m. ——— WAYE (probably HENRY WAYE). Child (probably): Henry, who as "Henrie Waie Jun" was a witness to the will of Morgan Holman in 1614.

- iii. WILLIAM, of East Stower, co. Dorset, and Chilcomb, co. Hants, bur. in the chancel of St. Clement's Church, Winchester, co. Hants, abt. 1624; m. SUSANNA JOLIFFE, bapt. at Fifehead-Magdalone, co. Dorset, 4 Oct. 1583, dau. of John and Elizabeth (Newman). William Holman was named as one of the executors in his brother Morgan's will in 1614.
- iv. ALICE, m. THOMAS BISHOP, s. of John and Elinor (Watkins) of Chilcombe, co. Dorset. "Mr. Thomas Byshopp" was mentioned as one of the overseers in the will of his brother-in-law, Morgan Holman, in 1614.
- v. MARY (probably dau. of Henry), m. at Swyre, 29 Feb. 1595/6, RICHARD DAVIDGE, probably the Richard Davidge who was a witness to the will of Morgan Holman in 1614.
Perhaps others.

MORGAN HOLMAN (Henry), of Barwicke [Berwick] in the parish of Swyre, co. Dorset, Gentleman, born probably about 1563, was buried at Swyre 1 July 1614. He married at Swyre, 24 Oct. 1596, ALICE ODBERRE, who was living 19 June 1614.* As Morgan Holman of Barwick, aged twenty-five, he held in 1588 a cottage at Burton-Bradstock, co. Dorset, a parish adjoining Swyre on the west. He was churchwarden at Swyre in 1607 and overseer in 1608 and 1611. In the contributions "for the relief of our poore" in 1614 he gave 12s., the largest amount given by any one person. He held of the Earl of Bedford, by lease dated 1 Nov. 1606, for the term of ninety-nine years, "determinable vpon my life & the lives of Alice my wife and Robte my sonne," a farm at Berwick in the parish of Swyre. The house and farm buildings were situated about a mile north from the church at Swyre, and distinct traces of the old house that must have been in existence over three hundred years ago can now be seen in the present enlarged house. Extracts from Morgan Holman's will follow.

"IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN the sixth daye of June Anno Dom 1614 . . . I MORGAN HOLMAN of Barwicke within the pishe of Swyre in the County of Dorset gent . . . Doe make and ordaine this my last will and testament . . . my body I comit to Christian buriall to be buried in Church of Swyre as neere my mother as conveniently it may be done to wch Church I giue the some of tenn shillings Item I giue to the poore of the same pishe to remaine as a stocke for their benefitt for ever the some of five pounds to be payed within one year after my decease Item I giue to my sister Anne Waye a peece of goulde of eleaven shillings to make her a ringe in token of my love to her Item Whereas I holde by lease Dated the first daye of November in the fourth yeare of the raigne of or said souaigne Lord the

* An Alice Holman was married at Swyre, 11 Dec. 1621, to John Napper, and an Alice Holman was buried at Swyre 23 Jan. 1628/9. One of these women — it is not possible now to determine which one — may have been the widow of Morgan Holman. Who the other one was is unknown, although it may be conjectured that, if the Alice Holman who was married to John Napper was the widow of Morgan, the Alice who was buried in 1628/9 may have been the wife of his son Morgan, for the elder Morgan Holman does not appear to have had a daughter Alice (unless perhaps there was a posthumous child of that name) and his sister Alice is known to have married, before 19 June 1614, Thomas Bishop.

[Signed] Morgan Holman" [Seal] Witnesses: Henrie Waie Jun, Richard Davidge [Seal], Sampson Miller [Seal], Richard Jacob als Beagan. Proved 19 April 1623. (P.C.C., Swann, 33.*)

Morgan Holman's bequest of £5 for the benefit of the poor of the parish of Swyre was evidently not carried out, for in 1639 an entry in the parish account books reads: "Besides there is ffiue pounds giuen by Mr. Morgan Holman deceased wch wee [have] not received for wch we desire . . . assistance." The last allusion to this legacy occurs in 1651, and the overseers had not then received it and for the future omitted to refer to it.

* The original will is on file at Somerset House, London. It is written on two sheets, each of which is signed by Morgan Holman.

Children, baptized at Swyre:

- i. JOAN, bapt. 5 Aug. 1598; bur. at Swyre 7 Oct. 1599.
- ii. ROBERT, bapt. 12 Apr. 1600; m. (1) at Swyre, 29 Nov. 1622, EDITH BISHOP, dau. of Humphrey and Joan (Watkins) of Chilcombe, co. Dorset; probably m. (2) at Swyre, 4 Nov. 1644, ELLEN STROOD.
- iii. JOHN, the immigrant to New England, bapt. 27 Jan. 1602/3. See below.
- iv. MORGAN, bapt. 10 Aug. 1606; living 19 June 1614.
- v. ANN, bapt. 27 Dec. 1608; living 19 June 1614.
- vi. THOMAS, bapt. 30 June 1611; living 19 June 1614.

1. JOHN¹ HOLMAN, of Dorchester, Mass., was baptized at Swyre, co. Dorset, England, 27 Jan. 1602/3, the son of Morgan and Alice (Odberre) Holman and the grandson of Henry and Joan (Jolliffe) Holman, and died at Dorchester, Mass., between 10 June 1652, the date of his will, and 18 Mar. 1652/3, the date of the inventory of his estate. He married first, probably at Dorchester, ANNE ———, who was admitted to the church 4 Nov. 1639 and died at Dorchester 1 Dec. 1639; and secondly, probably at Dorchester, about 1640, ANNE BISHOP, baptized at Bridport, co. Dorset, England, 22 Oct. 1616, daughter of Thomas and Avis (Abbot). About two years after the death of John Holman his widow, Anne (Bishop) Holman, was married to Rev. Henry Butler, A. B. (Harvard, 1651), A.M. (Harvard, 1654), the schoolmaster of Dorchester, and soon afterwards returned with him to England. From a statement in the manuscript diary of Rev. Michael Wigglesworth it may be inferred that the marriage of Mr. Butler and Mrs. Holman took place 9 Mar. 1654/5, the entry of that date in the diary reading: "Thursd. I wet to Boston & frō-y^{ns} to Mr Butlers he being married." Mr. Butler, according to Calamy's "Ejected or Silenced Ministers," vol. 2, p. 611, died at Withamfray [Witham-Friary, co. Somerset], England, 24 Apr. 1696, aged 72 years. His wife, the widow of John Holman, was already deceased on 4 Aug. 1673, when Mr. Butler, describing himself as "now or late of yeouell" [Yeovil], co. Somerset, England, conveyed to Thomas² Holman (John¹) of Milton, Mass., his interest in the estate of John Holman, and referred in the deed to "anne my late wife."*

The following entries in the "Aspinwall Notarial Records" prove that John Holman of Dorchester, Mass., was identical with John, son of Morgan Holman of Swyre, co. Dorset, England; and the second entry shows also the disposition made by John Holman of his interest in the paternal lands at Swyre.

"17 (9) ¹⁶⁴⁷ [17 Nov. 1647.] John Holman of Dorch: gent, hath made &c: Mr Tho: Bishop of Bredport in the Count Dorset merch^t his true & lawfull Attr: to aske & receive all such Rents as are or shalbe due unto him out of Barwick fferme in the parish of Swyer in Dorsetshire by vertue of the last will &c of Morgan Holman his ffather deceased & of the receipt to give acquitt: &c: also to compound &c: & to appeare before all Lords Judges &c: to doe say sue &c: & generally to doe &c: further granting his s^d Attr: power to alien & sell all his right & interest in & to the said Barwick fferme or any part thereof. & deed or deeds of sale to make seale & deliver in his name, and to doe all act or acts thing or things necessary & behoofeull. This assignment was sealed & dd in presence of W^m Aspinwall Not publ & John Glover & Richard Colleet. 17 (11) 48." (Ib., p. 190.)

John Holman, son of "Morgane Holman late of Barwick, gent.," was enrolled at Dorchester, co. Dorset, England, 25 Mar., 20 James I [1622], as an apprentice to "Wm. Jolliffe of Dorchester, wollendraper," probably one of his father's relatives.* If he served the full time of his apprenticeship, this would account for him until nearly 1630, the year in which it is believed that he emigrated to New England. Possibly he sailed in the advance ship of Winthrop's fleet, the Mary and John, whose passengers, landing at Mattapan in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, called their settlement Dorchester.

At a meeting of the General Court in Boston, 3 Oct. 1632, John Holman and Henry Way were authorized to receive £40 out of a fine of £45 imposed on Nicholas Frost, and to keep Nicholas Frost "in boults . . . till his ffines be paid, dureing w^{ch} time hee [Frost] is to beare his owne charges."† In Pyncheon's papers John Holman is mentioned as a collector of furs at Dorchester, Mass., in 1633. He was a landholder at Dorchester, and is mentioned often in the town records from 1 Sept. 1634 on, when Bray Clarke and John Allen were ordered to build a house "upon the Rocke by John Holman." His farm which he left by his will to his sons Thomas and Samuel and to his wife was in that part of Dorchester which was set off in 1662 as the town of Milton. He was a selectman of Dorchester in 1636, 1637, and 1642, was chosen by the General Court, 9 Mar. 1636/7, ensign for Dorchester, was a member of the "Jury of Life & Death" at a Quarter Court held at Boston and Newtown 19 Sept. 1637, and was the nineteenth signer of the original roll of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in 1637. At a "Generall Court of Elections," held in Boston 2 June 1641, Lieut. Willard, John Holman, and Richard Collicott, with so many as they should receive into their society, were given a monopoly of trading with the Indians.‡

The will of John Holman, dated 10 June 1652, is as follows:

"Whereas almighty God haveing layd upon me a great affliction I thinke it my duty to dispose of that smale estate God have given me to prevent trouble for time to come: And whereas the honorable Court have established a Law the eldest sonne shall have a double portion my earnest desire is and to my greife I speak it my sonne being growne to some yeares prooveth disobedient and stubborne against me my desire is he may be deprived of that benefitt which others may justly injoy and I give unto him my sonne John Holman the sune of fifty pounds to be paid unto him at twenty yeares of age and unto my daughter Mary Holman I give fifty pounds to be paid unto her at eightene yeares of age or at hir day of marriage and to my foure youngest children I give fifty pounds to each of them to be paid at the age of twenty yeares to my two sonnes Thomas and Samuel Holman and to my two daughters Abigaile and Hannah Holman I give fifty pounds to each of them to be paid at their day of marriage or at the age of eighteen yeares. As for my housing and Land at Dorchester I give to my wife dureing hir life and after hir death I give the one halfe of my land to my sonnes Thomas and Samuel Holman and the other halfe of my Land I give to my wife to despose of it as she shall see fitt: And all the rest of my estate the Legacyes being paid I give to my wife and hir I make my Executrix of this my Last Will and testament. And in case any child dye before their portion be due then to be at my wifes disposing: my will is my foure youngest children shalbe to remaine with there mother till they come to age mentioned on the other side and to be maintained by their mother with that weh is Left for them: now to the fulfilling of this my Last will and testament I doe appoint and order my beloved brethren Richarde Collecott and William Robeson to be overseers unto my wife and children and unto them I give power when portions shalbe due to see them paid and to be helpful to my wife in what they may.

"In testimony whereof I subscribe my hand this 10th day of the 4th moneth 1652.

John Holman."

The estate of John Holman was, for that time, a large one, the inventory, taken 18, 1 mo. 1652/3, showing a valuation of £739. 16s. The appraisers were Richard Collicott and William Robinson of Dorchester, and the inventory was "Accepted provided y^e executrix Appeare before the next County Court giue in securitie for the Childrens porcons." *

In his will John Holman had declared that John, his eldest son, had proved disobedient and stubborn, and instead of leaving to him the customary double portion he had bequeathed to him £50, to be paid when he should have reached the age of twenty years. The young man was born 23 Feb. 1637/8, and was therefore about fifteen years old when his father died. On 17 Apr. 1656, when he was eighteen years of age, he "came before the Magistr, & with their allowance chose Robert Badcocke to be his guardian." † His reason for doing this was undoubtedly for the purpose of bringing a suit to contest his father's will, and to this end he filed a petition with the General Court, in which he states that he is the "eldest sonne of his father by his former wife; mother unto your petitioner and by that parentall care and tender endeavors your petitioner with the rest of the children was honestly and religiously brought up whilst his mother lived;" that he always behaved himself as a dutiful son, "the folly and vanity of child hood and youth excepted. . . . But so it came to pass your petitioners mother died and in some space of tyme his father marred another woman of good repute liveing at that tyme in dorchester by whom he had fouer children two sonnes and two daughters among whom your petitioner and his sister Mary were still continued in the family;" that he behaved himself "like a dutifull sonne both to father and mother . . . excepting what by reason of folly and vanity among us children did now and then fall out as is insident unto such families where children of severall mothers are as was the condicon of godly Jacobs family and of his grandfather Abraham;" that his fathers will deprives him not only of his legal and just rights as eldest son, but defames him by characterizing him as a disobedient son; and he prays that the validity of the will may be inquired into, "whether it may not fairly appeare that my father did not resolve against me or intend it to stand in force but only to quiet my Mother & to be a terror unto me to keepe me in awe." *

The action of the General Court in regard to this petition is shown in the records of the session of 14 May 1656, as follows:

"In answer to the pet of John Holman, of Dorchester, desiringe to haue his fathers will made voyd, this Court refers it to the next County Court for Suffolk, to be heard, both ptyes & wittnesses, & if it appeare to the sd Court, vpon hearinge the case, that there is just reason to make null or alter the will of the petitioner father, then the sd Court to state the case, & report the grounds thereof to the next session of this Court; but if the contrary appear to the sd Court, vizt, that the will ought to remayne in force, & the petio^{rs} not to make any further trouble, & in that case, also, the sd Court to giue reasons to this Court why they app'hend the the will ought to stand in force, & also that securitie be forthwith taken by the secritary to the value of one hundred pounds, vpon the estat of Mr John Holman, deceased, to be responsall for what this Court shall determine & conclude herein vpon information from the County Court."†

In connection with this suit the following declaration was made by Mrs. Anne (Bishop) (Holman) Butler, stepmother of the petitioner:

"To the Honnord Court Assembled at Boston, The Declareation of Anne Butler sume time Wife and now Executrix to Jno. Hollman late of Dorchester, etc.

"God by his providence Calling me to England to my new Husband though mor suddenly then I expected as sune of yourselves know, I thought it my Duty to leave a few lines for the Clearing of myselfe and former Husband who was Deare to me in his life time and now I hope and believe is Blessed with the Lord. Since my present husband went for England I have been informed that some persons have given in testimony against me Concerning John Hollman which is no small trouble of mind to me that there should be such Recording up family weaknesses to the dishonor of God and Grief of one another and I had rather goe many paces Backward to cover Shame than one Inch forward to discover any; and that which I am forced here to Speak I thought to have Buried had I not been forced to it for the Clearing of my selfe and former Husband: it pleased God to give me the enjoyment of my former Husband about fourteen years; when I married him he had tow children the one newly taken from the Brest and the other three years and sd wch children continued with me all the time of my husbands life only a while the one was at schoole and in that time I had six children by my husband soe that our family was very great by Reason of Children and servants and my husbands calling leading him oft from whome for many weeks and months together the whole weight and Burthen of the family lay upon me to look after maters Both within and without the truth is that I am Loath to speak of it yett my very Life was a Burthen to me p' Reson of the many Troubles and distractions I met with both within and without p' Reson of my husbands absence soe that it is not only Likely but Trew that I might let fall some speeches or passages that might not be according to the rule of Godly Government But it is very trew and I have caus to Bewale it that through many In Cumbrances and my own Corruption I have many ways fayled and missed it in my place. And I hope that your wisdom will consider that a woman soe offt Loste with soe many children and servants and such weight of Buseness. Tis not any Easie thing for such an one to walke according to rule in all things I desire not to Justifie my self But to bewale it wherever I have missed and it is my grief that servants and neighbors that have been in my husbands house by accident should Blare aboroad such things as carie such a face with them as Indeed is not in them.

"And whereas I am Informed that John Hollman and others doe labor to prove that I was the caus why his father didnt give him a double portion that I must absolutely deny I never moved his father to any such thing but it was his own Voluntarie act unknown to me until such time as he read his will in my hearing I then discovered that it might be otherwise my husband was displeased with me as I suppose overseers can witnes but as I said before I am unwilling to discover shame but the truth is it was John Hollmans ill carriage toward his father that was the cause his father did deprive him of a double portion it was not only the Miss carriages of his childhood for as I suppose he was seventeen years old or thereabouts when his father dyed and he being growne up to years of Descreation and his father in great affliction it was greivous to him to see his son soe to cary himselfe the wch he hath often bewaled not only to myselfe but to others also; and Reproved and Told him the danger and Evill that wold follow and Insue such Corsess. I shall Instance in some particulars though the Lord knowes I desire nott to speake in prejudices to John Hollman but for the clearing of the truth as the Cases now stands soe farr my Declaration may have credit given to it I shall not say anything in thisse consarning his carriage towards me as his mother but only of his carage towards his father.

"His frquent Expressions the old man will never Recover it and then I shall have double portion the house and land shall be myne and his carraige hath Been very unnatnerall his father never above twice that Iyremember desired his son John to do a mean offies for him his answer was a dogs take it it stinks like poyson whereupon his father threw his slipper at him and told him with many teares that he was a cursed cham he also told him of Elis Sons and of the sins of disobedience to parents and his answer was why doe you not hang me then

"His father hath oft thretened him to have him before the Majestrate and before the Church; his father hath divers times spoaken of his death but it never brought a teare from him that I ever could perceive in soe much that his father hath often said to him; I feare God hath reprobated thee; his father tooke it very gréevously that when he had been abroad at his Returne he would not speake to him nor aske him how he did his father told him he would make a publike example and could finde in his hart never to give him a penny he told his father to his face that he did not care Lett him do what he would and when his father lay dead in the hous he did desire to see the will that he might know what his father had given him and when he did know he wondered that his father had given him soe much.

"Much more I could have added in severall particulars but I am not willing to trouble the court in laying blemish upon John Hollman without constrainte but leave it to the testimony and Examination of others of the court see caus to call for it.

"Your worships to Command,

"June 28th 1656.

Ann Butler." *

John Holman was unsuccessful in his suit, as is shown by the records of the session of the General Court held in Boston, 14 Oct. 1656, as follows:

"The County Court held at Boston the 5th of August, 1656, having heard all the evidences in the case concerning M^r Holmans will in reference to John Holman, his son, according to the order of the Gen^l Court, May, 56, doe make this report: that notwithstanding the evidences p^duced by John Holman, which are on file, they judge the will of the s^d Holman legally proued, & se no cause to alter the same; which returne of the County Court this Court thinkes meet to approue off in this case." *

2. JOHN² HOLMAN (*John*¹), of Boston, Mass., merchant, born at Dorchester, Mass., 23 Feb. 1637/8, was probably living as late as 14 Aug. 1700, when he was mentioned in a letter from the Earl of Bellomont to Judge Samuel Sewall, of which a part is printed below, but was dead on 20 Dec. 1700, when his two daughters referred to him in a deed as deceased.‡ He married, probably about 1666, MARY BLANTON, born in Boston in July 1645, died probably before July 1682, daughter of William and Phebe.§

His unsuccessful attempt in 1656 to induce the Court to set aside his father's will has been described above. In 1675 he served in King Philip's War, in Capt. Samuel Mosely's company, which "marched out of Boston, probably early in the morning of June 27th," and took part in the operations at Mount Hope.* He took the oath of allegiance in Boston, 11 Nov. 1678. In 1679 he was mentioned as being "in Capt. John Hulls Co. [South Company of Boston], List of those for watch," and in 1681 he was taxed in Boston under "No. 8. Capt. John Hulls Comp." On 27 Mar. 1682 he was complained of for selling "beere & Cyder by retayle" without a license.

§ In Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, under the year 1645, there are two entries of the birth of Mary Blanton, one entry reading "Mary of William & Phebe Blantaine born 5th month," and the other reading "Mary of William & Phebe Blantaine born 4th — 6th month." In the records of the First Church, however, the baptism of "Mary of William Blanton aged about 8 days" is entered under date of "3 day 6 mo." 1645. It is likely, therefore, that she was born towards the end of July 1645.

It may be supposed that after this time he became a regular soldier, as the name of John Holman, corporal, is found in a list of "Soldiers in garrison at Fort Albany, on the 26th of October, 1689, who took the oath of allegiance to King William and Queen Mary." The records show also that Capt. Peter Schuyler "listed" John Holman, with some others, in 1692, for Kings County, and that in 1698 John Holman was in Captain Weems's command.

Some correspondence between Judge Samuel Sewall of Boston and the Earl of Bellomont, Governor of New York, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire, furnishes the latest known record of John² Holman while he was still living. Under date of 5 Aug. 1700 Judge Sewall wrote a letter to Lord Bellomont, in which the following passage occurs:

"I would pray your Lordship to admit my speaking one word in behalf of John Holman, a Souldier at Albany. His sister Mason though 63 years old, and tormented by the Stone, yet came over to me this morning to solicit on her Brothers behalf. Her Request is, that your Excellency would condescend, either to put him into such a station as may render his Life comfortable, or else to assist him, (a Souldier grown old in His Maj^s Service) in his Removal to Boston. If Capt. Crow attend your Exc^s Return to New-York, possibly, a convenient passage might be obtained for him on the Kings Account."†

Lord Bellomont's reply is as follows:

"Albany, the 14th Aug: 1700.

"SIR:

"Before I received the favour of your Letter of the 5th inst., I Inquired after Mr. Holman, calling to mind the request you formerly made me on his account. 'Tis in vain to promise you preferment for him, because that these companies being ill paid, or rather not paid at all, the officers as well as the Souldiers are destitute and in a miserable condition, therefore I conclude the kindest course I can take is to send Mr. Holman to Boston to his friends, w^h I will do by Capt Crow."‡

He received by his father's will a one-quarter interest in his father's estate in that part of Dorchester which in 1662 was incorporated as the town of Milton; and he obtained the remainder of the entire property by deed from his brother Samuel and wife, dated 21 Aug. 1671, and by deed from his stepfather, Rev. Henry Butler, dated 4 Aug. 1673, the consideration in the latter deed being £160.|| He served as a soldier in King Philip's War, under Capt. Thomas Brattle. Among those who gave their assent to a new church covenant in Dorchester, 5 Mar. 1676/7, were Thomas Holman and his wife of Milton, and they were admitted to full communion 7 May 1677. When a new church was formed in Milton, 24 Apr. 1678, Thomas Holman was among those who joined it, and his wife was dismissed to that church 18 Sept. 1681. He was one of the foremost citizens of the town, and was active in all church and town affairs. An abstract of his will follows.

The Will of THOMAS^JHOLMAN of Milton in the County of Suffolk in New England, Cordwainer, 21 July 1704. To my eldest son Thomas Holman my eldest house, on the Easterly end of and adjoining to my new house, and half of my barn and out houses, with the lands under and to the same belonging, together with one full half part of my upland, fresh and salt meadow, with the privileges and appurtenances thereof in all land in Milton aforesaid. To my son John Holman one full quarter part of my said uplands, fresh and salt meadow, and the new end of my house and the other half of my barn, with the lands under and to the same belonging, with the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging (saving out of said new house the middle room thereof to my daughter Patience for her use, according as is hereinafter mentioned). Immediately after my decease my said son John shall enter upon what I have herein before given him, and my said John's part of the uplands and meadow at home shall lye next adjoining to and upon Mr. Budds land and the country road or highway leading to Braintree. To my son Ebenezer Holman the remaining quarter pt of all my said uplands, fresh and salt meadow, in Milton aforesaid. My said John's part of my estate herein bequeathed unto him shall be clear and wholly exempted from paying or satisfying any of my debts or legacies hereinafter mentioned. In the division of my lands and meadows among my before named three sons respect [shall] be had to the quality or goodness thereof as well as the quantity. When my son Ebenezer attains the age of twenty-one years, he and his brother Thomas shall make a division of their part of said lands and meadows between them, until which time Ebenezer's part shall remain in the hands of the said Thomas his brother. The whole living (except my said John's thereof) shall be kept undivided until my just debts are paid. My sons Thomas and Steadfast Foster [shall] manage the same, so that out of it and the produce of my stock and other estate my just debts and legacies hereinafter mentioned may be paid as soon as they can. None of my lands [shall] be sold to strangers, but to the Holmans, provided they give as much for it as others will. To my son Samuel Holman £30, within four years next after my decease, which, with what he has had, will make up above £100. To my daughter Patience Holman the free liberty, use, benefit, and improvement of the middle room in the new end of my house, so long as she liveth; and she shall be well provided for out of my estate with corn, mault, and to have the use of two cows, kept for her winter and summer; and I give her the bed she lyeth on, with all the furniture thereunto belonging, together with my silver tankard and all the time which I at my decease shall have in my maid servant Sarah Powcock. To my said daughter Patience the use of my garden; and she [shall] have cyder and apples out of ye orchard for her own benefit during her natural life. My daughter Anne [shall] be provided for out of my estate with respect to dyett and lodging until such time as she shall be disposed of in marriage or otherwise. My movables and household goods within doors (except thereout such parcels of plate as is hereinafter disposed of by me) shall be equally divided betwixt my two daughters Patience and Anne Holman; and if any part thereof falls short of three score pounds value, I will that it be made up to her out of my estate three score pounds, besides which I give unto my said daughter Ann the further sum of £20, to be paid unto her within six years next after my decease. To my daughter Woodby (besides what I have already given her, which is considerable) £5, to be paid her within five years after my decease. She and her two children [shall] be provided for out of my estate with needful house room and provisions during her present widowhood. To each of my nine children one silver spoon, to my daughter Foster my silver cup, to my said son John my silver bowl, and to my two daughters Abigail Foster and Hannah Beale 5s. a piece (having already had their respective shares of my estate). My lands in the Eastern parts of New England and also where [sic, ? elsewhere] (besides in Milton) I devise unto my before named four sons, equally to be divided among them. "My earnest desire is that my children agree and live in fear of God, in love and peace towards each other, and that my son Ebenezer be put out to some good trade, also that my two apprentices Thomas Plinly and James Humphrys live with my son Thomas Holman until their times are out, and they prefected in their trades, and that at the expiration of the time in their respective indentures . . . all covenants therein on my part be fulfilled." My daughter Patience [shall] be not anywise molested in the free and full use of the above mentioned room, or any other the premises hereinbefore given to her. Executors: my son Thomas Holman and my son-in-law Standfast Foster. Overseers: my loving friends Deacon Thomas Swift, Capt. Thomas Vose, and Lt. Jonathan Gulliver. [Signed] Thomas Holman. 4. SAMUEL² HOLMAN (*John*¹), of Boston, Mass., baptized at Dorchester, Mass., 6 Dec. 1646, died probably shortly before 7 Feb. 1688/9, when administration on his estate was granted to Thomas Holman of Milton, Mass., and two others. He married RACHEL BATEMAN, born in Boston 28 May 1651 and baptized (First Church, Boston) 1 June 1651, daughter of John and Hannah. She survived her husband, and was living 10 Nov. 1689, when her father made his will.

Samuel Holman was a chirurgion or barber surgeon. As Samuel Holman, "Barber," he, with his wife Rachel, conveyed to his brother Thomas Holman of Milton, in a deed dated 21 Aug. 1671, "for a ualueable consideracon," his one-quarter part in the dwelling house and farm in Milton "knowne by the name of M^r Holmans ffarme," which his father had bequeathed to him in his will in 1652.* He served in King Philip's War, under Captain Mosely, and in a petition dated 5 Apr. 1676 states that he "went out to Mount Hope under Capt. Moseley afterwards the Constable prest some of his Instruments for chirurgery for Capt. Moseleys Chirurgion and soon after his horse was prest for the countrys use." He also states that about two months since petitioner was pressed to go to Narragansett under Captain Wadsworth, but being sick he sent his servant Edward Sampson at a cost of £14, and his servant has since been pressed for another company. He adds that he has no property to live on, only his calling, and he prays for relief.† He was taxed in Boston in 1681, in "Capt. Daniel Hinkman's Company," and again in 1687 and 1688.

‡ In a deed acknowledged in Boston 22 May 1716 "Samuel Holman of Situate county of Plymouth, Laborer, & Hannah Holman of Boston, Spinster," conveyed to various parties a tract of land on the "west side of Kenebeck river." In this deed it is stated that "Father Samuel deceased intestate leaving behind him one son and two daughters." Rachel Holman, therefore, the sister of Samuel and Hannah, was apparently not living when Samuel and Hannah made this conveyance, and, if she was

5. THOMAS³ HOLMAN (Thomas,² *John*¹), of Milton and Rehoboth, Mass., and of Middletown, Conn., cordwainer, born at Milton 8 Mar. 1674/5, died at Middletown 3 Sept. 1749.† He married in Boston, 25 Nov. 1709, HANNAH TURNER, who was living 17 Aug. 1749, when her husband made his will, daughter of Ralph of Falmouth, Me.

He lived in Milton for several years after his father's death, but according to a deed of 15 Mar. 1720/1 bought land in Rehoboth, and probably removed thither soon afterwards. On 24 May 1727, in a deed in which he is called "Thomas Holman late of Milton, now of Rehoboth, Cordwainer," he conveyed to his brother, John Holman of Milton, in consideration of £5, all his interest in the house and lands of his father, Thomas Holman. In a deed of 21 Aug. 1729 "Thomas Holman of Rehoboth in ye County of Bristol . . . Cordwainer & Hannah his Wife w^{ch} Hannah was Daughter & Heir of Ralf Turner, late of Falmouth," in consideration of £70, conveyed 200 acres of land in Falmouth which had formerly belonged to the said Ralph Turner. In May 1728 he sold property in Rehoboth, acknowledging his signature to the deed on 27 Mar. 1729, and removed, probably soon afterwards, to Middletown, where according to a deed of 12 June 1735 he bought land on the east side of the Connecticut River. An abstract^o of his will follows.

The Will of THOMAS HOLMAN of Middletown, Hartford Co., Conn., 17 August 1749. To Hannah, my wife, one third part of all my estate during her life and also my household movables. To my son Thomas Holman, whom I ordain my only and sole executor of this my last will & testament, all and singular my lands and Tenements, by himself freely to be possessed, and also all my Cattle and Team tackling and husbandry tools, freely to enjoy after my and my wife's decease. To my daughter Abigail £10, to be paid within one year after my decease. To my daughter Hannah £10, to be paid within one year after my decease. To my Daughter Abigail and my daughter Hannah all my household movable estate after my and my wife's decease, to be equally divided between them. [Signed] Thomas Holman. [Seal] Witnesses: John Shephard, Thos. Rogers, Ebenezer Brown.

6. COL. JOHN³ HOLMAN (Thomas,² *John*¹), of Milton and Bridgewater, Mass., born at Milton 13 Mar. 1678/9, died at Bridgewater 26 May 1759. He married first, at Braintree, Mass., 18 Feb. 1705/6, ANN QUINCY, born at Braintree 1 June 1685, died at Milton 6 Oct. 1717, daughter of Daniel and Ann (Shepard); and secondly, in Boston, 3 Sept. 1719, SARAH FOWLER, who died at Bridgewater 26 Aug. 1740, aged 60.

He was graduated at Harvard College in the Class of 1700, and received the degree of Master of Arts in due course. In 1702 he taught school at Marlborough, Mass., the town in that year paying to him £7 "for teaching our children and youth in reading, writing, and casting accounts; and also in Latin, as occasion is, and in doing the duty of school-master, four months." * In addition to the property bequeathed to him by his father's will he acquired by deeds from others of the family title to more of his father's estate, and by deed dated 9 Mar. 1727/8 he conveyed the same to Gov. Jonathan Belcher. He removed with his family to Bridgewater, where he became a prominent man, representing the town for many years in the General Court and being highly respected by his fellow townsmen.

7. *SAMUEL*³ HOLMAN (Thomas,² *John*¹), of Milton and Edgartown, Mass., and of Windsor, Conn., tanner, born at Milton 27 June 1683, died at Windsor 13 Jan. 1728/9. He married at Hartford, Conn., 14 Jan. 1715/16, KATHERINE ROBERTS, who was probably baptized in the First Church, Hartford, in Apr. 1690, and who died at Windsor 29 May 1740, daughter of William and Dorothy (Forbes) of Hartford.

On 4 June 1703 twenty of the proprietors of Edgartown, on the island of Martha's Vineyard, describing themselves as "the major part of the owners, and holding the most, or greatest propriety in and to the common or undivided lands in Edgartown," thought it "meet and good for the advancement of the whole propriety to allot and grant a division out of the said lands unto Samuel Holman, tanner, a certain part thereof for the encouragement of using and improving his faculty in the trade (viz) a certain part or parcel of land being about eight or ten acres, more or less, bounded easterly by the highway, . . . which said land was formerly called the minister's lot, being first intended therefor, but now altered."* On 16 July 1703 Matthew Mayhew, as lord proprietor, conveyed to Samuel Holman by a deed this land granted to him by the proprietors, and on the same date, by another deed, he conveyed to Samuel Holman one acre of land, "part of the house lot" of the Worshipful Thomas Mayhew, Esq., deceased.† Five years later, on 9 June 1708, Samuel Holman conveyed to John Holman of Milton this property, described in the deed as a "tract of land in Edgartown . . . containing by estimation ten acres, . . . with all the houses . . . and buildings, . . . timber, . . . waters, . . . mines and minerals, . . . also a certain parcel of the bark, . . . with a set of tanner's tools and mill with all the fats and other materials which belong to a tanner."‡

* Edgartown Records, p. 70.

† Dukes Deeds, vol. 2, fo. 86.

‡ Ib., vol. 2, fo. 182. John Holman of Milton conveyed this property to Peter Webb, Jr., of Braintree, Mass., 10 Dec. 1710; but the following deed, dated 9 Dec. 1710, from Matthew Mayhew to John Holman was apparently necessary in order to enable the latter to convey to Peter Webb, Jr., a valid title to the whole property.

"Know all men by these presents that whereas Major Matthew Mayhew late of the Edgartown in Dukes County, Deceased did many years ago give and grant unto Samuel Holman of the town of Milton, about one acre of land being part of sd Mayhew's house lot in Edgartown for setting up of a tanners trade and the sd land being since conveyed by sd Samuel Holman to his brother John Holman; and whereas the northermost half (or thereabouts) of the bark house thus erected being set out without the bounds of sd acre upon the lands of sd Mayhew: Know ye therefore that I Matthew Mayhew of sd Edgartown Eldest son and heir of the sd Majr Mayhew: have . . . granted . . . unto the sd John Holman . . . so much of the land as sd house encompasseth without the sd bounds of sd acre, together with four feet round the sd northeastermost side of sd barn for passing round the same." (Ib., vol. 2, fo. 302.)

Samuel Holman then established his business at Windsor, Conn., where he resided during the remainder of his life. On 6 Feb. 1726/7, as Samuel Holman of Windsor, tanner, he conveyed to his brother John Holman of Milton, Gent., all interest "both real & personal which doth or shall of right belong or Accrue to me by the Death of my brother Ebenezer Holman late of Boston . . . Carpenter deced upon a Just partition & Division of the Same."* An abstract of Samuel Holman's will follows.

The Will of SAM^{LL} HOLMAN of Windsor, Hartford Co., 1 January 1728 [1728/9]. To my wife Catharine Holman her right and dowry according to law. My executors shall have free liberty to dispose of my housing and lands if they think it most advantageous, and to use the money or effects that the housing and lands produced for the benefit of my two sons, Sam^{ll} and Ebenezer Holman, until they arrive at the age of twenty-one years, and then they shall be equally divided between them; and in case the executors do not dispose of sd. housing and lands, then my two sons shall have them, to be equally divided between them at the age of twenty-one years. My son Sam^{ll} Holman shall have a certain cane which was his Grandfather Holman's, when he shall arrive at the age aforesd. • To my daughter Abigail Holman, at the age of eighteen years, all my movable estate; and, in case there be not enough to make equal with my two sons, my two sons shall pay proportionably so much until she be equal with them. In case either of my sons die before the age of twenty-one years, then the surviving son is to possess his brother's part of my estate. Sam^{ll} Haydon of Windsor and my wife Catharine Holman shall be my executors and overseers and guardian to my children. [Signed] Sam^{ll} Holman. Witnesses: Nathan Gillet 2d, John Allin, Hannah Shelding. Proved 4 March 1728/9.

The inventory of the estate of Samuel Holman of Windsor, taken 27 Feb. 1728/9, showed a valuation of £219. 3s. 10d. The inventory of the estate of Katherine Holman, widow of Samuel, taken 30 June 1740, showed property appraised at £76. 9s. 6d. On 5 June 1750 an inventory of her estate was exhibited in court by Benjamin Roberts, administrator, and was accepted. On 3 June 1740, soon after his mother's death, Samuel Holman, a minor nineteen years of age, chose Benjamin Roberts as his guardian, and the Court appointed Benjamin Roberts of Hartford as guardian of Ebenezer Holman, a minor thirteen years of age.†

RICHARD SEYMOUR OF HARTFORD AND NORWALK, CONN., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

Communicated by SEYMOUR MORRIS of Chicago, Ill.

1. RICHARD¹ SEAMER, the first of the Seymour name in this country, was baptized at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, England, 27 Jan. 1604/5, the son of Robert and Elizabeth (Waller) and the grandson of John and Dyzory (Porter),* and died at Norwalk, Conn., between 29 July 1655, the date of his will, and 10 Oct. 1655, the date of the inventory of his estate. He married at Sawbridgeworth, 18 Apr. 1631, MERCY RUSCOE, born about 1610, daughter of Roger and Sarah of Sawbridgeworth. She married secondly, 25 Nov. 1655, as his second wife, John Steele of Farmington, Conn., who died there 27 Feb. 1664/5.

Richard Seymour came to Hartford, Conn., in 1639, where he appears as a proprietor, and he was also one of the settlers who received land "by the courtesie of the town." His home lot was on the east side of the road to the Cow Pasture (North Main Street), and was bounded on the north by the Cow Pasture itself. He was chosen chimney viewer at Hartford in 1647. He was one of the signers of the agreement for the planting of Norwalk, Conn., 19 June 1650, removed to that place soon afterwards, and became one of its first settlers, being chosen a townsman or selectman in 1655. His will, dated 29 July and proved 25 Oct. 1655, names wife Mercy, eldest son Thomas, and "other three sons," John, Zachary, and Richard, who were under age.†

Children:

2. i. THOMAS,² bapt. at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, Eng., 15 July 1632.
 - ii. MARY, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, Eng., 9 Jan. 1634/5; bur. there 3 Apr. 1635.
 - iii. MERCY, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, Eng., 8 July 1636; no further record of her has been found.
 3. iv. JOHN, b. probably at Hartford, Conn.
 4. v. ZACHARIAH, b. at Hartford, Conn., abt. 1642.
 5. vi. RICHARD, b. at Hartford, Conn.
2. THOMAS² SEYMOUR (*Richard*¹), of Norwalk, Conn., baptized at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, England, 15 July 1632, died at Norwalk, Conn., between 22 Sept. 1712, the date of his will, and 15 Oct. 1712, when the inventory of his estate was taken. He married first, at Norwalk, 5 Jan. 1653/4, HANNAH MARVIN, born in co. Essex, England, about Oct. 1634, living in 1680, daughter of Matthew¹ and Elizabeth; and secondly ELIZABETH ———.

He was brought to New England by his parents about 1638-9, when he was about six years old, lived with them at Hartford, Conn., until about 1651, and then removed with them to Norwalk. As his mother remarried very soon after his father's death in 1655 and removed with her younger children to Farmington, Conn., and as he was the only one of the children who was of age at that time, he succeeded to his father's lands in Norwalk, and lived there until his death.* He was freeman in 1668, one of the patentees in 1686, and a deputy from Norwalk to the Connecticut General Court in 1690.

In his will, dated 22 Sept. and proved 7 Nov. 1712, he describes himself as "very Sick and Weak," bequeaths to his wife Elizabeth the use and improvement, during her widowhood, of his house, barn, one half of the orchard, and the west end of his home lot, together with meadow land and necessary household goods, and gives also to her the estate that she brought with her, his new Bible, and "one paire of Curtains that She made Since her Living with me." To his son John he gives the use and improvement of the other half of the orchard during his wife's widowhood. Upon the death or remarriage of his wife his house, barn, home lot, and orchard are to go to his grandson Thomas Seamer. To his sons Matthew and John he devises the rest of his lands, and they are to pay £4 "in provision pay" to each of his surviving daughters, except his daughter Elizabeth Knap, who is to receive 20s. The will was witnessed by James Betts, Sr., and John Copp. The inventory of his estate, taken 15 Oct. 1712 by John Raymond and Samuel Smith, showed property appraised at £351. 5s.†

3. JOHN² SEYMOUR (*Richard*¹), of Hartford, Conn., born probably at Hartford, died there between 10 Dec. 1712 and 3 Aug. 1713. He married MARY² WATSON, who was living 10 Dec. 1712, daughter of John¹ and Margaret (Smith) of Hartford.

He was made a freeman in 1667, and was an active and influential man. In 1670 he and his wife owned the covenant at the Second Church in Hartford, and on 31 Mar. 1678 they were admitted to full communion.

In his will, dated 10 Dec. 1712 and proved 3 Aug. 1713, he bequeaths to his wife Mary one third of his movable estate for her disposal, and the remainder, together with his house, barn, orchard, three acres of land, etc., he leaves to her for her improvement. To his son John he gives twelve acres, with dwelling house thereon, lying south of Robert Webster's land, and also other lands. To his son Thomas he gives land on the west side of the Farmington road, being south of the land given to his son John, with dwelling house and barn, and also other lands. To his son Richard he gives the land where he [Richard] now dwelleth, with buildings thereon, five acres, and £20 to be paid equally by his three sons, John, Thomas, and Zachariah. To his son Zachariah he gives three acres, with his [the testator's] dwelling house, barn, etc., after the decease of his wife, and also other lands; and Zachariah is to pay to the testator's two daughters £20 each. To his daughter Mary North he bequeaths £30, of which his son Zachariah is to pay £20 and the rest is to be paid-out of the movable estate after his wife's decease. To his daughter Margaret Root he bequeaths £30. The inventory, taken by James Ensign and Thomas Richards, shows property valued at £1158. 14s. 1d., a large estate for that time.

John² (Robert¹) and Lydia (Cole). He was one of the original proprietors of Canaan, whither he removed about 1740, and was made lieutenant of the military company of that town, 25 Sept. 1740. His widow may have been the Widow Seymour who was buried in the Center Church Burying Ground at Hartford, 31 Jan. 1766, being interred at the expense of Thomas Seymour, Esq.* No record of any children has been found.
- vii. JONATHAN, b. 10 Jan. 1678/9; d. young.
- viii. NATHANIEL, b. 6 Nov. 1680; d. young.
10. ix. ZACHARIAH, b. 10 Jan. 1684/5.

4. *ZACHARIAH*² SEYMOUR (*Richard*¹), of Wethersfield, Conn., born at Hartford, Conn., about 1642, died at Wethersfield in Aug. 1702, aged about 60 years. He married at Wethersfield, 9 Feb. 1687/8, MARY GRITT, who survived him and married secondly Joseph Hollister.

After the death of his father in 1655 Zachariah Seymour evidently removed to Farmington, Conn., with his mother, and appears as a freeman there in 1669. Later he settled at Wethersfield, where he married at the age of about 45.

In his will, dated 14 Apr. and proved 11 Nov. 1702, he bequeaths to his wife one third of his housing and land in Wethersfield; and she is to have one room in his dwelling house as part of her third as long as she remains his widow, and is then to receive a reasonable rent for her part of the house. To his four daughters he gives, in equal shares, all his estate after the decease of his wife; and they are to receive two thirds of their shares as they severally come of age. He chooses his "loving brethren," John Seymour, Sr., of Hartford and Richard Seymour of Farmington, to be overseers, with John Seymour, Jr., and Thomas Seymour of Hartford. The final division of his estate was made 3 May 1714 between his widow, his daughter Mary, wife of Henry Grimes, his daughter Elizabeth, wife of Gideon Belding, and his daughters Abigail and Ruth Seymour. On 5 Apr. 1714 the daughter Ruth, aged 15 years, had chosen Josiah Church-ill of Wethersfield as her guardian.

5. *CAPT. RICHARD*² SEYMOUR (*Richard*¹), of Farmington, Conn., born at Hartford, Conn., died at Farmington prior to 29 Nov. 1710, being killed by the fall of a tree, and was buried on a portion of his own land which was afterwards used as a burial place. He married *HANNAH*² WOODRUFF, born about 1648, died at Farmington 16 Sept. 1712, daughter of *Matthew*¹ and Hannah of Farmington.

He was a freeman at Farmington in 1669 and one of the eighty-four proprietors of that town in 1672. His wife appears in a list of church members at Farmington, dated 1 Mar. 1679/80, and Richard became a member of the same church on 31 May 1685. He settled in that part of Farmington called Kensington (now the town of Berlin), and became a leader in the settlement. There the Seymour fort was built, within which were the cabins where the inhabitants sought refuge at night during the Indian alarms, Richard Seymour being the captain of the garrison. The well in front of the fort still remains.

The inventory of his estate, taken 29 Nov. 1710 by Thomas Seymour, Thomas Hart, and Thomas Curtis, showed property valued at £416. 13s. 3d. Administration on the estate was granted 4 Dec. 1710 to Hannah Seymour, the widow, and to Samuel Seymour, a son of the deceased. An agreement was made 1 Jan. 1710/11 between Hannah Seymour, the widow, sons Samuel, Jonathan, and Ebenezer Seymour, daughter Mercy Seymour, and Joseph Pomeroy in behalf of his wife Hannah, another daughter of the deceased. After the death of Hannah, the widow, a division of her estate was made 7 Nov. 1712, and was signed by Samuel Seymour, Ebenezer Seymour, Jonathan Seymour, Joseph Pomeroy, and George Hubbard.

6. CAPT. MATTHEW³ SEYMOUR (Thomas,² *Richard*¹), of Norwalk, Conn., born at Norwalk in May 1669, died there about 1735. He married first SARAH HAYES, born at Norwalk 19 Sept. 1673, living in Feb. 1712, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Moore); and secondly CATHERINE ———.

Matthew Seymour was a selectman of Norwalk for several years and deputy to the General Court from Norwalk in 1712 and 1713. He was made lieutenant in 1710, and was chosen captain of the North Company in Norwalk, 26 May 1729. In his will, dated 4 Jan. 1734/5 and proved 6 Jan. 1735/6, he names wife Catherine, sons Matthew, Samuel, Thomas, and Jehiel, youngest son Daniel (who is under age and is to have the whole of the house after the decease of Catherine, his mother), and daughters Hannah St. John, Elizabeth Bouton, Ruth Smith, Sarah Bouton, Catherine, and Susanna. He directs that some of the estate and "also my Negro man Bristoll" be sold. He appoints his wife Catherine and his brother John Seymour as executors. The amount of the inventory was £436. 5s. 1d.

* "On the same day that his child was born, the father, viz: Richard Seymour, went early into the woods to look for horses, 5, 6 or 7 miles off; found and followed one homeward: — but like to have perished ere he reached home.

"He was so feeble that he remembreth [nothing after coming down the last mountain by sight, and memory and strength in a manner] gone; — but God who leadeth the blind in a way that they know not, directed him to John Norton, Jun., who was thrashing in his barn, who took him in and put him to bed, — called friends about him, who were diligent in the use of means for his recovery, after some time spent betwixt hope and fear, as not knowing whether he would die or live; — He lying in a sad manner, grating his teeth [and round in his hand that pleased God he exhibited and came to rights again.]

"The day in which this fell out was January 6, 1682, — a snowy Saturday, — especially the latter part of it. Had the man not been directed home, in likelihood he had perished in the wilderness, and perhaps have been so far covered with snow as not to have been found 'till wild fowls or beasts had preyed on him." (Church Records of Farmington, in REGISTER, vol. 12, pp. 38, 147.)

 18. xi. DANIEL.
7. JOHN³ SEYMOUR (Thomas,² *Richard*¹), of Norwalk, Conn., born at Norwalk, died there in the summer of 1746. He married first SARAH² GREGORY, born at Norwalk 15 Sept. 1678, daughter of Jachin² (John¹); and secondly HANNAH ———.† In his will, dated 28 Apr. 1746, with two codicils dated 5 May and 26 May 1746, and proved 5 Aug. 1746, he names wife Hannah and son John Seymour of Norwalk (who are appointed executors), daughter Mary Hanford and her husband Thomas, to whom is given land bordering on land formerly belonging to the testator's brother Matthew, "other four" daughters, viz., Sarah Trowbridge, Abigail Selleck,

* The baptism of this child is recorded in the church records of Fairfield, Conn.

† In the absence of dates it is probable that Catherine and Susanna and possibly Sarah were children of the second wife, Catherine.

‡ She was probably Hannah Gould, widow, and had by her former husband a daughter Hannah, who married James Hoyt of Norwalk. James Hoyt gave a receipt dated 20 Feb. 1732/3, to Hannah Saymore, the mother and guardian of his wife Hannah.

Rebecca Bouton, and Martha Jarvis, and grandsons John Seymour (under twenty-one) and Munson Jarvis, son of Samuel and Martha Jarvis. The amount of the inventory, £4797. 10s., shows an unusually large estate.

John¹ and Agnes.

John Seymour was a large landholder in Hartford, Litchfield, and New Hartford, Conn., and by his will, dated Sept.

1747 and proved 6 June 1748, he divided his lands among his sons, John, Jr., Timothy, Daniel, Jonathan, Nathaniel, Zebulon, Moses, and Richard. He also provided for his wife, Elizabeth, and directed that his three daughters, Elizabeth, Susanna Pomeroy, and Margaret Catlin, should have £30 each. In his will he mentions half of the lot he had purchased of his brother, Thomas Seymour deceased, and also his share of land in Hartford, as yet common and undivided, which he held with Elisha Smith and wife Ruth in her right, daughter of his said brother, Thomas Seymour. He appointed his three eldest sons, John, Jr., Timothy, and Daniel Seymour, as his executors.

9. CAPT. THOMAS³ SEYMOUR (John,² *Richard*¹), of Hartford, Conn., born at Hartford 12 Mar. 1668/3, died there 30 Aug. 1740. He married first, 19 Feb. 1700, RUTH³ NORTON (John,² John¹), born about 1675, died at Hartford 19 July 1710, daughter of John² and Ruth (Moore) of Farmington, Conn.; and secondly, at Hartford, 21 June 1711, MARY WATERS, who died 18 Apr. 1746, in her 69th year, daughter of Bevil of Hartford.

Capt. Thomas Seymour was one of the prominent men of his day in Hartford. Besides holding various town offices, he was a deputy from Hartford to the General Court, 1719-1728, and was chosen ensign of the South Side military company at Hartford in April or May 1713, lieutenant of the same company 24 Nov. 1720, and captain 12 Oct. 1725. He owned large tracts of land in Hartford, Wethersfield, Waterbury, and elsewhere in Connecticut, which by his will, dated 4 May 1738 but not signed,* he gave to his two sons, Thomas and Bevil, directing that certain of these lands should descend to their eldest male heirs in a right line forever to the end of the world, without liberty to sell or to alter the property thereof. In his will he also named his daughter Mary, who had already received property from her father, his daughter Ruth Seymour, to whom he gave certain lands, part of which lay in common with his brother John Seymour, and his three youngest daughters, Sarah, Alice, and Jerusha, who were to receive his house and homestead in equal proportions, reserving to his wife the use of the north room and northwest cellar during her life. His negro man named Sias he bequeathed to son Thomas, who was also to have the rest of the movable estate, "for redeeming of his land mortgaged to the Country on account of the New London Society."

Samuel Seymour lived at Kensington Parish, Farmington. He owned the covenant in the Farmington church, 11 May 1707; and he and his wife were among the ten original members of the Kensington church, which was formed 10 Dec. 1712. Administration on the estate of Samuel Seymour, late of Farmington, was granted 1 Aug. 1749 to Isaac North of Wethersfield, Conn., who gave bonds with James North of Farmington. A division of the estate was made 17 Jan. 1749/50 between Hannah Seymour, the widow, the heirs of Samuel Seymour, Hannah wife of Allen Goodrich, Mary wife of Dea. Anthony Judd, Rebecca wife of Elisha Goodrich, Mercy wife of Uriah Judd, Sarah wife of James North, and Ruth wife of Phineas Judd.

12. *EBENEZER*³ SEYMOUR (Richard,² *Richard*¹), baptized at Farmington, Conn., 1 Feb. 1684/5, died before Sept. 1733, when his widow, Abigail Seymour, appears in a deed. He married at Farmington, 29 Dec. 1709, *ABIGAIL*³ HOLLISTER, born at Wethersfield, Conn., 16 Aug. 1688, daughter of Capt. Stephen² (John¹) and Abigail (Treat).

Ebenezer Seymour settled in Kensington Parish, Farmington, and in a deed dated 1 Feb. 1723/4 is described as formerly of Farmington and now living on a "peculiar" (later called Meriden) between Wallingford and Farmington. Still later Ebenezer is described as of Pilgrim's Harbor, which is now known as West Meriden, Conn. After his death his widow Abigail apparently returned to Kensington Parish.

13. JONATHAN³ SEYMOUR (Richard,² *Richard*¹), of Farmington, Conn., baptized at Farmington 17 Apr. 1687, died before 5 Oct. 1725, when administration was granted on his estate. He married, 23 Dec. 1714, EUNICE³ HOLLISTER, born at Wethersfield, Conn., about 1696, daughter of Capt. Stephen² (John¹) and Abigail (Treat) and sister of Abigail, wife of his brother Ebenezer Seymour (12). Eunice (Hollister) Seymour married secondly, 13 Jan. 1726, William Chitistor [i.e., Chichester] of Wallingford, Conn.

Administration on the estate of Jonathan Seymour was granted 5 Oct. 1725 to his widow, Eunice Seymour, and to Mr. Ebenezer Gilbert, and said Eunice was appointed guardian of the children, viz., "Eliakim, 4 months old, Eunice, 10 years, Martha, 5 years [sic], Jerusha, 5 [sic], and Lois, 1 year and 7 months." * Soon after the second marriage of Eunice, widow of Ebenezer Seymour, his brother and sisters petitioned the Court that some other persons be appointed guardians of the children, because the said Eunice "is now married to one Wm. Chitester, a poor shiftless man, and the children are in a suffering condition, not likely to be provided for." * Robert Booth of Farmington was therefore appointed guardian of Eunice, Jerusha, and Lois, and George Hubbard of Middletown, Conn., who had married their aunt, Mercy Seymour (5, iii), was appointed guardian of Martha and Eliakim, children of the deceased.

BOWDITCH

Contributed by G. ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR., A.M., LL.B., Captain, U. S. N. A., of Newport, R. I., and communicated by the Committee on English Research

THE statement has been repeatedly made in print and has been generally accepted as correct that the William Bowditch who was at Salem, Mass., in 1639 was the father of the William Bowditch who died there in 1681, the latter being a customs official at Salem and the ancestor of the well-known Bowditch family of Salem and Boston, one of whose illustrious members was Nathaniel Bowditch, the famous mathematician and astronomer.* It is the purpose of this article first to show that these two Williams were not father and son and secondly to present English records that reveal the true ancestry and the English home of the William Bowditch who died in 1681.†

* Cf. Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, vol. 1, p. 220, American Ancestry, vol. 4, p. 95, REGISTER, vol. 50, p. 437, and Essex Antiquarian, vol. 10, p. 55.

† The contributor wishes to acknowledge the help that he has received in preparing this article from Charles Pickering Bowditch, A.M., of Boston, Harold Bowditch, A.B., M.D., of Brookline, Henry Wyckoff Belknap of Salem, and J. Gardner Bartlett of Boston, Mass., all of whom have given valuable aid and suggestions. The researches in England were made by J. R. Hutchinson of London.

The first William Bowditch, according to Savage, probably came from co. Devon, England, as the family name is there of frequent occurrence, but no evidence establishing his English home and connections has thus far been found. He was admitted as an inhabitant of Salem 20, 9 mo. [20 Nov.] 1639, and on 23, 11 mo. 1642 [23 Jan. 1642/3] received a grant of ten acres of land there. His wife Sarah was admitted to the Salem church on 10, 3 mo. [10 May] 1640, and on 4, 6 mo. [4 Aug.] 1646 was admonished by the Quarterly Court at Salem "for offensive withdrawing from y^e ordinance of Baptizing of Infants," having, it is evident, become a Baptist.* Previous to this, on 12, 12 mo. 1642 [12 Feb. 1642/3], their son Nathaniel had been baptized in the First Church, Salem.† On 13, 8 mo. [13 Oct.] 1649 "Goodman" Bowditch received another grant of land, thirty acres, at Salem, but after 1649 his name does not appear in the Salem records for upwards of twenty years. Rev. Obadiah Holmes, however, mentions in his writings that he baptized "Goodwife Bowditch," and in 1651 Hugh Peter, writing to John Winthrop, Jr., at Pequot, Conn., asks him to entertain Goodwife Bowditch and her husband if they go thither. These records show that William Bowditch and his wife contemplated removing from Salem, beyond all doubt because of the persecution which his wife must have suffered as a Baptist. They may have removed to Newport, R. I., but the Rhode Island records make no allusion to them. At all events, they disappear from Salem in or about 1650 and never appear again as residents there. But on 9 Dec. 1673 it was ordered at Salem that the layers out of land lay out and bound the lot formerly granted to William Bowdish according to the town's grant, and on 12 Oct. 1674, only about ten months later, Nathaniel Bowdish of Newport, R. I., sold to John Pudney thirty acres of land at Salem Commons. It seems clear that this was the land granted to William Bowditch on 13 Oct. 1649, and the fact that Nathaniel alone sells the entire tract indicates that he was the sole heir of his father. It should also be noted that this William Bowditch, father of Nathaniel, appears in the records as "Bowdish," not "Bowditch," that the form "Bowdish" was used by his son Nathaniel of Newport and has persisted among his descendants, the Bowdishes of Dartmouth, Mass., and of the Narragansett country, and that at the present time there are Bowdishes living at Providence, R. I. It is evident, therefore, that William Bowditch or Bowdish and his wife Sarah lived at Salem from 1639 until about 1650, that this William left Salem probably soon after the grant of thirty acres was made to him in 1649 and before it was laid out, and that his son Nathaniel, undoubtedly his only son and heir, the ancestor of the Bowdishes of Bristol Co., Mass., and of Rhode Island, sold this land in 1674. No evidence has been found that any land belonging to William Bowditch, the father of Nathaniel, ever belonged subsequently to the William Bowditch of Salem who died in 1681, nor has anything else been found to connect the two men beyond the fact that they both lived at Salem.

Passing now to a consideration of the ancestry of the William Bowditch who died at Salem in 1681, it is possible to add to the negative evidence on this question given in the preceding paragraph the positive evidence supplied by various English records that reveal with absolute certainty his English origin and home. A few years ago the lost records of the British High Court of Admiralty for the seventeenth century were discovered in the Public Record Office in London, and among these papers Mr. J. R. Hutchinson found a deposition, dated 14 July 1699, of Capt. William Bowditch, only son of the William Bowditch who died in 1681, in which he calls himself of Salem in New England, and states that he has lived there for twenty years, that he was born at Lyme-Regis, co. Dorset, and that he is thirty-four years old. This deposition furnished the starting point for further investigations in England, which brought to light the will of William Bowditch, father of the deponent of 1699, dated 31 Mar. 1671 but not proved until 6 Nov. 1705. It was drawn up before the departure of the testator for New England, while he was still a resident of Thorncombe, now in co. Dorset but formerly a part of co. Devon, England. The wills also of other members and connections of this family were found, and, with the help of these wills and of parish registers, especially those of Thorncombe, the ancestry of the Bowditch family of Salem and Boston has been traced back to John Bowditch of Thorncombe, who was buried there 17 May 1563 and was the great-great-grandfather of the William Bowditch who died at Salem in 1681. Below are given abstracts of wills relating to this family, numerous Bowditch entries from English parish registers, and the deposition of Capt. William Bowditch of 14 July 1699; and these records are followed by a pedigree in which the English ancestry of the Bowditches of Salem and Boston is presented in the usual genealogical form.

Bond for the due administration of the goods of Michael Bowditch, late of Broadwinsor, deceased, dated 3 May 1693 and given by Anne Bowditch of

* Probably the George Gibbs who was called "my kinsman" by William Bowditch in his will of 1671, his name and designation having been scratched out by the testator.

Broadwinsor, widow (relict of the deceased), John Cheeke of the same, yeoman, and William Paull of the same, yeoman. [Seal of Anne Bowditch, a lion rampant.] (Consistory Court of Bristol [at Blandford, co. Dorset], 1693.)

The Will of GEORGE GIBBS of Clist St. George, co. Devon, 18 July 1721. To Francis Pease, minister of this parish, all my goods and chattels. My lands in Clist St. Mary (part of the Manor of Ashmore) to the same Francis Pease, in trust, as follows: To poor laborers of Clist St. Mary eight loaves of bread every Christmas Day, Easter, and Whitsunday, and the like number of loaves the first Sunday in May, to be continued yearly for ever — six-penny loaves each. Among the poor of Clist St. George sixteen loaves at the same times for ever. Amongst six poor boys six hats every second year. Four poor children shall be kept to reading school, and each shall have a Bible at going off. If a lad happen to be sent to either university from this parish, £4 per annum shall be paid him for four years. All who partake of this shall be children of such as are in communion with the Church of England. For a charity sermon the first Sunday in May for ever 10s. To my sister Brimley £100 due to me from her husband. I desire to be buried private, without pomp or noise. I make my friend and minister Francis Pease sole executor, as I fully resolved to do these many years, giving him full possession of my lands during his life; and for the rest I refer to a conveyance lately assigned to him by me. Witnesses: Selvester Suppitch, Richard Humphrey, Walter Wood. Proved 11 October 1723 by the executor. (Archdeaconry Court of Exeter [at Exeter, co. Devon].)

 1563 Thomas Golloppe and Margery Bowditch 27 November.

* The marriages recorded in the Thorncombe registers, from 1552 to the end of 1812, have been printed in Phillimore's Dorset Parish Registers, Marriages, vol. 2, pp. 113-158. In the printed book the surname Bowditch appears sometimes in other forms, such as Bowdich, Bowdidge, and Bowridge, and slight variations are found in the spelling of other surnames and in a few Christian names. In this article the copyist has in most cases used the standard spelling of the family surname, Bowditch.

[From the foregoing English and from various New England records the following pedigree, showing the descent of the Bowditch family of Salem and Boston from John Bowditch of Thorncombe, co. Devon, England, has been compiled:

1. JOHN¹ BOWDITCH, of Thorncombe, now in co. Dorset but formerly included in co. Devon, England, the testator of 1563, was born probably about 1515, and was buried at Thorncombe 17 May 1563. He married, about 1539, MARGERY ———, who survived him and, as his widow, proved his will 11 Oct. 1568. It is not unlikely that he was a member of the ancient and gentle family of Bowdich of Chardstock, a neighboring parish in Dorset, about eight miles from Thorncombe, whose pedigree for sixteen generations is entered in the Visitation of Dorsetshire for 1623;† and further research might bring to light the exact connection between John Bowditch of Thorncombe and the Chardstock family.

Children:

- i. JOHN,² b. abt. 1540.
 - ii. NICHOLAS, b. abt. 1542; probably the Nicholas Bowditch who was bur. at Thorncombe 14 May 1611. Probable children: Nicholas,³ bapt. at Thorncombe 12 Sept. 1567. Several who cannot be distinguished in the parish registers from others of the same surname. John, bapt. at Thorncombe 19 Aug. 1582. William, bapt. at Thorncombe 25 Apr. 1585.
 2. iii. ROBERT, b. abt. 1544.
 - iv. AGNES, b. abt. 1546; living unm., but probably contracted in marriage, in 1563.
 - v. GRACE, b. abt. 1549; m. at Thorncombe, 14 Oct. 1575, GEORGE LUMBARD.
 3. vi. GEORGE, bapt. at Thorncombe 7 Sept. 1552.
2. ROBERT² BOWDITCH (*John*¹), born about 1544, was probably the Robert Bowditch who was buried at Thorncombe, co. Devon, 10 July 1609. He married, about 1566, MARGARET ———, who was buried at Thorncombe 18 Apr. 1585.

* This signature and that on the bond of 6 Nov. 1705 (vide supra, p. 227) are in the same handwriting as that found in New England documents signed by William Bowditch, son of the William Bowditch who died at Salem in 1681.

† Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. 20.

Probable children:

- i. ROBERT,³ of Thorncombe, the testator of 1627/8, bapt. at Thorncombe 23 May 1567; bur. there 12 Mar. 1627/8; m. (1) at Thorncombe, 27 Sept. 1590, JOHAN CLEVE; m. (2) at Thorncombe, 13 Aug. 1597, JOHAN HAMLYN, who proved her husband's will 16 Apr. 1628 and was probably the Joan Bowditch who was bur. at Thorncombe 10 June 1634. Child by first wife: 1. Stephen,⁴ bapt. at Thorncombe 24 May 1593; d. young. Children by second wife: 2. Johan, bapt. at Thorncombe 2 Feb. 1597/8. 3. William, b. abt. 1601 (baptism not recorded). 4. George, bapt. at Thorncombe 15 Jan. 1603/4. 5. John, bapt. at Thorncombe 22 Apr. 1607.
 - ii. WILLIAM, bapt. at Thorncombe 15 Feb. 1577/8.
 - iii. THOMAS, bapt. at Thorncombe in Sept. 1583.
Several who cannot be distinguished in the parish registers from others of the same surname, probably younger than Robert (i) and older than William (ii).
3. GEORGE² BOWDITCH (*John*¹), of Thorncombe, co. Devon, baptized at Thorncombe 7 Sept. 1552, was buried there 8 June 1591. He married —, who survived him and was living 20 Apr. 1637, the date of the will of her son Michael.
Children, baptized at Thorncombe:
4. i. MICHAEL,³ bapt. 24 Dec. 1583.
 - ii. MAGDALEN, bapt. 20 Sept. 1589; m. at Thorncombe, 14 Oct. 1617, NICHOLAS FOWLER.
4. MICHAEL³ BOWDITCH (George,² *John*¹), of Thorncombe, co. Devon, tailor, the testator of 1637, baptized at Thorncombe 24 Dec. 1583, was probably the Michael Bowditch who was buried at Thorncombe 5 Mar. 1644/5. He married, about 1612, KATHERINE —, who was buried at Thorncombe 6 Aug. 1643.
Children, baptized at Thorncombe:
5. i. WILLIAM,⁴ bapt. 24 Oct. 1613.
 - ii. KATHERINE, the testatrix (as Katherine Silvester, widow) of 1691, bapt. 26 Dec. 1615; d. s.p. between 3 Nov. 1691, the date of her will, and 28 May 1694, when her will was proved; m. THOMAS SILVESTER of Thorncombe, clothier, who d. not later than 23 Mar. 1685/6, when the inventory of his estate was taken. In her will, which is of the utmost importance in tracing the history of this Bowditch family, she mentions her brother John Bowditch (4, iii), her cousin [i.e., niece] Joan Bowditch, wife of Michael Bowditch, Jr. [her nephew] (5, iv), Joill [Joel], Katherine, William, and Hannah Bowditch, "being all the children [then living] of the said Michael Bowditch" (5, iv), her cousin Persilla [Priscilla] Bowditch, daughter of her brother John Bowditch (4, iii), and other relatives named Crow, whose exact relationship to the testatrix has not been traced. The will was witnessed by John Bragge, who was the husband of a niece of the testatrix, Dorcas Bowditch (5, vi), and by Robert Bowditch, whose relationship to the testatrix is uncertain.
 - iii. JOHN, of Thorncombe, bapt.⁴ 4 Feb. 1617/18; living 3 Nov. 1691, when he was mentioned in the will of his sister Katherine Silvester; probably the John Bowditch who was bur. at Thorncombe 18 Dec. 1693; m. abt. 1651 MARGARET —, * who was bur. at Thorncombe 22 Aug. 1679. Children, recorded at Thorncombe: 1. Priscilla,⁵ bapt. 8 Feb. 1652/3; living unm. 3 Nov. 1691, when she was mentioned in the will of her aunt, Katherine Silvester. 2. John, b. 22 May 1655. 3. Joan, bapt. 12 Apr. 1657; bur. at Thorncombe 2 May 1658. 4. Michael, bapt. 2 Mar. 1658/9.

* According to the Thorncombe marriages as printed in Phillimore's Dorset Parish Registers, Marriages, vol. 2, p. 125, John Bowditch and Margaret Paul were married 20 May 1652. — EDITOR.

5. Thomas, bapt. 13 Jan. 1660/1; d. young. 6. Samuel, bapt. 24 Feb. 1662/3; bur. at Thorncombe 19 Mar. 1663/4. 7. Samuel, bapt. 6 Jan. 1664/5. 8. Thomas, bapt. 23 Apr. 1667. 9. William, bapt. 9 Mar. 1671/2; bur. at Thorncombe 20 May 1673.
- iv. MICHAEL, of Thorncombe, bapt. 15 July 1621; bur. at Thorncombe 13 Oct. 1692; m. at Thorncombe, 4 Dec. 1655, ANN PINSON, who survived him and was living as his widow 6 May 1693, when she was called of Broadwinsor [co. Dorset]. He probably lived in his last years at Broadwinsor, as on 2 Nov. 1692 an inventory was taken of the goods of Michael Bowditch, who deceased 14 [sic] Oct. in the parish of Broadwinsor, the goods being valued at £40. His widow, Anne Bowditch of Broadwinsor, was appointed administratrix of his estate, 3 May 1693. Children, recorded at Thorncombe: 1. James,⁵ b. 15 Sept. 1656 (bapt. 22 Oct. 1656). 2. Anne, bapt. 28 Dec. 1658. 3. Joan, bapt. 5 Nov. 1662. 4. Elizabeth, bapt. 4 Nov. 1665.

5. WILLIAM⁴ BOWDITCH (Michael,³ George,² *John*¹), baptized at Thorncombe, co. Devon, 24 Oct. 1613, was probably the man who, as "William Bowridge," was buried there 16 Jan. 1680/1. He married first —; secondly, at Thorncombe, 22 Jan. 1639/40, JOAN ACKLON, who was buried at Thorncombe 22 Apr. 1674; and probably thirdly, at Thorncombe, 16 Apr. 1677, SARAH HEARTFIELD.

Child by first wife:

6. i. WILLIAM,⁵ bapt. at Thorncombe 26 Dec. 1639.

Children by second wife:

- ii. GEORGE, b. probably in 1641 (baptism not recorded); bur. at Thorncombe 10 Mar. 1647/8.
- iii. JOAN, bapt. at Thorncombe 27 Aug. 1643; bur. there 29 Aug. 1650.
- iv. MICHAEL, bapt. at Thorncombe 25 Mar. 1645; living 3 Nov. 1691, when he was called Michael Bowditch, Jr., in the will of his aunt, Katherine Silvester, probably to distinguish him from his uncle, Michael Bowditch (4, iv); m. at Thorncombe, 14 May 1672, JOAN SEALWOOD, also mentioned in Katherine Silvester's will as living 3 Nov. 1691. Children: 1. Hannah,⁶ bur. at Thorncombe 13 Feb. 1680/1. 2. William, bapt. at Thorncombe 4 May 1680; bur. there 21 Nov. 1680. 3. Joill [Joel], living 3 Nov. 1691, when he was mentioned in the will of his great-aunt, Katherine Silvester. 4. Katherine, living 3 Nov. 1691, when she was mentioned in Katherine Silvester's will. 5. William, probably the William who was bapt. at Thorncombe 11 May 1684 as s. of Michael Bowditch of Crewkorn [Crewkerne, co. Somerset]; living 3 Nov. 1691, when he was mentioned in Katherine Silvester's will. 6. Hannah, mentioned in Katherine Silvester's will as living 3 Nov. 1691.
- v. DANIEL, bapt. at Thorncombe 1 Jan. 1646/7; living 31 Mar. 1671, when he was made a supervisor in the will of his brother William.
- vi. DORCAS, b. at Thorncombe 15 Aug. 1655; m. there, 17 Nov. 1680, JOHN BRAGGE, who was a witness to the will of his wife's aunt, Katherine Silvester, 3 Nov. 1691.

6. WILLIAM⁵ BOWDITCH (William,⁴ Michael,³ George,² *John*¹), of Thorncombe, co. Devon, clothier, and of Salem, Mass., the testator of 1671, baptized at Thorncombe 26 Dec. 1639,* died at Salem shortly before 12 Oct. 1681, the records of the General Court held at Boston on that date stating that "Mr Willjam Boudish, who was employed as collector for the country at Salem, is come to a suddaine & vntimely death."† Administration on the estate of "William Bowdish who died intestate"

* He deposed in New England, 4 June 1677, "aged about Thirty five yeares" (Suffolk Court Files, no. 1629), but the deposition, it is evident, gives only his approximate age.

was granted in Essex Co., 24 Oct. 1681, to Philip Cromwell, his will of 1671 not being proved until many years later in England. He married at Bothenhampton, co. Dorset, 15 Sept. 1663, SARAH BEAR of Wayford, co. Somerset, who survived him. A committee was appointed on 27 Nov. 1683 to set off to the Widow Bowditch her thirds in her late husband's house and lands in Salem, and she joined the Salem church 28 Mar. 1703. Her son William, when he proved his father's will at Exeter, co. Devon, 6 Nov. 1705, made oath that he had a general letter of attorney from his mother.

William Bowditch "of the psh of Thorncombe in the county of Deavon clothier" made his will 31 Mar. 1671, intending "to goe to sea in the good shipp called the John belonging to the port of Topsom [Topsham] in the county afforesaid." In this will he mentions his wife, his son William, and his two daughters, Sarah and Johanna, and he makes his uncle Thomas Silvester, the husband of his aunt Katherine Silvester (4, ii), and his brother Daniel Bowditch (5, v) his supervisors. Originally the name of his "kinsman," George Gibbs, was written in the will as one of the supervisors, but this name was scratched out and that of his brother, Daniel Bowditch, substituted for it.* The will was proved at Exeter, co. Devon, 6 Nov. 1705, more than thirty-four years after it was made, by his son William, to whom administration on his estate, with the will annexed, was granted.

In Nov. 1671, a few months after he had made his will in England, William Bowditch appears in Salem, Mass., for among the papers in the case of Capt. George Corwin v. Jon. Gifford, in which a verdict was given by the court held at Salem on 28 Nov. 1671, is an account of debts due from Mr. John Gifford in 1651, which was sworn to in the Salem court by Mr. Jonathan Corwin and Will. Bowditch.† He was one of the witnesses to a letter of attorney dated at Salem, 25 June 1673;‡ and in a paper in a case in which a verdict was given by the court held at Salem on 30 June 1674 he is referred to as in "Mr. Curen's" employ and is called "Mr. Bowdites."§ On 20 July 1675 he was licensed to retail strong water at Salem, and this license was renewed yearly from 1676 to 1680, inclusive. On 18 July 1676 he was presented to the court for living apart from his wife, but he gave satisfaction and was dismissed. About 1679 his wife came to New England, bringing with her their son William. On 20 Nov. 1679 William Bowditch mortgaged his land at Salem and his ketches to Philip Cromwell for £400, on 18 Oct. 1701 the mortgage was redeemed by his son and widow, and on 17 Nov. 1701 Sarah Bowditch, the widow, released to William Bowditch, only son and heir of William Bowditch, her dower rights in the said land.

* This George Gibbs is probably identical with George Gibbs the Elder, of Clyst St. George, co. Devon, the testator of 1682/3, an abstract of whose will is given above. His exact relationship to William Bowditch has not been discovered. The Thorncombe registers have the marriage of William Gibbs and Elizabeth Bowditch, 3 Oct. 1582, and that of William Bowditch and Joan Gibbs, 1 May 1666. Many Gibbs entries may be found in the Registers of Clyst St. George, co. Devon, published by the Parish Register Society, London, 1899.

Bowditch entries through the year 1700, no record of his birth or baptism has been found, although there are many "Bowdidge" entries in these registers in that period. The relationship, if any existed, of these Bowdidges with the Bowditch family of Thorncombe, co. Devon, has not been established. Transcripts of the earlier parish registers of Lyme-Regis for scattered years from 1594 to 1635, inclusive, are preserved at Salisbury, co. Wilts, but they contain no Bowditch entries whatsoever.

* If the age given on the tombstone is correct, he was born in Aug. or Sept. 1663; but it is more likely that his birth date as computed from his deposition of 1699 is to be accepted.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, A.B., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 3 April 1918. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the March meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of five persons who had been elected resident members and the gift, from Mrs. Garrie H. V. Jacobs, of a winged chair for use in the tea room.

On motion it was Voted, That the Society express its thanks to Mrs. Jacobs for her generous gift.

President Baxter then presented as the speaker of the afternoon Mr. Park Pressey of Boston, who gave a pleasing paper, illustrated by a series of unusually beautiful lantern slides, on Historic Homes of New England.

On motion a vote of thanks to Mr. Pressey was adopted, and the President declared the meeting dissolved.

1 May. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the April meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of eight persons who had been elected resident members.

President Baxter then presented as the speaker of the afternoon Lieut. J. C. Tutt of Boston, recently with the British Royal Flying Corps, who gave a humorous and entertaining narrative of his own experiences as an aviator with the British forces on the Western front. Following him, Private Kenneth B. Jopp of Battery B, 101st U. S. Field Artillery, who had recently returned from France to aid in the third Liberty Loan campaign, spoke briefly in advocacy of the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

At the call of Mr. Everett Jeffs Beede three hearty cheers were given for our soldier boys, and the President, in declaring the meeting dissolved, called attention to the sale of Liberty Bonds in the adjoining hall.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

HITCHBORN-FADRE.—On page 156 of the present volume of the REGISTER Thomas Hitchborn, born in Boston 30 June 1708, son of Thomas and Frances (Patteshall) Hitchborn, is said to have married in Boston, 14 Jan. 1734/5, Hannah Fadre. This marriage appears in the Boston records under date of 14 Jan. 1734, and an intention of marriage between Thomas Hitchborn Jun. and Hanah Fadry is recorded on 6 Feb. 1730 [1730/1]. In Suffolk Deeds, however, lib. 88, fo. 112, the Christian name of Thomas Hitchborn's wife is given, 9 Feb. 1756, as Isannah, this being the first record of this Thomas Hitchborn in the Suffolk Deeds. Now the Boston records give the marriage of Nathaniel Fadrey and Susana Pitman, 20 Nov. 1704, and the birth of Nathaniel, son of Nathanl. Fadree and Isanna his wife, 23 Apr. 1706, of Isanna, daughter of Nathanl. Fadree and Isanna his wife, 21 Apr. 1712, and of William, son of Nathanl. Fadroe and Isanna his wife, 2 Jan. 1714 [? 1714/15]. The name Isannah is still found among the descendants of this Thomas Hitchborn, and according to family tradition was originally Isanne. In view, therefore, of the records and the family tradition referred to above and of the survival of the name Isanna in the family, it seems probable that the wife of Nathaniel Fadrey, whom he married 20 Nov. 1704, was Isanna (not Susana) Pitman, and that the wife of Thomas Hitchborn, whom he married 14 Jan. 1734/5, was the Isanna Fadree who was born 21 Apr. 1712. A mistake in entering the Christian names in the original records or in transcribing them later may have led to the name Isanna appearing as Susana in the marriage record of 1704, as Hanah in the marriage intention of 1730/1, and as Hannah in the marriage record of 1734/5. According to family tradition the surname Fadre, with its other forms as given in the Boston records, was formerly Fadreau or Feydeau.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY.—The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those respited for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manor houses, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

GRAVES OF CONNECTICUT SOLDIERS. — From George Seymour Godard, M.A., State Librarian of Connecticut, the REGISTER learns that Hartford (Conn.) Camp 50, Sons of Veterans, through its Secretary, Charles R. Hale of East Hartford, has been engaged for two years in attempting to locate and mark the graves of the soldiers of the wars in which Connecticut has been engaged, as found in the cemeteries in the towns of Hartford County. Effort is being made to locate the graves of those who served in the Colonial Wars, the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, and the Spanish War. Work has progressed very satisfactorily in the following towns: Hartford, Avon, Bloomfield, Burlington, East Hartford, Farmington, Glastonbury, Newington, Rocky Hill, South Windsor (where the graves of fifty-one Revolutionary soldiers and seventy-three Civil War veterans have already been located), West Hartford, and Wethersfield. Work in Manchester and Marlborough is to be taken up next.

Each grave is numbered, and a brief note is made, giving the name, date of death, and organization to which the deceased belonged. A blue print is then made of the plot of each cemetery, showing the location of such graves, with the name, service, and date of death.

In addition to the copy kept in the records of Camp 50 it is intended to furnish copies of this chart to the town clerks, to those having in charge the placing of flags on Memorial Day in the several towns of Hartford County, and to the Adjutant General of the State. The original drawing will be placed in the Connecticut State Library; and on this additions may be made from time to time and from it additional copies may be printed.

Another object of Mr. Hale's work is to have all graves now unmarked properly marked by suitable headstones furnished by the State, if necessary.

It should be stated that Mr. Hale's services are volunteered.

MOSES GREELEY PARKER, M.D.

By PHILIP SANFORD MARDEN, A.M., LL.B., of Lowell, Mass.

MOSES GREELEY PARKER, physician, scientist, capitalist, a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1910, died at his residence on First Street, in Lowell, Mass., 1 October 1917, having almost completed his seventy-fifth year. He was born at Dracut, Mass., 12 October 1842, the son of Theodore and Hannah (Greeley) Parker.

In his person was united the blood of two of the earliest New England families. His paternal ancestor, Dea. Thomas¹ Parker, came to New England in the Susan and Ellen in 1635, aged 30. He settled at Lynn, Mass., was admitted as a freeman 17 May 1637, and afterwards removed to Reading, Mass., where he was one of the founders of the church and a deacon for many years, until his death on 12 August 1683. From him Moses Greeley Parker traced his descent through Sergt. John,² Jonathan,³ Corpl. Kendall,⁴ Peter,⁵ and Theodore,⁶ his father, who was born at Dracut 20 September 1799 and married at Hudson, N. H., 30 January 1834, Hannah Greeley, born at Hudson 19 July 1806, daughter of Dea. Moses and Mary (Derby) Greeley. Hannah Greeley was a descendant of Andrew¹ Greeley, who was a proprietor at Salisbury, Mass., in 1643, later removed to Haverhill, Mass., and died 30 June 1697, through Joseph,² Benjamin,³ Sergt. Joseph,⁴ and Dea. Moses,⁵ her father. Theodore Parker died 20 December 1865, and his widow, Hannah (Greeley) Parker, died 1 September 1890.

Moses Greeley Parker was educated in the public schools of Dracut, at the Howe school at Billerica, Mass., and at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He taught in the district schools of New Hampshire for three years, and then entered upon the study of medicine at the Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y. He continued his studies at the Bellevue Medical College Hospital in New York and at the Harvard Medical School, and received from Harvard the degree of Doctor of Medicine in March 1864.

A week after his graduation at the Harvard Medical School he enlisted for the remainder of the Civil War, and was commissioned as an assistant surgeon in the Fifty-seventh Massachusetts Infantry. Soon afterwards he was transferred to the Second United States

Cavalry (colored), then stationed at Fortress Monroe, and served with this unit at various places in Virginia. Later, after a period of service in the base hospital of the Eighteenth United States Army Corps, he superintended the building of a winter hospital, with four thousand beds, at Point of Rocks, Va.

After the War Dr. Parker entered upon the practice of medicine at Lowell, but in 1873 closed his office for two years, in order that he might carry on special studies in medicine in London, Paris, and Vienna. After his return he became one of the most successful practitioners in Lowell, specializing as an oculist and aurist and showing a marked talent for research and a true appreciation of the value of progressive methods in medicine. He was physician to St. John's Hospital, Lowell, for thirty years, and, in addition to his work with his private patients, opened a free dispensary and gave his services to the poor of the city. His inventive genius bore fruit in a thermo-cautery and in a device, for which he secured a patent, for producing and maintaining a very high degree of heat by hydro-carbonization. His incandescent cautery gained for him a diploma from the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association, and he made several notable contributions towards the development of scientific photography. He was the first to photograph the tubercular bacillus from Cushing's microscopical specimens, and he was also the first to show by photography, in 1886, the rotary motion in the flame of the lightning flashes.

In 1876 Dr. Parker became interested in the telephone, as a result of lectures and demonstrations given in Lowell by Alexander Graham Bell, and soon built and experimented with a private line between his house and his office. By reason of these experiments Dr. Parker early realized the possibilities of the new invention, and was one of the first to give financial assistance to the Lowell District Exchange, established in 1879. Within a brief period his efforts were directed to the establishment of other telephone exchanges, to be connected with each other by toll lines, which by natural development led to the successful efforts of himself and his associates to bring about a union of numerous small and unconnected companies under a single management. This in turn resulted in the organization of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1883, and of the latter company he was continually a director for more than thirty-two years prior to his death and a member of its Executive Committee for all but one year of this period. These and his many other business interests made such demands upon his time that he ultimately withdrew from the active practice of his profession.

Dr. Parker was a trustee of the Lowell General Hospital, president and treasurer of the Ayer Home for One Hundred Children, president of the Lowell Day Nursery Association, a member of several medical societies, both local and national, and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In 1913 he was sent by the United States Government as a delegate to the Seventeenth International Medical Congress in London.

In his later years he became much interested in genealogy and in the work of the various patriotic societies. He was twice president of the Massachusetts Society of Sons of the American Revolution, vice-president general of the National Society of Sons of the American Revolution in 1906 and its president general in 1911-12, a member for many years of the Council of the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, president of the Parker Historical and Genealogical Association, and a member, among other organizations, of the Loyal Legion, the Bunker Hill Monument Association, the Bostonian Society, and the Order of Colonial Governors. In 1907 he was a delegate to the National Arbitration and Peace Congress in New York.

In politics Dr. Parker was a staunch Republican, but he never sought political honors. In his religious affiliations he was a Unitarian. His published papers and addresses, chiefly on medical, scientific, and patriotic topics, are numerous.

He never married, and his nearest surviving relatives are his sister, Mrs. Mary G. Morrison, who in later years shared with him his home, and a nephew, Theodore Edson Parker of Lowell.

Throughout his life Dr. Parker was a man of affairs, in whom marked ability in scientific research, notable success in the active practice of his profession, and keen business judgment were united in an unusual degree. To this rare combination and to the efficient service due thereto are deeply indebted the many business organizations with which he was affiliated and the numerous charitable and philanthropic enterprises which engaged his attention.

RECORDS OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS AT BERWICK (NORTH BERWICK), ME.

Soon after 1742 the Friends living in that part of Berwick, Me., which in 1831 was incorporated as the town of North Berwick were gathered into a society. In 1751 the Dover (N. H.) Monthly Meeting began to hold monthly meetings at Berwick, in order to accommodate the Friends in that part of Maine. In 1802 a separate monthly meeting was established at Berwick, to which the Friends also of Eliot (then and until 1810 a part of Kittery, Me.) belonged.*

The records of the Berwick Monthly Meeting have been deposited at the Moses Brown School in Providence, R. I.; and at the request of Samuel Burnham Shackford, A.B., LL.B., of Dover, N. H., a member of the Committee on Collection of Records of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, the custodian of the records, Thomas Jesse Battey, A.M., has kindly permitted copies and abstracts to be made for publication in the REGISTER. In the present number a copy of the records contained in the so-called "Record of Membership" is given, and in a future number or numbers abstracts of marriage certificates and of other material useful in genealogical research will be published.

* In the original Record of Membership the dates of birth, death, and burial, arranged in columns with the proper headings, are placed against the names of members and their children, the year in each case being followed by the number of the month and the day of the month. As it was not feasible to reproduce in the printed copy the arrangement by columns, the customary abbreviations for born (b.), married (m.), died (d.), and buried (bur.) have been used as required in each case, and in dates the day of the month has been placed before the number of the month and the year. Only the left-hand pages — those containing the names and dates — of the original records are numbered, and these numbers have been given in brackets in the centre of the printed page. The right-hand pages were reserved for additional information about the heads of families or their children, which has been given in its proper place in the printed copy. Original cross references from one page to another have been preserved in parentheses in the copy. The original records, which are preceded by an index of families, take up less than half of the total number of pages in the book, and the writing oftentimes covers only a small part of the page. The remaining pages are blank. All words or characters in brackets, except the numbers of the original pages, are additions, explanations, or queries inserted by the Editor.

* The complete inscription was probably "T. McM." The letters are cut on a thick, rough stone, a few inches low in the ground, and probably mark the grave of Terrence McMahon or McMahon of Georgetown, Me. His daughter Elizabeth Donnell married at Pownalborough (now Wiscasset), Me. 30 May 1790, Capt. Nathan Clark; and his daughter Anna Holland married (intention recorded at Pownalborough, 11 Sept. 1790) Capt. Daniel Fegan. According to a tradition among descendants of Terrence McMahon, he died at Wiscasset (or Pownalborough) while visiting his daughter (either Mrs. Clark or Mrs. Fegan), and was buried in that town. The stone that is supposed to mark his grave is near the grave of Capt. Daniel Fegan.

CHURCH RECORDS AND MARRIAGE RECORDS AT CORNISH, N. H., 1768-1805

Transcribed by GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, M.S., of Malden, Mass.

BELOW are given extracts from a manuscript record entitled "A History of the Chh in Cornish which was in Union with Windsor the first Five Years" and also a record of one hundred and fifteen marriages solemnized by Rev. James Wellman from Jan. 1769 to Mar. 1805. The two records are in the handwriting of Rev. James Wellman, who was the first pastor of the church at Cornish, N. H.,

* According to the town records of Wiscasset he died 1 Oct. 1828, and this later date is probably the correct date, as the gravestone is said to have been erected several years after Major Tinkham's death.

and the little book containing them is now in the possession of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, to which it was bequeathed by the late Rev. Joshua Wyman Wellman, A.M., D.D., of Malden, Mass., a great-grandson of the writer of the records.

The "History" begins with a copy of the covenant under which the church was formed, which was "[d]one at Windsor Sept. 21. 1768 [an]d at Cornish Sept 29 1768," and was signed by the following persons:

James Wellman, Pastor, Samuel Chase, Hez^h Thomson, Ebenez^r Hoisington, Moses Chase, John Bartlet, Dudley Chase, Jonth Chase, Joab Hoisington, Israel Curtis, Daniel Putnam.

The "History" is then continued as follows:

N. B. Hezekiah Thompson belonging to ye first Chh in Farmington. Eben^{zr} Hoisington to ye Chh in Southington & John Bartlet to the Chh in Lebanon had not yr Letters when the Chh was embodied but it was thought expedient to allow them to incorporate with ye rest and their Letters were afterwards brought and Voted Satisfactory.

Sept 29th 1768 The Rev^d James Wellman was Installed to the Pastoral Care of the Chh of Christ in Cornish & Windsor (Windsor being joyned With Cornish . . . for the first five Years) . . .

April 3^d 1774 The Chh voted to comply wth the Request of Deacon Hezekiah Thomson & Wife, Watts Hubbard & Wife Eben^{zr} Hoisington & Wife, Eben^{zr} Curtis & Wife, Andrew Blunt & Wife, & Lowis Smith who desird a Dismission from this Chh, with a view to joyn with others in forming a Chh in Windsor. . . .

The following persons owned the covenant at Cornish 24 July 1777:

Sam^l Chase, Thomas Hall, Deacon, Dudley Chase, Deacon, John Bartlet, Jonathan Chase, Will^m Ripley, Nichols Cady, Simeon Chase, Salmon Chase, Eben^{zr} Demming, Stephen Child, Will^m Richardson Jur, Sam^l Fitch, Richard Hawley, Stephen Cadey, James Wellman Junr, Isaac Wellman, Thomas Hall Junr, Thomas Chase, Abijah Cady, Zephaniah Spicer, Andrew Spaulding, Solomon Chase.

Females. Esther Hillard, Sarah Fitch, Sarah Wellman, Mary Chase, Hannah Hibbard, Sarah Spicer, Jemimah Bartlet, Anne Putnam, Sarah Chase, Wife of Solomon Chase, Alice Chase, Wife of Dudley Chase, Elisabeth Chase Junr, Marcy Chase, Abigail Chase, Lowis Chase, Eleanor Dana, Sarah Chase, Wife of Jonth Chase, Sarah Palmer, Sarah Cummings, Huldah Hall, Lucy Hall, Mary Dustun, Martha Wellman, Judith Hall, Lucy Hillard

10. CAPT. SAMUEL⁴ HOLMAN (Samuel,³ Thomas,² *John*¹), of Hartford and East Hartford, Conn., tailor, born at Windsor, Conn., 10 Jan. 1721/2, died on board a British prison ship in New York Harbor in June (perhaps 2 June) 1782. He married MARY TREAT, born at Glastonbury, Conn., 30 Nov. 1729, died at Colrain, Mass., 15 Aug. 1818, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Hopson).*

The following extract from the records of the Connecticut General Assembly of May 1767 shows that at that time Samuel Holman was an insolvent debtor.

"Upon the petition of Peter Treat of Glastonbury, and Ebenezer Holeman of Windsor, against John Coleman, Russel Woodbridge

* On the gravestone of Mrs. Mary (Treat) Holman, at Colrain, Mass., is the following inscription: "In memory of Widow Mary Holman who departed this life Aug. 15, 1818, in the 89th year of her age and late consort of Capt. Samuel Holman of E. Hartford who died a prisoner to the British in New York in June 1782."

and Joseph Meakins of Hartford, trustees of Samuel Holman of said Hartford, an insolvent debtor, shewing to this Assembly that since the proceedings against the said Samuel upon the said insolvent act they, the petitioners, had, at the request and to oblige the said Samuel, given their joint security to the Treasurer of this Colony for the sum of £23 10s. 1½*d.* in lieu of so much due from the said Samuel to this Colony, expecting to have and receive that sum out of the hands of said trustees, but that the said trustees refused to pay and allow the same as thinking by law they could not be justified in paying the same under the circumstances; praying for relief &c., as per the petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that the petitioners have and receive the said sum of £23 10s. 1½*d.*, lawful money, out of the estate of the said Samuel Holman in the hands of the said trustees, and they, the said trustees, are hereby ordered and directed to pay the same accordingly, and in default thereof execution to issue therefor at the suit of the petitioners." *

Samuel Holman served in the Revolution, and an entry stating that "In a list showing payments made officers and crew of the State Man-of-War 'Oliver Cromwell' in March, 1778, Samuel Holman is entered as Steward" may refer to him. He was captain of a vessel which was captured by the British, and was confined in a prison ship in the harbor of New York, where he died from the inhuman treatment that he received.

At a probate court held at East Windsor, Conn., 7 Dec. 1786, Mary Holeman, administratrix on the estate of Samuel Holeman, late of East Hartford, deceased, presented her account, showing that she had paid in debts and charges £33. 14s. 8d., and the account was allowed. The administratrix then asked for an order for the distribution of said estate, and the Court appointed Ashbel Pitkin, Esq., John Wylles, and Richard Goodwin of East Hartford, or any two of them, "to make Distribution of the remaining part of sd Estate according to Law (Viz) to Mary Holeman Widow of the deceased one third part and to Catherine Minor Wife of Richardson Minor two thirds parts."

KATHERINE,⁵ b., probably at Hartford, 25 May 1754; d. at Colrain 9 May 1829; m. at Hartford, 11 Jan. 1775, RICHARDSON⁶ MINER, sadler, b. at Stonington, Conn., 10 Sept. 1753, d. at Colrain 19 Mar. 1847, s. of Nathan⁵ (Samuel,⁴ Elnathan,³ Manasseh,² Thomas¹) and Sarah (Smith). He m. (2) at Colrain, in Oct. 1829, Sally (Gould) Seward, dau. of Daniel Gould. Six children.†
 - ii. A CHILD, d. young.
Perhaps others, who d. young.
11. EBENEZER⁴ HOLMAN (Samuel,³ Thomas,² John¹), of East Windsor, Conn., farmer, born at Windsor, Conn., 23 Apr. 1727, died at East Windsor 9 Mar. 1795. He married first, at Windsor, 1 Nov. 1763, RUTH LOOMIS, born at Windsor 24 Aug. 1729, died at East Windsor 17 June 1770, daughter of Henry

* Colonial Records of Connecticut, vol. 12, pp. 577-578.

† For Richardson and Katherine (Holman) Miner and their descendants see Addendum at the end of this article.

and Ruth (Bidwell); and secondly, at Glastonbury, Conn., 1 or 2 May 1771, RACHEL WRIGHT, born at Glastonbury 20 Oct. 1740, died at East Windsor 1 Jan. 1831, daughter of Daniel and Eunice (Loomis).

Ebenezer Holman was only about one year and nine months old when his father died, and only about thirteen years and one month old when his mother died. After her death her brother, Benjamin Roberts of Hartford, Conn., was administrator of her estate and guardian of the two minor children, Samuel (10) and Ebenezer, their sister Abigail being already of age. Abigail remained in her uncle's family until she was married, and her two brothers until they went to learn trades; but Ebenezer, preferring agriculture to a mechanical trade, bought a farm in the southern part of East Windsor and there passed the remainder of his life.*

Ebenezer Holman died intestate, and administration on his estate was granted at East Windsor, 11 Apr. 1795, to Rachel Holman of East Windsor [widow of the deceased] and to Jason Chapin of Wilbraham, Mass. [son-in-law of the deceased], who gave bond, with Arodi Wolcott of East Windsor, for £500. On 1 Aug. 1795 the administrators exhibited an inventory of the estate, showing property appraised at £597. 12s. 11d. At a probate court held at Enfield, Conn., 23 Mar. 1801, Rachel Holman, only surviving administrator of the estate of Ebenezer Holman, asked for an order for the distribution of the estate, and Samuel Bancroft and Russell Diggins, both of East Windsor, were appointed to distribute to Rachel Holman, widow of the deceased, her third and right of dower according to law, and to distribute the remainder of the estate to the children and heirs of the deceased, viz., to Rachel Chapin, Ruth Holman, Samuel Holman, and John Holman, to each an equal portion thereof, including such sums as they had received as portions from the deceased in his lifetime. The said Bancroft and Diggins made a return of the distribution which they had made to a probate court held at Enfield, 9 Nov. 1802.

Children by second wife, born at East Windsor:

20. JOHN⁴ SEYMOUR (John,³ John,² *Richard*¹), of Hartford, West Hartford, and New Hartford, Conn., born at Hartford 25 Dec. 1694, died at New Hartford 25 July 1758. He married first, at Hartford, 25 June 1718, LYDIA MASON, baptized at Hartford 2 Aug. 1696, daughter of John and Hannah (Arnold ?); and secondly, at West Hartford, 7 May 1733, HANNAH⁴ ENSIGN, born at Hartford 19 Jan. 1711/12, died at New Hartford before 3 Jan. 1778, when her children sold property that formerly belonged to her, daughter of David³ (David,² James¹) and Hannah (Smith).
- John Seymour settled first at Hartford, where eight of his children were baptized at the Second Church. Shortly after 1730 he removed to the West Parish of Hartford, now West Hartford, and about 1750 he became a settler of New Hartford. In his will, made 11 July 1758, shortly before his death, and proved 19 Sept. 1758, he describes himself as being sick and weak, and mentions his sons Elisha and John Seymour, both of Hartford, his wife Hannah, his two grandchildren, Isaac and Lydia Seymour, children of his son Isaac, late of Hartford, deceased, his sons William and Uriah of New Hartford, "my younger sons," Elias, Hezekiah, Nathaniel, Elijah, and David, and his daughters Lydia Steele, Abigail Flowers, Lucretia Ensign, Lucina Marsh, Elizabeth Smith, and Hannah, Zerviah, and Sarah Seymour. On 5 Dec. 1758 Hezekiah Seymour, aged 18, Nathaniel, aged 16, Elijah, aged 14 last August, and Zerviah, aged 12 last October, chose their mother, Hannah Seymour, as their guardian, and she was also appointed guardian of her other children under age, viz., David, aged 10, and Sarah, aged 8. The record of this family of twenty children, eighteen of whom survived childhood, is probably unsurpassed elsewhere in the annals of the family.

21. ENSIGN TIMOTHY⁴ SEYMOUR (John,³ John,² *Richard*¹), of Hartford and West Hartford, Conn., born at Hartford 27 June 1696, died at West Hartford 8 Sept. 1749, in his 54th year (gravestone record). He married at Hartford, 27 Apr. 1727, RACHEL ALLYN, probably the Rachel Allyn born at Hartford 20 Aug. 1694, daughter of Edward and Rachel (Steele). She died a widow prior to 3 Feb. 1756, when administration on her estate was granted.
- Timothy Seymour lived in the West Parish of Hartford, now West Hartford, where he became a member of the church in 1730 and where his children were baptized. The house that he built was standing in West Hartford as late as 1882 and was in the possession of his descendants until 1870. He was a selectman of Hartford in 1737, and was chosen ensign of the Fourth Company of Militia 13 Oct. 1743. Administration on his estate was granted 3 Oct. 1749 to his widow Rachel and his son Timothy, and on 23 Apr. 1751 distribution of the estate was ordered between the widow, Rachel, the eldest son, Timothy Seymour, and the other children, Allyn and Charles Seymour and Rachel Easton. The inventory amounted to £18,684. 4s. 9d., and included estate at Canaan, Salisbury, and Bethel, Conn.

PROCEEDINGS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

THE seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, 6 February 1918, at 2.30 P.M., in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, a quorum being present. In the absence of the President, Vice-President CHASE presided. In the absence of the Recording Secretary, HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT was authorized to act in his place.

The minutes of the January meeting were read and approved, and the monthly reports of the Historian and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of nine persons who had been elected resident members.

On motion it was Voted, That the annual reports of the Council, including its committees, the Librarian, the Corresponding Secretary, the Treasurer, the Trustees of the Kidder Fund, and the Historian, being presented in print, and now in the hands of the meeting, be accepted and ordered filed with the originals.

On motion it was Voted, That the Society proceed to the election of officers and councillors, agreeable to the provisions of the By-Laws.

That three tellers be appointed by the Chair, and that said tellers shall distribute, receive, sort, and count the ballots, and make a report to this meeting.

That the polls be now opened, and stand open until every member present has had opportunity to vote.

The Chair called attention to the fact that on the official ballot the name of no nominee for the office of Recording Secretary was printed, and stated that Dr. ALFRED JOHNSON had been renominated for this position by the Nominating Committee and that his name had been reported to the Society by the Nominating Committee at the December meeting, but that since that meeting Dr. JOHNSON had found it necessary to withdraw his name from the list of candidates. The Chair read a letter from Dr. JOHNSON, in which he wrote:

"It is a matter of much regret to me that, circumstances having arisen which will occasion my absence from town during the coming season, I feel obliged to withdraw my name as Recording Secretary from the list of candidates to be voted upon at the February meeting of the Society."

The Chair then called for nominations for the office of Recording Secretary, and DESMOND FITZGERALD nominated HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT for that office. This nomination having been seconded, and no other names having been presented, the Chair appointed as tellers MESSRS. JAMES HENRY STARK and GEORGE WINTHROP TORREY and Dr. HAROLD BOWDITCH, and the election by ballot of officers and councillors took place.

After the polls were closed, the Chair presented as the speaker of the afternoon GEORGE ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR., A.M., LL.B., of Newport, R. I., Corresponding Secretary of the Society, who, in a scholarly paper, the result of thorough genealogical research, described The English Life and Family Connections of Roger Williams.

At the suggestion of Mr. MORIARTY and by invitation of the Chair, DESMOND FITZGERALD, C.E., of Brookline, made a few additional statements about Roger Williams, and Mr. MORIARTY then related a few anecdotes concerning the amusing exchange of uncomplimentary epithets between the founder of Rhode Island and George Fox, Quaker. On motion of HOSEA STARR BALLOU a vote of thanks to Mr. MORIARTY and to Mr. FITZGERALD was adopted.

The tellers then made their report, which showed that officers and councillors had been elected as follows:

President

JAMES PHINNEY BAXTER, of Portland, Me.

Vice-Presidents

JOHN CARROLL CHASE, of Brookline, Mass.

ALFRED JOHNSON, of Belfast, Me.

ALBERT HENRY LAMSON, of Elkins, N. H.

WILLIAM WALLACE STICKNEY, of Ludlow, Vt.

WILLIAM PAINE SHEFFIELD, of Newport, R. I.

GEORGE SEYMOUR GODARD, of Hartford, Conn.

Recording Secretary

HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, of Medford, Mass.

Corresponding Secretary

GEORGE ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR., of Newport, R. I.

Treasurer

GEORGE LAMBERT GOULD, of Topsfield, Mass.

Librarian

WILLIAM PRESCOTT GREENLAW, of Winthrop, Mass.

Councillors for the term of three years, 1918, 1919, 1920

LOUIS ATWOOD COOK, of Weymouth, Mass.

ARTHUR HOLBROOK WELLMAN, of Topsfield, Mass.

MRS. BELLE AUGUSTA SEAVEY FLOYD, of Winthrop, Mass.

On motion it was Voted, That the New England Historic Genealogical Society enters on its records at this time its appreciation of the services rendered by the retiring officers, ALFRED JOHNSON, Recording Secretary, LEW CASS HILL, Treasurer, and ROBERT MEANS LAWRENCE and MRS. IDA LOUISE FARR MILLER, Councillors, who have during their terms of office given of their time, their thought, and their counsel that the broad purpose of the Society, the collection and preservation of genealogical records for the public benefit, might be attained.

The Recording Secretary pro tempore then read a letter from President BAXTER, in which he stated that the severity of the weather made it impossible for him to attend the meeting, and also a brief address from the President to the Society, which was as follows:

"I thank you for reëlecting me President of the Society for another year. I promise to serve you to the best of my ability. Naturally I should speak of the disastrous times in which we are living, but I know that your minds, as well as my own, are so burdened with the subject that it seems well for me to pass it by in silence.

"In looking through the annual reports of the committees, several points especially strike my attention, as they will yours. One of these is the necessity of increasing our income to meet the increase of expenses arising from our growing work. The Council has done everything possible to increase our income and curtail our expenses, in order to be able to present to you a clean balance sheet. These efforts will be continued during the coming year, but in this work it should receive the services of every member.

"The report of the Historian is always impressive, and is particularly so this year. The loss of our members reminds us continually of the great change that we must all face at no distant period. In the loss of Mr. Rust and Mr. Ensign the Society has lost the past year two of its most useful and beloved members. Not only have we greatly missed their genial presence, but their loss leaves vacancies difficult to fill."

On motion it was Voted, That the proceedings of this meeting, with the annual reports accepted, the address of the President, and the biographical notices of deceased members, be printed as a supplement to the April, 1918, number of the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, that a copy of said supplement be mailed to every member of the Society not receiving the REGISTER, to the families of members deceased during the past year, and to exchanging societies, and that the Council be charged with the execution of this order.

No further business being presented, the Chair declared the meeting dissolved, and light refreshments were served to the members of the Society and their guests in the adjoining reception hall.

HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT,

Recording Secretary pro tempore.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL

Prepared by HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, A.B.

DURING the year 1917 the Council has endeavored to perform its duties in such a manner as to reduce to a minimum the expenses of carrying on the work of the various departments of the Society.

In recent years the increased interest in genealogical pursuits and the growth of the Society's Library have been potent factors in increasing the expenses of the Society, while the endowment funds of the Society have not grown in proportion to the increased cost of administration. The result, even when the most rigid economy is practised, is a substantial annual deficit.

The pressing need of the Society is for additions to its endowment sufficient not only to offset the annual deficit but also to provide for the necessary maintenance, growth, equipment, and indexing of the Library and to assure the continuance and expansion of the publication work of the Society. The Council, therefore, recommends that members and friends of the Society do what they can to secure memorial endowment funds, the income of which may be used to promote the purposes for which the Society was incorporated.

In the reports of the various standing committees, which follow this report, details in regard to the activities of the Society during the past year and recommendations for the future will be found; and to these reports, especially to that of the Committee on Ways and Means, the attention of all friends of the Society is called.

In the course of the year two members of the Council died, the venerable Nathaniel Johnson Rust, for five years Vice-President of the Society for Massachusetts, passing away on 5 February, only two days before the annual meeting at which he would have been re-elected Vice-President, and his successor as Vice-President, Charles Sidney Ensign, LL.B., succumbing on 10 April to an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Ensign, who had been a member of the Council at various times during the past twenty-five years and had served on many important committees, had just completed a term of three years as Councillor when he was elected to succeed Mr. Rust as Vice-President. Both of these men, as members of the Society, as members of committees, and as Councillors, rendered during a long series of years faithful service to the Society, which recognizes its indebtedness to them and feels deeply its loss in their death. On 3 October the Society elected John Carroll Chase, since 1912 Vice-President for New Hampshire, as Vice-President for Massachusetts for the remainder of the term for which Mr. Ensign had been elected.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON FINANCE, by William Prescott Greenlaw, Acting Treasurer:

The Committee on Finance reports the receipt of $2,881.25 from the estate of the late Horace Davis and $500 from the estate of the late Frank Edson Shedd. Mrs. Jennie B. Fuller, who died 24 December 1917, left a small bequest to the Society and also made the Society one of her residuary legatees.

Under reorganization 5 Flint & Pere Marquette R.R. Co. 5's, due 1 April 1939, Nos. 144-5, 1217-18, 1731 ($5,000), have been exchanged for bonds of the same company ($3,300) and cash ($1,617.96). The Society's note for $5,900 has been reduced to $3,000.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS, by William Streeter Richardson, Chairman:

The meetings of the Committee have been devoted to serious discussions for the purpose of formulating some practical method of meeting the financial needs of the Society, and upon the success of the means devised will depend the proper maintenance and progress of the institution. An exhaustive study of the requirements has been tabulated, and plans are being prepared for presenting these needs in a way which, it is hoped, may accomplish their object. The Committee has to say that earnest help by the membership is highly important, and that this, or a lack of interest, will mean much to the Society one way or the other.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON INCREASE OF MEMBERSHIP, by Richard Henry Winslow Dwight, Chairman:

The Committee on Increase of Membership has continued until recently, with marked success, sending out letters to a selected list of names, setting forth the advantages of becoming members of the Society; but it has temporarily abandoned this method, by reason of war conditions.

The Committee, however, cordially urges members of the Society to secure as many desirable new members as possible. The Society has abundant facilities for an enlarged membership; and the Committee feels sure that by joining the Society many men and women will find an enjoyable relaxation and a delightful atmosphere prevailing among its members.

The Committee recommends that all members give close attention to a novel pamphlet soon to be issued by the Council, in which the urgent needs of the Society and of its fast-growing library will be fully set forth.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON SALE OF PUBLICATIONS, by Charles Eliot Goodspeed, Chairman:

The sales in 1917 of the Society's publications and miscellaneous books (including subscriptions) aggregated $9,541.05.

In addition to its own publications, the Society has a goodly number of remainders of genealogical books which have been donated in times past, and the Committee calls attention to this method of promoting the objects of the institution. The excellent facilities for the storage, advertising, and sale of such works enable the Society to derive substantial benefit from these donations.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATIONS, by James Parker Parmenter, A.M., LL.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Publications reports that during the year 1917, in addition to the REGISTER and the Proceedings at the Annual Meeting, which together make a volume of 501 pages, the Society has published the Vital Records of East Bridgewater, containing 406 pages, the Vital Records of Charlemont, containing 166 pages, and the Vital Records of Windsor, containing 153 pages, the total number of pages for the year being 1226.

The Society has also printed for distribution among persons interested a revised edition — the ninth — of its Handbook, a little pamphlet of 15 pages containing a brief statement of the history, purposes, and needs of the Society, together with a list of the Officers, Councillors, and Committees for 1917.

The Report of the COMMITTEE TO ASSIST THE HISTORIAN, by Andrew Fiske, Ph.D., LL.B., Chairman:

The Committee has held one meeting during the year, namely, on Tuesday, 11 December 1917; and at that meeting it rendered such assistance to the Historian as he required, and was notified by him that no more meetings would be necessary during the current year.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON ENGLISH RESEARCH, by Charles Sherburne Penhallow, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on English Research presents herewith a report of its income and expenditures for the year ending 31 December 1917.

This shows a balance from the preceding year of $379.74, which, with contributions of $115.00, makes a total of $494.74, out of which there has been paid $483.22, leaving a balance on hand, 31 December 1917, of $11.52, as shown in the accompanying statement.

Owing to the conditions caused by the war and the consequent difficulty of research in England the arrangement with Miss French was terminated by mutual agreement on 1 July, when settlement was made for articles contributed and for expenses, as appears in the account submitted herewith.

In addition to the genealogical material purchased of Miss French the Committee has been enabled, through the generosity of one of its members, G. Andrews Moriarty, Jr., Esq., to communicate to the April and October numbers of the REGISTER valuable English records secured by Mr. Moriarty at his own expense; and similar material has been placed by him at the disposal of the Committee for publication in the course of 1918.

RECEIPTS:

Balance, 1 January 1917, as per last report	$379.74
Subscriptions:
B. M. Newcomb	$10.00
Grenville H. Norcross	5.00
Mrs. Arthur W. Tedcastle	25.00
Mrs. M. G. Mellus	5.00
William E. Stone	60.00
Miss Ellen A. Stone	10.00
	$115.00
	$494.74

PAYMENTS:

Miss French, for material furnished for publication, as per arrangement	$459.00
Miss French, for expenses	24.22
	$483.22
Balance, 31 December 1917	$11.52

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON HERALDRY, by Robert Dickson
Weston, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Heraldry begs leave to report that the past year has been very uneventful. The minds of men have been occupied with matters of vastly more importance than heraldry. Very few questions have been addressed to the Committee or have arisen for its consideration, and it has met but seldom. Whenever advice or assistance has been sought, the Committee or its members individually have endeavored to furnish what was wanted.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY, by George Sawin
Stewart, A.B., Secretary:

The number of volumes and the number of genealogies acquired in 1917 were about the same as in 1916, but the number of pamphlets received was somewhat less; in bulk, however, the accessions fill more shelf space. Considerable additions have been made to the local history of the Middle Atlantic and Southern States.

The use of the Library by members and visitors in 1917 was about nine per cent less than in 1916. The registration of nonmembers was ten per cent less than in the preceding year, yet it was twenty per cent greater than the average of the last twelve years in the old building.

The Library staff was changed towards the end of the year by the resignation of Mr. George J. Donnelly, who enlisted in the United States Naval Service, and the employment of Miss Florence C. Sanford of Newport, R. I., as his successor. The loss of this interested and efficient member, who served faithfully for more than nine years, is one that will be felt by all who frequent the Library. Miss Sanford comes well equipped to fill the vacancy.

The Committee reiterates its call for more money to bind and repair the Society's books, pamphlets, newspapers, and manuscripts. A card has been prepared by the Committee which shows the rapid annual increase of this expense, requests care in handling books, and solicits donations for rebinding. Copies of this card have been placed on the tables in the Library.

The Committee also calls attention to the need of adequate indexes to the genealogical data published during the last twenty years. A beginning has been made on this work by the Library staff, but progress is very slow because the Library staff has been reduced so much in recent years.

The Committee met with a severe loss in the death, on 10 April 1917, of Charles Sidney Ensign, LL.B., whose wise counsel and loyal interest in the work of the Society will be greatly missed. Mr. Ensign had been a member of the Committee since early in 1914 and had served as its chairman since early in 1915. Mr. John Carroll Chase has been appointed his successor both as a member and as chairman of the Committee.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON COLLECTION OF RECORDS, by George Walter Chamberlain, M.S., Chairman:

The most notable genealogical record received in 1917 is a type-written copy of the "Descendants of Capt. George Barbour, 1643," by Mr. Edmund Dana Barbour of Boston. This collection consists of seven volumes, containing 9069 typewritten pages of genealogies, with a consolidated index in two volumes. It is understood to represent nineteen years of work, and is a monument of industry and accuracy in genealogical compilation.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON EPITAPHS, by Myles Standish,
A.M., M.D., S.D., Chairman:

A number of members have applied for and received proper paper for recording epitaphs in accordance with the offer of the Committee.

Two reports have been actually made to the Committee, one containing 28 typewritten pages of epitaphs from Rockingham, Vt., by Fred Clarke Hodgman, S.B., of Valley Falls, R. I., and the other containing 8 pages of epitaphs from Turner, Me., by Winthrop Alexander. The Society has received from the Eddy Town-Record Fund a mass of epitaphs relating to Bridgewater, Mass.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PAPERS AND ESSAYS, by Alfred
Johnson, A.M., Litt.D., Chairman:

The Committee on Papers and Essays has presented the following lectures during the year 1917:

3 January. — An address by Mary Antin, of Scarsdale, N. Y.

7 February. — "American Life as Portrayed in Early Prints," by Charles Eliot Goodspeed, of Boston, Mass.

7 March. — "The Birth and Babyhood of the Telephone," by Thomas A. Watson, of Boston, Mass., followed by a few remarks by His Excellency Samuel Walker McCall, LL.D., Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

4 April. — "Some Old New England Academies," by Claude Moore Fuess, Ph.D., of Andover, Mass.

2 May. — "Rambles in Old Boston," by John Charles States Andrew, A.M. S.T.B., of Lynn, Mass.

3 October. — "The Origin and Application of the Monroe Doctrine," by Hon. Howard Randolph Bayne, M.A., B.L., of New York, N. Y.

7 November. — "A Night with John Pintard in Old New York," by Henry Collins Brown, of New York, N. Y.

5 December. — An address by Lieut. Robert Archer Bowlby, of the Canadian Grenadiers, recently returned from France.

Of these eight lectures four were illustrated with stereopticon views, six were followed by the customary refreshments, and four of the lecturers came on from New York. The expenses were met entirely by a moderate appropriation of two hundred dollars, and a small balance remained, a result which was directly due to the generosity of all the speakers in giving their services. During the coming season the Committee has planned to respect the Government appeal for food conservation, and will eliminate refreshments except on occasions of special significance.

The attendance for the year showed a higher average than that of last year, and on January first, when Miss Antin spoke, Wilder Hall was taxed to its capacity and the smaller hall was used for the overflow.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Presented by WILLIAM PRESCOTT GREENLAW

THE total accessions for the year number 806 volumes, 410 pamphlets, and 88 miscellaneous articles. Of these, 348 volumes and 45 pamphlets were purchased; 404 volumes, 350 pamphlets, and 88 miscellaneous articles were given; and 54 volumes and 15 pamphlets were received in exchange. During the year 120 volumes were given to Harvard College Library by votes of the Council. Deducting these gifts and adding this year's accessions give 41,209 volumes and 41,622 pamphlets as the approximate number in the Library on 31 December 1917. Three hundred and five genealogies were acquired during the year.

The growth and the use of the Library have been almost normal, notwithstanding the abnormal conditions that have prevailed during the year.

An exhibit containing nearly all of the American genealogical publications issued before the Society was founded was placed in the Library early in the year and has attracted much attention. A comparison of this meagre display with the present Library of the Society will reveal the chief reason for the almost incessant calls for more money either to house or to care for this department of the Society's work.

MEMOIRS
OF THE
NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

Prepared by REV. LEWIS WILDER HICKS, M.A., Historian

THE following pages contain obituary notices of members who died during the year 1917, with the addition of four who died in preceding years. The notices are arranged in the order in which the deaths occurred.

NICHOLAS DARNELL DAVIS, C.M.G., F.R.H.S., F.R.C.I., of London, England, a corresponding member since 1888, was born at St. George's, Grenada, B.W.I., 4 February 1846, the son of Hon. William Darnell and Agnes (Slinger) Davis, and died at Bath, Somersetshire, England, 29 September 1915. His ancestor, William Davis, from Merionethshire, Wales, settled in Bermuda in the seventeenth century, and married Elizabeth ap Owen, daughter of Richard ap Owen of Devon Tribe, Bermuda. Their grandson, William Davis, removed to Antigua, B.W.I., and the son of the latter, John Davis of Plantations Hawes and Cocomanut, Antigua, married Arabella Spencer, daughter of Col. Thomas Spencer of Spencer Hale Estate, Antigua. Their son, Hon. Benjamin Brown Davis of Hawes's, Antigua, and of Belmont, St. Christopher, B.W.I., married Frances Darnell, one of the Darnells of Thornley, co. Durham, England, and was the father of Hon. William Darnell Davis, Chief Justice and President of the island of Grenada and father of the subject of this memoir.

Nicholas Darnell Davis was educated at the school of Rev. John Collingwood Bruce, Newcastle-on-Tyne, co. Northumberland, and at Totteridge Park School, Hertfordshire, England. The greater part of his life was spent in the Colonial civil service. For several years he was employed in the office of the private secretary of the Governor of Grenada, and was afterwards private secretary to Administrator Baynes. Then, from 1866 on, he served as a clerk in various departments of the government in British Guiana. In 1870-1 he was secretary of the Commissioners of Inquiry into the Treatment of Indian Immigrants in British Guiana, and in 1872-3 secretary to the Royal Commission to Mauritius, charged with similar duties. In 1874-1876 he was civil commandant at Sherbro, Sierra Leone, in 1876-1881 postmaster general of British Guiana, in 1881-1898 comptroller of customs, and in 1898-1908 auditor general of British Guiana. He was a member of the Executive Council and a member ex officio of the Court of Policy, and on various occasions acted as Government secretary and as Deputy Governor of British Guiana.

In 1908 he retired from the public service and devoted himself to research in West Indian history, in which he had already become an authority. His most important work was "The Cavaliers and Roundheads of Barbados," but many other books and articles were the product of his pen. The condition of his health compelled him to abandon his plans for a comprehensive historical work on the West Indies; but shortly before his death he presented his manuscript notes, together with a collection of his printed writings, to the Royal Colonial Institute.

He married at Dover, co. Kent, England, 27 November 1883, Sarah Augusta Haliburton Smith, eldest daughter of Rev. John Bainbridge and Emma Maria (Haliburton) Smith and granddaughter of Judge Thomas Chandler Haliburton, D.C.L., of Nova Scotia, who acquired literary fame as the author of the Sam Slick papers and was in his later years a member of Parliament for Launceston, co. Cornwall. Mr. Davis's wife, together with a daughter, Emma Agnes Darnell Davis, survives him.

FRANK AUGUSTUS ALLEN of Cambridge, Mass., a resident member since 1895, was born at Sanford, Me., 29 January 1835, the son of Horace Octavius and Elizabeth (Derby) Allen, and died at Cambridge 22 May 1916. He traced his descent from George¹ Allen of Sandwich, Mass., through Samuel,² James,³ Ebenezer,⁴ James,⁵ Eleazer,⁶ Elisha,⁷ and Horace Octavius,⁸ his father. His great-grandfather, Eleazer Allen, was a prisoner on the British man-of-war Royal George, when she capsized and sank, 29 August 1782, while being repaired in Spithead, England, a disaster which caused the loss of over one thousand of some thirteen hundred persons on board, and which was commemorated in Cowper's poem, "The Loss of the Royal George."

His father, Horace Octavius Allen, a graduate of Bowdoin College and a practising lawyer, died when his son Frank Augustus was two years of age, and the latter while still a lad worked as a bobbin boy in mills at Sanford and Biddeford, Me. In 1856 he started in the dry goods business at Saccarappa, Me., and subsequently, 1860-1865, developed a large dry goods manufacturing business in New York City. In 1867 he moved to Boston, took over the old Copeland lease, where the then famous Copeland restaurant stood in Scollay Square, and started in the coffee and tea business, in which he remained until his retirement shortly before his death.

In 1871 he removed from Boston to Cambridge, where in 1875 and 1876 he was a member and president of the Common Council and in 1877 was mayor. During his short administration of city affairs he was instrumental in introducing many practical reforms affecting the Cambridge cemetery administration and the city poorhouse, and was also largely responsible for changes in the laws relating to the sinking funds. From 1878 until a short time before his death he was himself a member of the Cambridge board charged with the management of the sinking funds.

He was a fine example of the old New England type of self-made man, helping to support his mother when he was hardly ten years of age, and starting in business on his own account when only twenty-one. He had a clear head for all financial matters, and he exercised a lasting and beneficial influence on many of the affairs of the city which he loved and served.

He married first, 9 January 1858, Annie G. Scribner, who died in 1865; and secondly, in 1866, Elizabeth Scribner, who died in 1913. A son, Herbert M. Allen, a daughter, Annie Allen, and two grandchildren survive him.

By HERBERT M. ALLEN of Cambridge, Mass.

JOHN HOWARD BURDAKIN of Dedham, Mass., a resident member since 1881, was born at Cambridge, Mass., 3 November 1840, the son of John Clark and Catharine Eliza (Nutting) Burdakin, and died at Dedham 14 October 1916. He was a grandson of Joseph Burdakin and a great-grandson of James Burdakin.

His early years were spent in Cambridge, and in the public schools of that city and in a private school in Boston he received his education. At the age of seventeen years he entered the office of William V. Thompson, a conveyancer of Boston, where he remained for three years. Then, for more than a year, he was a clerk in the Middlesex Registry of Deeds at East Cambridge. On 31 May 1862 he enlisted as a private in Company I, Twenty-second Infantry, New York National Guard; and when his term of service, most of which was spent at Harper's Ferry and at Bolivar Heights, Va., had expired, he was mustered out in New York on 5 September 1863.

After the close of the war he became a clerk in the Norfolk Registry of Deeds, and early in 1873 was appointed assistant register there. At the close of that year, Mr. Ford having declined a reelection as register of deeds, Mr. Burdakin was elected as his successor, and entered upon the duties of the office on 7 January 1874. From that time he rendered conspicuous service to the county, receiving the constant support of both political parties and the full confidence of the voters. The new registry building owes its inception, its completion, and its fine appointments to his tactful foresight and wisdom.

His one absorbing interest outside his chosen work was in the Dedham Historical Society, to whose membership he was elected, together with the late Don Gleason Hill, in 1880. The headquarters of the Society and its small library were then in the county commissioners' office in the Court House. The two young men gave their unstinted and undivided support to that society, in which Mr. Burdakin served as librarian from 1885 and as curator from 1886.

Mr. Burdakin was long connected with the Dedham Institution for Savings, having been a trustee from 12 May 1885, a member of the Committee of Investment from 9 May 1908, and vice-president from 11 May 1912. To this bank he brought his valuable knowledge of estates in Dedham and its vicinity, an excellent judgment, and the exceptional training of his vocation, not to mention those admirable traits of character which so warmly endeared him to his fellow members. A man of quiet demeanor, but of good capacity for executive work, he found congenial interests in the duties he so cheerfully performed, and became an important factor in promoting the highest welfare of the bank.

Charles W. Carroll Post No. 144, G.A.R., of Dedham, received his loyal support, his charter membership dating from 28 July 1871, and he was elected its adjutant in 1882 and 1883 and its sergeant major in 1884 and 1885. He served as a member of the School Committee of Dedham from 1889 to 1890 and as a trustee of the Dedham Public Library from 1896 to 1911. He belonged also to the Fisher Ames Club, the Norfolk Republican Club, the Dedham Boat Club, and other organizations.

His sterling qualities of character not only shone among a wide acquaintance, but were an inspiring influence in his private life, his home and the First Church receiving the best he had to give.

He married, 18 November 1874, Ella Louise Smith, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary Elizabeth (Phillips) Smith, who survives him, together with two children, Leslie Richard of Allston, Mass., and Lillian, a pupil at Radcliffe College, Cambridge.

Cf. Memorial presented at a Meeting of the Trustees of the Dedham Institution of Savings, 11 May 1917.

FREDERICK JAMES HAMILTON MERRILL, PH.D., of Los Angeles, Cal., a life member since 1898, was born in New York City 30 April 1861, the son of Hamilton Wilcox and Louisa (Kauffmann) Merrill, and died at Los Angeles 29 November 1916. He was a descendant of Nathaniel¹ Merrill, an early settler at Newbury, Mass., through John,² Daniel,³ Israel,⁴ Jared,⁵ Asa,⁶ and Hamilton Wilcox,⁷ his father. His mother, who was born in New York City 14 March 1820, was the daughter of Christian Heinrich and Sophia (Copous) Kauffmann, the former a native of Stuttgart, Württemberg, and the latter a native of London, England.

He received his education at the Charlier Institute and at the School of Mines, Columbia University, where he received the degree of Ph.B. in 1885 and that of Ph.D. in 1890.

Dr. Merrill was a distinguished geologist, and rendered great practical service in his profession, holding for many years official positions first in the State of New Jersey and later in the State of New York. After 1904 he was engaged in private practice as a mining geologist, and since 1913 he had been field assistant of the California State Mining Bureau. He was the director of the scientific exhibit of the State of New York at the Chicago Exposition in 1893, at the Buffalo Exposition in 1901, and at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904. He was a member of many scientific and professional societies, and was the author of numerous scientific publications.

He married, 1 September 1887, Winifred Edgerton of New York, daughter of Emmet and Clara (Cooper) Edgerton, and was the father of four children, Louise Edgerton, Hamilton, Winifred, and Edgerton.

SAMUEL KENDALL BURBANK of Pittsford, Vt., a resident member since 1916, was born at Proctorsville, Vt., 15 March 1844, the son of Abel and Almira (Blood) Burbank, and died at Pittsford 21 January 1917. His paternal grandfather, Samuel Burbank, son of Samuel and grandson of Timothy, served as a captain at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

He received his education in the common schools, and devoted his life to business and to serving others in the spirit of Christian helpfulness. As town clerk and town treasurer of Pittsford, as a member of the Vermont Legislature in 1894-95, and as president, treasurer, and chairman of the Board of Directors of the MacLure Library Association, he was faithful in the conscientious performance of duty and won a multitude of friends. Loyal to his own church, he was always ready to cooperate with other churches in every useful work. Few among the citizens of Pittsford have been more unselfish, more versatile, more useful, and more beloved.

He married, 19 June 1872, Nancy J. Tottingham, who survives him.

ALFRED OTIS LARKIN of Portsmouth, N. H., a resident member since 1880, was born at Monterey, Cal., the son of Thomas Oliver and Rachel Haven (Holmes) Larkin, and died in Hong-Kong 21 January 1917. His paternal grandparents were Ebenezer and Mary (Oliver) Larkin, Mary Oliver being a descendant of Elder Thomas Oliver, who came to Boston from England in 1632. He was also descended from Richard Warren of the Mayflower. His father, Thomas Oliver Larkin, was United States consul at Monterey, before the acquisition of California by the United States.

Alfred Otis Larkin was educated at private schools in Washington, D. C., and was a student at the Harvard Medical School in 1868-69. He was a man of wealth, and never engaged in any active business or profession. After the death of his parents he made his home in Portsmouth, but spent his winters abroad. He was a great traveller, and had journeyed around the world several times. For many years he was a vestryman of St. John's Church (Episcopal), Portsmouth, and he was a member of the Portsmouth Athenæum and of a number of California societies.

He married, at Portsmouth, Mary Ball, daughter of Trueworthy M. and Alice Douglas (Sistare) Ball, and had one daughter, Alice Sistare Larkin, who was married, in September 1914, to Henry Wroughton Tonemin of St. Albans, co. Herts, England.

JAMES MACMASTER CODMAN, A.B., of Brookline, Mass., a resident member since 1894, was born in Paris, France, 17 April 1831, the son of Charles Russell and Anne (Macmaster) Codman, and died at Brookline 24 January 1917. He was a descendant of Robert¹ Codman, the immigrant, who was at Salem, Mass., in 1637, lived later at Salisbury, Mass., and in Connecticut, and died at Edgartown, then belonging to New York but later transferred to Massachusetts, in 1678, his line of descent leading through Stephen,² John,³ John,⁴ and John⁵ to Charles Russell,⁶ his father. His mother, born in London, England, in July 1798, was the daughter of James Macmaster of London and his wife, Anne Van Buskirk of New Jersey, daughter of Col. Abraham (Jacob, Thomas) and Jane (Dey) Van Buskirk. Jane Dey was of New York, and was the daughter of Anthony⁴ Dey (Richard,³ Anthony,² Richard,¹ who emigrated from Holland to New Netherland about 1635) and his wife, Hester Schuyler (Philip,³ Arnold,² Philip,¹ who emigrated from Holland to New Netherland in 1650).

James Macmaster Codman received his early education at Mr. and Mrs. Marshall's school, Bulfinch Street, Boston, at Cushing and Forbes's school, under the Park Street Church, Boston, at the Boston Latin School, and at Dr. Muhlenberg's school at Flushing, Long Island, N. Y. He entered Harvard College in 1847, and received the degree of A.B. in 1851.

In the year in which he received his academic degree Mr. Codman went to the East Indies, and afterwards, for a few years, he was engaged in Boston in business connected with the India trade. In 1858 he removed from Boston to Brookline, and thenceforth, until his death, this town was his place of residence. Much of his time, however, was spent in travel, and, in addition to the East Indies, he visited Japan, Egypt, many European countries, the West Indies, and various parts of the North American continent.

He was interested in agriculture and horticulture, and from his student days had made a study of the pedigrees of blooded cattle, especially of Guernsey cattle. He had visited the island of Guernsey, and was one of the first to import into America a herd of Guernsey cattle. He was for many years president, and afterwards president emeritus, of the American Cattle Club.

Literature and art also claimed his attention. For nearly twenty years he served as a trustee of the Brookline Public Library, and for two years he was one of the selectmen of the town. He was a member of the Union Club and of the St. Botolph Club of Boston.

He married, 19 October 1858, Henrietta Gray Sargent, who survives him, daughter of Ignatius and Henrietta (Gray) Sargent. Their children were: 1. Francis, born in 1859, died unmarried in 1885. 2. James Macmaster, of Brookline, A.B. (Harvard, 1884), born 20 April 1862, a lawyer practising in Boston. 3. Henry Sargent, born in 1864, died unmarried in 1893. 4. Philip, A.B. (Harvard, 1889), born 6 October 1868, died unmarried 28 October 1896. 5. Cora, born 12 July 1874, married, 24 July 1894, to William Ely of Providence, R. I.

JOHN FLETCHER MOFFETT of Watertown, N. Y., a resident member since 1915, was born at Paris Hill, Oneida Co., N. Y., 15 April 1841, the son of Charles Denny and Emily Hayman (Knollin) Moffett, and died in New York City 28 January 1917. He traced his descent from William¹ Moffat or Muffet of Newbury, Mass., through Joseph,² Joseph,³ Joseph,⁴ and Charles Denny,⁵ his father. He also numbered among his ancestors, on the paternal side, members of the Sargent, Bliss, Leonard, Richardson, Church, and Kendall families, and was a descendant of John Howland, John Tilley, and Richard Warren of the Mayflower. His mother was a native of Brixham, co. Devon, England, and came to America in 1827.

In 1845 Mr. Moffett's parents removed to Rodman, Jefferson Co., N. Y., and there his early life was spent, with the exception of two years of study at the Jefferson County Institute in Watertown, N. Y. In 1860 he entered the employ of the Watertown Bank & Loan Company in Watertown, where he remained for five years. He then became connected with Wooster Sherman's private bank for a short time, and in 1866 helped to reorganize a private bank owned by Norris Winslow. This became the Merchants' Bank, and Mr. Moffett was its cashier until 1882, as well as a stockholder and director. In that year he undertook the building of waterworks, electric light plants, steam railroads, street railways, etc., and the firm of Moffett, Hodgkins & Clarke, with which he was connected, had offices in New York City, and did a very extensive business in nearly every State of the Union and in Canada. After the dissolution of this company in 1893 Mr. Moffett did not engage in any other active business, but was occupied with his private affairs.

He always maintained a residence in Watertown, was active in the Methodist Church there, and was influential in establishing the Young Men's Christian Association in his home city. He was connected with many enterprises in Watertown, both philanthropic and commercial. He was an active Republican, and later a Progressive, but he never held any political office. He had much to do with making the Thousand Islands a summer resort, and for many years his family spent their summers in their cottage there. Shortly before his death, however, he purchased a home at Sacket's Harbor on Lake Ontario, where he contemplated spending his last years.

Mr. Moffett was a man of unusual physical vitality, and never knew illness until his last few years. Of sanguine temperament and generous, fun-loving disposition, his years sat lightly upon him, and he walked and spoke with the vigor of a much younger man. His mental abilities and business acumen were of a high order, while his readiness in mastering details and in going to the bottom of any subject in which he was interested was marvellous, even in his later years.

He married, 28 January 1862, Frances Pamela Todd of Rodman, N. Y., who died 26 January 1909, daughter of Enoch L. and Emmeline Jennette (Smith) Todd, a woman whose strength and sweetness of character, combined with unusual gifts of mind and with outward charm, made her an ideal companion and mother. Five children survive their father: Charles Todd, Jeannette Todd, Grace Emily, Frances Smith, and Earle Mortimer. Another child, Ella Bowman, died at the age of five years.

JOSIAH HENRY BENTON, A.M., LL.D., of Boston, a resident member since 1891, was born at Addison, Vt., 4 August 1843, the son of Josiah Henry and Martha Ellen (Danforth) Benton, and died in Boston 6 February 1917. He was a descendant of Andrew¹

Benton of Milford, Conn., through Samuel,² Jacob,³ Jacob,⁴ Samuel Slade,⁵ and Josiah Henry,⁶ his father.

He attended the Literary and Scientific Institute at New London, N. H., and studied law at the Albany Law School, which gave him the degree of LL.B. in 1866. From Dartmouth College he received the degree of A.M. in 1869 and from Norwich University that of LL.D. in 1908.

At the age of nineteen he enlisted as a private in Company H, Twelfth Vermont Volunteers, and served in the Civil War from August 1862 until July 1863.

In 1866 he was admitted to the bar, and practised law for a year at Bradford, Vt., and at Lancaster, N. H., from 1867 until 1873. He was assistant clerk and clerk of the New Hampshire House of Representatives in 1868-69 and in 1870-1872. In 1873 he came to Boston, where he built up an extensive law practice. He became general counsel for the Old Colony Railroad and for its steamboat lines, and later was employed in the same capacity by the New Haven interests. He was also a director and counsel for the Northern Railroad of New Hampshire, and from 1894 to 1906 he lectured on corporations and railroads before the Boston University Law School.

In 1894 Mr. Benton became a trustee of the Boston Public Library, and from 1908 on was president of the Board. He had been a trustee a year when the Library was moved from Boylston Street to Copley Square. Before he became president of the Board, even when business affairs were pressing, he devoted much time daily to the Library problems. In his later years he visited the Library every day, giving to it practically all of his attention. The branch-library system was developed largely through his efforts. When the plan was proposed of enlarging the site of the central building by the purchase of three properties on Blagden Street, he volunteered to acquire them in his own name, in order that the city might obtain them at the lowest possible prices. He often appeared before the City Council on Library questions, and always showed a thorough knowledge of this department. He insisted that the Boston Public Library should be kept aloof from Boston municipal politics, and politics never entered into the conduct of that institution, its system of management being a model for all other city departments. As president of the Board of Trustees, he always took care that its annual report should be issued as soon as possible after the close of the fiscal year, and the report for 1916-17 was issued while the inauguration ceremonies were being held in City Hall. He made generous provision for the Library in his will.

Mr. Benton served also as a trustee of the Massachusetts State Library and as president of its Board of Trustees. He was also a trustee of Boston University. He was a Republican, but never took any especially active part in politics. He was a Mason, and a member of several societies and clubs, among which may be mentioned the Bostonian Society, the Vermont Historical Society, and the Algonquin Club.

He was the author of monographs and addresses on legal, economic, and legislative subjects, and also of "Samuel Slade Benton, His Ancestors and Descendants," 1901, "A Notable Libel Suit," 1904, "Early Census Making in Massachusetts," 1905, "The Story of the Old Boston Town House," 1908, "The Book of Common Prayer," 1910, "Warning Out in New England," 1911, "John Baskerville, Type Founder and Printer," and "Voting in the Field."

Mr. Benton married first, 19 May 1866, Josephine Emery Aldrich, who died 8 April 1872, daughter of Richard Ransom and Emma H. Aldrich of Bradford, Vt.; and secondly, 2 September 1875, Mary Elizabeth Abbott of Concord, N. H., who survives him, daughter of Charles Dudley and Laurinda (Holbrook) Abbott.

HENRY DWIGHT HOLTON, A.M., M.D., of Brattleboro, Vt., a resident member since 1912, was born at Saxton's River, Vt., 24 July 1838, the son of Elihu Dwight and Nancy (Grout) Holton, and died at Brattleboro 12 February 1917. He traced his descent from Henry¹ Holton, through Joseph,² Isaac,³ William,⁴ Bethiah,⁵ Joeth,⁶ and Elihu Dwight,⁷ his father. On his mother's side he was descended from Capt. John Grout of Watertown and Sudbury, Mass., one of the early immigrants from England.

He attended the academy at Saxton's River, and studied medicine in New York, graduating at the University of New York in 1860.

After six months of dispensary work in Brooklyn, N. Y., he began practice as a physician at Putney, Vt., was surgeon of the Twelfth Vermont Volunteers in the Civil War, and in 1867 settled at Brattleboro, where he spent the rest of his life. He early took a leading part in the medical profession in the Connecticut Valley, his practice reaching into Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He was long the best known surgeon of that region, and his professional activities continued until his election in 1900 as secretary of the Vermont Board of Health, a position which he held until 1912. After accepting this office he gradually relinquished his practice, and devoted himself unselfishly to his official work and to the many business and scientific organizations with which he was connected.

During his active professional life he was a member of the Connecticut River Medical Society and the Vermont State Society, and served each as president. In 1873 he was called to the chair of materia medica in the medical department of the University of Vermont, and lectured there for thirteen years. He was also a trustee of the University and of the State Agricultural College from 1873 on for eighteen years. At the same time he was medical examiner of the Vermont Asylum for the Insane at Brattleboro. He joined the American Medical Association in 1864 and was one of its vice-presidents in 1880. He was active in the organization of the Pan-American Medical Congress and in the National Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, and he was a member of numerous other scientific organizations in this country and abroad, such as the British Medical Association, the American Academy of Medicine, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the New England Educational League and the American Public Health Association.

He was also prominent in public life. He was a member of the Vermont Senate in 1884 and of the House of Representatives in 1888, a commissioner to the Nicaraguan Canal Convention in 1892, and to the Columbian Exposition in the following year, and a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1896. He was long president of the Vermont branch of the American Red Cross Society, surgeon of the Colonial Wars, and a member and at one time president of the Vermont Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

With all his responsibilities he did not fail to show deep interest in the affairs of his home town. For twenty-five years he served on the School Board, of which he was chairman for fifteen years. He was trustee from the first of the Brattleboro Free Library, and moderator for twelve years of the town meetings. The Brattleboro Home for the Aged and Disabled and the Austine Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Blind owed their existence chiefly to his broad humanitarianism and were objects of his special care during his last years. He was for sixteen years president of the Brattleboro Gas Light Company, for many years director and latterly president of the Vermont National Bank, and director and vice-president in the Fort Dummer Mills.

In his will he bequeathed his home and a sum of money to the Baptist Church, in which he had been a deacon, and left bequests to several missionary societies, to the Austine Institution, the Home for the Aged and Disabled, the Leland and Gray Seminary in Townshend, Vt., the College of Medicine, the University of Vermont, and other institutions.

He married, 19 November 1862, Ellen Hoit, who died in 1909.

HON. HENRY SEWALL WEBSTER, A.M., of Gardiner, Me., a resident member since 1909, was born at Augusta, Me., 26 September 1845, the son of John Milton and Sarah Hayes (Hussey) Webster, and died at Gardiner 16 February 1917. He was a descendant of John¹ Webster of Ipswich, Mass., 1635, through Nathan,² Nathan,³ Nathan,⁴ Nathan,⁵ John Ordway,⁶ and John Milton,⁷ his father.

He received his education at the Augusta High School and at Bowdoin College, at which he was graduated in 1867 and from which he received the degree of A.M. in 1870.

After graduation he taught school for three years, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and in the same year took up his residence in Gardiner. Later he became cashier of the Cobbossee National Bank of Gardiner, and in 1888 was elected treasurer of the Gardiner Savings Institution, of which he was treasurer and trustee at the time of his decease. He held various municipal offices in Gardiner, and from 1885 until 1893 served as judge of probate and insolvency for Kennebec County, Me. He was a member of the Maine Historical Society and an honorary member of the New Hampshire Genealogical Society. He belonged also to the Society of Sons of the American Revolution and to the Society of Mayflower Descendants, was a thirty-second degree Mason, and had held high office in several Masonic bodies.

He was the author of some books on Masonic history, and in 1904 published a genealogy entitled "Thomas Sewall: Some of his Ancestors and All of his Descendants." In his later years he devoted much time to the work of compiling the vital records of Maine towns, and several volumes containing such records of towns in the Kennebec Valley were published by him, in accordance with a State law. From time to time he contributed to the REGISTER valuable Friends' and family records.

He married at Augusta, 12 August 1876, Mary Chase Johnson of Augusta, daughter of William Treby and Martha Tappan (Chase) Johnson, who, together with one daughter, Martha Tappan Webster, survives him. Another daughter died young.

SARAH HASKELL CROCKER of Boston, a life member since 1904, was born in Boston 8 September 1840, the daughter of Uriel and Sarah Kidder (Haskell) Crocker, and died in Boston 31 March 1917. She traced her descent from William¹ Crocker of Scituate and Barnstable, in the Plymouth Colony, through Job,² Samuel,³ Cornelius,⁴ Josiah,⁵ Uriel,⁶ and Uriel,⁷ her father. Five of the passengers in the Mayflower were also her ancestors.

She was educated in Boston, and in the course of her life, which extended over three quarters of a century, was active in many enterprises connected with the welfare of the community. Her energy in the interests which enlisted her sympathy and support was unfailing. She was prominent in the movement to save and to restore the Old South Meetinghouse, at a time when the raising of funds for this purpose seemed impossible; and afterwards, as a member of the Board of Managers, she maintained her interest in the educational work of the Old South Association up to the time of her death. One of the causes which especially appealed to her in the past few years was the building up of the Children's Museum at Jamaica Pond, and her interest in botany led her to offer prizes for the best collection of leaves made by the children. Miss Crocker was also treasurer and honorary vice-president of the Society of Colonial Dames, and as a delegate to various conventions she made numerous friends throughout the United States. Her home on Commonwealth Avenue was always open for meetings in aid of any cause which she desired to promote, and as a hostess she was most cordial. While best known through her broader activities and philanthropy, she had time for a multitude of other kindnesses to people of all stations in life, and appeals to her for aid in deserving cases were never unheeded.

Miss Crocker was a sister of the late Uriel H. Crocker, who helped to establish the park system of Boston, and of the late George Glover Crocker, for many years chairman of the Boston Transit Commission and in his later years a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society. Several nephews and nieces survive her.

EDWARD TOBEY TUCKER, A.B., M.D., of New Bedford, Mass., a resident member since 1887, was born at New Bedford 29 September 1849, the son of Charles Russell and Dorcas (Fry) Tucker, and died at New Bedford 10 April 1917. He was a member of one of the oldest and best known families of Friends in New Bedford and Dartmouth, Mass., and traced his descent from Henry¹ Tucker of Sandwich, in the Plymouth Colony, through John,² Joseph,³ John,⁴ Benjamin,⁵ and Charles Russell,⁶ his father.

He was prepared for college at the Friends' Academy in New Bedford, was graduated at Brown University in 1871, and received the degree of M.D. from the Harvard Medical School in 1874.

He was actively engaged in the practice of his profession in New Bedford for a period of forty-two years, extending to within a year of his death. For a considerable portion of this time he was also in the service of the city, being physician to the overseers of the poor from 1903 to 1905 and physician in charge of the city almshouse from 1904 to December 1915. From 1893 to 1898 he was a member of the New Bedford School Committee. He took an active interest in charitable and philanthropic institutions in New Bedford and elsewhere, and for a number of years was a director of the Young Men's Christian Association, of which he was at one time president.

As a leading member and official of the Society of Friends he was conspicuous for his activity and usefulness, being broad-minded, liberal, and keenly interested in every movement that tended to the uplifting of the moral tone of the community. He was a member of the committee appointed by the Society of Friends to supervise the Friends' School in Providence, R. I., which is now known as the Moses Brown School. He held the office of clerk of the Monthly Meeting of Friends from 1883 on, and had also been clerk of the Quarterly Meeting since 1887.

He was a member of the American Academy of Medicine, of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and of the New Bedford Society for Medical Improvement. He was also a member of the Old Colony Historical Society of Taunton, Mass., and the Old Dartmouth Historical Society of New Bedford.

He married, 7 June 1877, Anna Elizabeth Pope, daughter of Thomas Pope, who, with one son, Robert Earle Tucker of New Bedford, survives him.

CHARLES EVERETT RANLETT of Newton, Mass., a resident member since 1887, was born at Montville, Me., 9 November 1816, the son of John and Cynthia (Everett) Ranlett, and died at Newton 3 May 1917, aged 100 years, 5 months, 24 days. He traced his descent from Charles¹ Runlet of Exeter, N. H., through James² Randlett, Capt. Charles³ Rundlet, Charles⁴ Ranlet, and John⁵ Ranlett, his father.

When Charles Everett Ranlett was about three years old his father died, and the boy was brought up by his mother, who lived in Montville, Camden, and St. George, Me., and was married secondly, in 1828, to Joseph Watts of St. George. He attended the common schools, and in his thirteenth year shipped as cabin boy on a coasting schooner and thus began his career as a sailor. At the age of twenty-one he sailed from Thomaston, Me., as master of the schooner Waldoboro, laden with lime. The vessel sprang a leak in a Southern harbor, the lime caught fire, and Captain Ranlett's first command was destroyed. He was master of the bark Alabama (1840-1844), the clipper ship Kentucky (1844-45), sailing in these two vessels between New York, New Orleans, and European ports, the bark Miltiades (1846-1848), in which he sailed to Limerick, to carry relief to the starving population of Ireland, and also to Odessa and Antwerp, the ship Ionian (1849-1852), in which he made the voyage around Cape Horn to San Francisco, being in that port at the time of the great fire in 1851, and the ship Oracle (1854-1857), in which, as well as in its predecessor, the Ionian, he made several voyages to India, China, and Australia. In the summer of 1860 he commanded the schooner Nautilus on a scientific expedition to Labrador and Greenland. Later he commanded the bark Sunbeam (1863-1865), in which he sailed to Australia, Peru, Ireland, and Spain, accompanied by his whole family and running the risk of capture by Confederate privateers, and the bark Asterias (1868-69), his last command. He then retired from the sea, having during his career as a master mariner commanded seventeen vessels (including some small vessels not named above), sailed three times around the globe, and visited forty-six foreign ports.

In the intervals between his voyages Captain Ranlett was usually engaged in shipbuilding, and most of the vessels which he commanded were built in Maine under his own supervision. His residence was at Thomaston, and he was one of the selectmen of that town in 1862 and its representative in the Maine Legislature in 1863. In 1866 he removed from Thomaston to the Auburndale section of Newton, Mass., which was his residence for the remaining half century of his life. He was one of the selectmen of the town of Newton from 1871 to 1873, and one of the representatives of the city of Newton in the Massachusetts General Court in 1877, 1878, and 1879. He was a member of the Auburndale Congregational Society.

In 1867 Captain Ranlett compiled a manuscript genealogy of the Everett family, including the descendants of Phineas Everett, his grandfather.

He married first, 9 September 1841, Elizabeth Bond Stearns, who died 4 June 1844, daughter of Dr. Charles Stearns of St. George, Me.; and secondly, 25 March 1846, Ann Maria Jordan, who died 18 June 1893, daughter of Oliver Jordan of Thomaston, Me. By his first wife he had one child, Elizabeth Frances, born 21 June 1842 and now deceased; and by his second wife he had three children, Charles Oliver, born 17 January 1847 and now deceased, Susan Alice, born 3 July 1853 and living unmarried at Auburndale, and Frederick Jordan, A.B. (Harvard, 1880), born 17 November 1857, a lawyer practising in Boston and residing at Auburndale.

GEORGE HERBERT BEAMAN of Washington, D. C., a resident member since 1904, was born at Edgartown, Mass., 27 July 1845, the son of Charles Cotesworth and Mary Ann (Stacy) Beaman, and died in Washington 5 May 1917. He traced his descent from Gamaliel¹ Beaman of Dorchester and Lancaster, Mass., through John,² John,³ John,⁴ Joseph,⁵ Ephraim,⁶ and Charles Cotesworth,⁷ his father.

He was educated at Wellfleet and Southborough, Mass., at North Scituate, R. I., and at the high school at Salem, Mass., where he was prepared for college, and where he was graduated in 1861. He did not, however, enter college, but became a bookkeeper in Salem, remaining there until 1864. The following year he became a clerk in the customhouse in Boston, where he remained until 1869, when he formed a partnership with his brother, under the firm name of Beaman Brothers, and engaged in the commission business in Boston. In 1880 he went to Great Britain with the idea of opening up a grain-export business with firms in Liverpool and Glasgow. From 1889 on he resided in Washington, where he was engaged in developing real estate and helping in the work of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He married, 12 December 1889, Anna Ekin Lovett, daughter of George Sidney and Caroline (de Beelen) Lovett, who survives him.

LIEUT.-COL. FRANKLIN LAWRENCE JOY, Massachusetts National Guard, of Roxbury, Mass., a resident member since 1904, was born in Boston 15 October 1857, the son of John D. W. Joy, a merchant of Boston of long standing, and died suddenly in Boston 12 May 1917, while leading his command, the former First Corps Cadets, on Boylston Street, in the parade in honor of Marshal Joffre.

Entering business as a young man, he was for many years a member of the firm of Joy, Langdon & Son, and later became president of the Forbes Lithographic Company and a trustee of the estate of his father.

For thirty-seven years he was a member of the First Corps Cadets, rising from grade to grade in this noted organization until 15 April 1910, when he was elected lieutenant-colonel. He thus became the actual commander of the corps, of which the Governor of the Commonwealth was the official head. He was very prominent in military circles, and, although a strict disciplinarian, was one of the most popular officers in the State of Massachusetts. During his many years of service he worked unceasingly and untiringly for perfection, bringing his command up to the highest standard of excellence. Shortly before his death the Corps, with a greatly enlarged membership, was organized, under his supervision, as a regiment of engineers, and is now, as the One Hundred and First Engineers, in active service with the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

He married Jeannie B. Means of Boston, who survives him, together with three children, Mrs. Albert P. Madeira of Washington, D. C., John H. Joy, and Beatrice Joy.

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS MOWRY, A.M., PH.D., LL.D., of Hyde Park, Mass., elected to resident membership in 1878 and made a corresponding member in 1908, was born at Uxbridge, Mass., 13 August 1829, the son of Jonathan and Hannah (Brayton) Mowry, and died at Hyde Park 20 May 1917. He traced his descent from Nathaniel¹ Mowry, an early settler of Rhode Island, through Joseph,² Daniel,³ Joseph,⁴ Richard,⁵ Gideon,⁶ and Jonathan,⁷ his father.

He was educated in the Uxbridge public schools, the Friends' School at Providence, R. I., and at the Smithfield (R. I.) Union Academy, received his immediate preparation for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and studied for two years with the Class of 1858 of Brown University, from which he received the degree of A.M. in 1866. Bates College conferred on him in 1882 the degree of Ph.D., and Whitman College (Walla Walla, Wash.) in 1906 the degree of LL.D.

He was a captain in the Eleventh Rhode Island Infantry, 1862-63, but his life work was that of a teacher, editor, and author. His career as an educator was long, varied, and eminently successful. He was principal of the Providence High School, English and Scientific Department, 1859-1864, superintendent of the Cranston (R. I.) public schools, 1864-1866, principal of the English and Classical School in Providence (a private school which he established), 1864-1884, editor of the Journal of Education, 1884-1886, and of Education (a magazine), 1886-1891, superintendent of schools at Salem, Mass., 1891-1894, member of the Providence School Board, 1869-1874, and of the Boston School Committee, 1888-1891, and president of the Martha's Vineyard Summer Institute, 1887-1905. He had lectured before universities, colleges, normal schools, and teachers' institutes in twenty-five States, was a member of numerous teachers' associations, and belonged to the American Historical Association, the Phi Beta Kappa, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Loyal Legion, the American Peace Society, the Massachusetts Peace Society, and the Boston Congregational Club. In 1861 he became a licensed preacher of the Congregational Church. In politics he was a Republican.

Mr. Mowry wrote much, not only articles for magazines and encyclopædias but also pamphlets and books on historical subjects. Among his published works are the following: "Studies in Civil Government," 1887, "Elements of Civil Government," 1890, "Talks with My Boys," 1892 (5th edition, 1909), "A History of the United States," 1896, "First Steps in the History of Our Country," 1898 (revised edition, 1907), "American Inventions and Inventors," 1900, "Marcus Whitman and Early Oregon," 1901, "The Territorial Growth of the United States," 1902, "American Heroes," 1903, "American Pioneers" (in collaboration with Blanche Swett Mowry), 1905, "Essentials of United States History" (in collaboration with the same), 1906, and "Recollections of a New England Educator," 1909. He was also a diligent genealogist, and compiled "Nathaniel Mowry and His Descendants," 1878, "Richard Mowry — His Ancestors and Descendants," 1878, and "Descendants of John Mowry of Rhode Island," 1909.

He married, 29 April 1858, Caroline Eliza Aldrich of Woonsocket, R. I., daughter of Ezekiel Aldrich. She died 14 January 1897; but two children, Mrs. Ruth (Mowry) Brown of Hyde Park and Walter H. Mowry of Portsmouth, N. H., survive their parents.

WILTON FRANCIS BUCKNAM of Stoneham, Mass., a resident member since 1900, was born at Stoneham 9 February 1861, the son of Sumner Warren and Arabella Augusta (Green) Bucknam, and died at Stoneham 28 May 1917. He traced his descent from William¹

Bucknam of Malden, Mass., through Lieut. Joses,² Edward,³ Dea. Edward,⁴ Ebenezer,⁵ Edward,⁶ and Sumner Warren,⁷ his father.

He was educated in the common schools of Stoneham and at the McCollum Institute, Mount Vernon, N. H. In 1882 he entered the service of the Boston, Lowell & Concord Railroad Company, and remained with the Boston & Lowell Railroad, which in 1887 was merged in the Boston and Maine Railroad system. From 1884 to 1900 he was in continuous service as a locomotive engineer. He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow, and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He belonged to the Congregational Church.

Mr. Bucknam devoted much time to research along historical and genealogical lines, having a genius for painstaking and careful collecting of statistics and facts of the olden times. He was the author of "Stoneham Two Hundred Years Ago," a lengthy series of papers which appeared in the Stoneham Independent and furnished valuable information about early Stoneham and its first settlers. He was also a frequent contributor to the Boston Evening Transcript and other papers, and undertook the work of compiling a memorial of the Bucknam family.

He married, 28 June 1900, Jennie Silver Moulton, who, with two sons, Edward Albert and Arthur Bertram, survives him.

MRS. LUCY SANBORN (GOODELL) CONNOR of Stow, Mass., a resident member since 1913, was born at Hillsborough, N. H., 22 February 1836, the daughter of George Dodge and Rebecca (Andrews) Goodell, and died at Stow 23 June 1917. She was a descendant of Robert¹ Goodell of Salem, Mass., through Zachariah,² David,³ David,⁴ David,⁵ David,⁶ and George Dodge,⁷ her father. On her mother's side she was descended from Lieut. John¹ Andrews of Ipswich, Mass.

Mrs. Connor received her education in the public schools of her native town, supplemented by attendance at the academies at Washington and Meriden, N. H., and subsequently taught school for several years at Washington and Hillsborough, N. H. For the past twenty years she had resided in Massachusetts, and was a member of and contributor to numerous charitable and educational societies. At the time of her death she had been a member of the Congregational Church at Henniker, N. H., for fifty-six years.

She was married, 25 October 1860, as his second wife, to Abel D. L. F. Connor of Henniker, N. H., who died 11 February 1889.

OLIVER LEONARD BRIGGS of Boston, a resident member since 1885, was born at Westmoreland, N. H., 18 September 1832, the son of Amasa C. and Sally (Leonard) Briggs, and died in Boston 8 July 1917. His greatgrandfather was Caleb Briggs, and his grandfather Lemuel Briggs.

He was educated in the schools of his native town and at Comer's Commercial School in Boston. He came to Boston at the age of eighteen years, and was engaged as a clerk in a house dealing in West India goods. He afterwards became a bookkeeper for James B. Dow, publisher of the Christian Witness, and while employed by Mr. Dow he published a work on bookkeeping. In 1861 he went into the book business on his own account at the corner of Washington and Essex Streets, and continued in this business for several years. Then, in 1868, he took up the manufacturing and selling of billiard tables, a business in which, under the name of Oliver L. Briggs & Sons, he was eminently successful and remained actively engaged until a short time before his death.

He was a member of various Masonic bodies and of the Boston Art Club, was one of the first members of the Algonquin Club before it was reorganized, and was for many years a member of Trinity Church.

Mr. Briggs married, 5 September 1860, Mary Sabin Stone, born in India 8 November 1837, daughter of Rev. Cyrus Stone, a missionary in India. Mrs. Briggs and their son, Frederick Huntington Briggs of Boston, survive him.

SAMUEL WALTER WOODWARD of Washington, D. C., elected a resident member 2 May 1917, was born at Damariscotta, Me., 13 December 1848, the son of Samuel and Jerusha Baker (Ersline) Woodward, and died at his summer home in Stockbridge, Mass., 1 August 1917. He was a descendant, in the tenth generation, of Nathaniel Woodward, who settled in Boston in 1633; and through his grandmother, Lavinia Wadsworth, he was descended from Elder William Brewster, Francis Cooke, Stephen Hopkins, Richard Warren, Henry Samson, Edward Doty, and John Alden, all of whom came to New England in the Mayflower in 1620.

He was prepared for Bowdoin College at Lincoln Academy, New-castle, Me., but did not enter upon a collegiate course, the bent of his mind determining him to choose a mercantile career. In 1865 he came to Boston and entered the employ of Shepard Brothers, dealers in dry goods at 320 Hanover Street. Later he was employed by Cushing & Ames on the same street. In 1873, in company with Alvin M. Lothrop, he opened a dry goods store in Chelsea, Mass., and conducted a successful business there for several years. Desiring a larger field, he sold out his business in 1880 and started anew in Washington, D. C. Here, under skilful management and close application, the business rapidly increased, requiring constantly enlarged space and facilities until, at the time of his decease, it had become established as the largest department store in the country, south of Philadelphia.

Early in life Mr. Woodward identified himself with religious work, and when he went to Washington he joined the Calvary Baptist Church. Through his endeavors the church was enlarged and a new Sunday school house built at a cost of $125,000, of which he contributed the larger part. The Young Men's Christian Association of Washington was another institution which received his strong support. He was its president for ten years, during which its membership increased from one hundred and sixty-four to over five thousand. At the close of his ten years of service, on 15 February 1909, he was tendered by the citizens of Washington a public reception and banquet, in which many of the people of the city who were prominent in public and private life participated. He was also one of the organizers of the Laymen's Missionary Movement and a member of its executive committee of fifteen, and was one of the first two commissioners to visit the foreign fields, sailing from San Francisco 12 February 1907.

Though for many years a Democrat in politics, he refused in 1896 to support Mr. Bryan and voted for Mr. McKinley; and when the latter was inaugurated, Mr. Woodward was offered the chairmanship of the Inauguration Committee, but was obliged to decline this position by reason of business pressure. He was identified with many charitable and financial institutions in Washington, and was a member of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and of the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

He married at Chelsea, Mass., 24 June 1874, Mary Catherine Wade, daughter of William and Irene (Nichols) Wade, who died in the June preceding his own death. One son and three daughters survive him.

JOHN TAYLOR SLOAN of New Haven, Conn., a resident member since 1913, was born in New York City 12 February 1846, the son of Thomas George and Jane Earle (Paton) Sloan, and died at New Haven 12 October 1917.

He was educated in the seminary that was established by his father in New Haven, and was prepared for the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale College. But in October 1861 he entered the Union Army, enlisting in the First Connecticut Light Battery, in which he served three years, being one of the youngest members of the battery.

In 1882 he entered the real-estate firm of his father, which afterwards became the John T. Sloan Company, with which he remained until his death. This firm was one of the largest and most prosperous real-estate firms in New Haven, and was widely known throughout the State of Connecticut.

Mr. Sloan was a Mason, and was also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, the New Haven Historical Society, and various other organizations. He was much interested in Colonial history, being regarded as an authority on the early history of New Haven.

He married, 25 December 1868, Elsie M. Watrous, daughter of Elihu and Charlotte (Rogers) Watrous, who survives him, together with three children, Charlotte Watrous Sloan, Thomas George Sloan, a physician at South Manchester, Conn., and John Taylor Sloan, Jr., the head of the John T. Sloan Company.

GEORGE VASMER LEVERETT, A.M., LL.B., of Boston, elected a resident member in 1890 and made a life member in 1891, was born at Charlestown, Mass., 16 February 1846, the son of Daniel and Charlotte (Betteley) Leverett, and died in Boston 18 October 1917. The family home in Charlestown was on Richmond Street, now Rutherford Avenue, in the house that is still standing behind the Episcopal Church on Bow Street.

He was prepared for college at the Harvard Grammar School in Charlestown and at the Charlestown High School, ranking first in his class, and entered Harvard College in 1863. There he was graduated in 1867, again taking the first rank, and then entered the Harvard Law School, where he received the degree of LL.B. in 1869. Meanwhile, from 1868 to 1870, he was instructor in mathematics at Harvard, and received the degree of A.M. from his alma mater in the latter year. In 1871 he was admitted to the bar, and entered upon the practice of law in Boston, in the office of Chandler, Thayer & Hudson, with Professor James B. Thayer of the Harvard Law School, an association which continued until the latter's death in 1902.

Early in his career Mr. Leverett became connected with the American Bell Telephone Company, the parent company, it is believed, having been organized in his office. In 1886 he was made official attorney of the Company, and, after a few years, its general counsel. Acting in this capacity for the Bell Company and for its successor, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, "he was obliged to assume the entire responsibility for its legal matters. Every contract . . . of the company, every law of state legislatures or of Congress that might effect the company's interests, every decision of a court of last resort in the United States that bore upon those interests was subject to his scrutiny, and was taken into account in his daily work." The Trustees of the Huntington Avenue Lands, organized in 1871, had their headquarters in his office, and he was their clerk and later one of their number. Besides these interests Mr. Leverett had a large professional practice, and was trustee for many estates. Being an authority in his profession, the lawyers of neighboring offices were accustomed to bring their difficulties to him, and he was always ready to help them.

Mr. Leverett was a director in the Conveyancers' Title Insurance Company, the State Street Trust Company, and other corporations, a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank, a member of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a member of the Harvard Club of Boston, the Harvard Club of New York, the University Club of Boston, the University Club of New York, the University Club of Chicago, the Union Club of Boston, the Oakley Country Club, the Bostonian Society, and the Bunker Hill Monument Association. He always maintained also his interest in the affairs of his native place.

Although so actively engaged in professional duties, Mr. Leverett found time to pursue his favorite studies in Greek and mathematics, to read widely, and to enjoy the concerts given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. His genial disposition won and retained for him a host of friends, and his generous nature led him to assist many worthy unfortunates, to whom he gave, but never loaned, money.

In 1880 he moved with his mother from Charlestown to Cambridge, Mass., and on 3 April 1888 he married his first cousin, Mary E. L. Tebbetts of Cambridge, who died 5 June 1897. They had no children, and after his wife's death Mr. Leverett moved to Boston, which was his residence for the rest of his life.

CHARLES FREDERIC FITZ of Watertown, Mass., a resident member since 1899, was born at Kingston, N. H., 20 March 1835, the son of Asa and Susan (Burroughs) Fitz, and died at Watertown 24 October 1917. He was descended from Robert Fitts, who was at Salisbury, Mass., in 1639. On his mother's side he was connected with George Burroughs, a martyr of the Witchcraft Delusion.

He was educated at the public schools in Cambridge, at Nathaniel Allen's school in Newton, and at the Normal School in Bridgewater, Mass. He began his business life in the office of the Boston Traveler in 1855, and in December of the same year became a clerk in the Suffolk Bank, Boston. In 1866 he entered the Old Boston National Bank, from which he was transferred in 1870 to the National Union Bank of Boston, where he remained until his retirement in 1912.

Mr. Fitz was deeply interested in historical and biographical research and devoted much time to copying and preparing for publication, in collaboration with others, the old town records of Watertown, which were published in several volumes, under the auspices of the Watertown Historical Society. He took a keen interest, also, in the Watertown Public Library, of which he was for three years a trustee, and in other public and philanthropic institutions. He was a member, and at one time president, of the Watertown Historical Society. He instituted at Watertown the Unitarian Sunday afternoon lectures, which were given for three or four successive years by John Fiske; and in early life he had helped to promote other free lecture courses by prominent speakers. He was a strong advocate of many so-called reforms in politics and economics, and was one of the early members of the Free Trade League and the Free Religious Association of America.

He served his town faithfully as one of the selectmen in 1891, 1892, 1893, and 1895, being chairman of the Board in the last-mentioned year, and he was chairman of the committee charged with the erection of a new high school in Watertown.

He married, 18 June 1863, Annie Gibson Cummings, daughter of Daniel Gibson and Maria Louisa (Forbes) Cummings, who survives him, together with two children, Abby Manley Fitz and Charles Frederic Fitz.

EDWARD OSCAR PUNCHARD, PH.G., of Winchester, Mass., a resident member since 1913, was born at Chelsea, Mass., 1 March 1855, the son of Thomas and Nancy Maria (Parker) Punchard, and died at Winchester 15 November 1917. He traced his descent from William¹ Punchard of Salem, through John,² John,³ Samuel,⁴ John,⁵ and Thomas,⁶ his father.

He was educated in the public schools of Chelsea, and when sixteen years old went to work for a shoe findings firm on High Street, Boston, and later became apprentice and clerk with his uncle, Dr. John Buck, pharmacist, in Chelsea. During his stay with Dr. Buck he attended the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, and was graduated there in 1876. After that he went to the Parker House, Boston, where his uncle, Harvey D. Parker, the proprietor and owner, placed him in the hotel as steward. From that position he rose to be junior partner, and after the death of Mr. Parker in 1884 he carried on the management of the hotel for five years, when he sold the business to the late J. Reed Whipple, and, in 1891, retired to Winchester.

In early life he was a member of several Boston clubs, from which he afterwards withdrew, and later he belonged for a time to the Calumet Club of Winchester. He was a member of the Church of the Epiphany in Winchester, and sang in the choir there for twenty years, having an excellent bass voice.

Mr. Punchard married, 2 October 1883, Julia Arabelle Walker, daughter of Dr. Charles Henry and Juliana Perkins (Morse) Walker, who survives him, together with one daughter, Emma, who was married, 10 November 1909, to Alfred De Shon Radley, A.B. (University of Chicago, 1903), LL.B. (Harvard, 1908), formerly of Peoria, Ill., but now of Winchester.

MARY KINGSBURY TALCOTT of Hartford, Conn., a resident member since 1904, was born at Hartford 3 November 1847, the daughter of Russell Goodrich and Mary (Seymour) Talcott, and died at Hartford 17 November 1917. She traced her descent from John¹ Talcott of Cambridge, Mass., 1632, through Capt. Samuel,² Lieut. Benjamin,³ Col. Elizur,⁴ George,⁵ Russell,⁶ and Russell Goodrich,⁷ her father. She was also connected with many other leading Connecticut families.

She was educated in private schools and at the Hartford Female Seminary. All her life was passed in Hartford, and was given to study, reading, and gaining a wide knowledge of the old families of Connecticut and their ancestral lines. She wrote many articles about the town and city of Hartford, and was one of the contributors to the "Memorial History of Hartford County," edited by the late Dr. J. Hammond Trumbull and published in 1886. She also edited two volumes of Talcott Papers in the Connecticut Historical Society's Collections, vols. 4 and 5. She had been for many years a valued contributor to the pages of the REGISTER, and sent to it for publication from time to time not only brief genealogies but also copies of the records of many Connecticut churches which had been secured by the Connecticut Society of Colonial Dames, of which she was registrar and genealogist. She was also registrar of the Ruth Wyllys Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, deputy governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Connecticut, governor for Connecticut of the Order of Descendants of Colonial Governors, and a member of various Hartford clubs. In genealogical circles she was recognized as one of the foremost genealogists in Connecticut.

JOHN DOWST of Manchester, N. H., a resident member since 1900, was born at Allenstown, N. H., 12 January 1848, the son of Henry and Hannah Fowler (Davis) Dowst, and died at Manchester 22 November 1917. He was descended from Samuel Dowse of Portsmouth, N. H., or its neighborhood, who married, 1 March 1688/9, Sarah Berry of New Castle, N. H. Mr. Dowst's ancestors were among the early settlers of Rye and Hampton, N. H. In 1785 his great-great-grandfather, Ozem Dowst, and his great-grandfather, John Dowst, with his grandfather, Henry Dowst, then only one year old, moved to Epsom, N. H., and in 1790 his great-grandfather, John Dowst, bought a farm in Allenstown which is still the homestead of the family. The house which he then built became in 1814 the ell of one of the mansions of those days, which was built by his son Henry, who married Abigail Brown, a descendant of John Brown, who was in Hampton in 1638.

John Dowst was educated in the common schools and at Pembroke Academy, Pembroke, N. H. Forty-two years ago he took up his residence in Manchester, which was thenceforth his home. He associated himself with his brother, the late Frank Dowst, and with Hon. Natt Head, at one time Governor of New Hampshire, in forming the Head & Dowst Company, of which he became treasurer. This company was one of the leading firms of contractors and builders in northern New England, and enjoyed a reputation for reliability and energy that was unsurpassed.

Mr. Dowst was a recognized authority in matters of southern New Hampshire history and genealogy, and many were the seekers for information on those subjects who came to him for information and found him ready to respond to every request, oftentimes putting himself to great inconvenience to obtain facts in which he had no personal interest. For twenty-five years he gathered historical facts relating to Allenstown from many sources, such as the State records, papers of private families, and interviews with old inhabitants. He prepared historical sketches of the old Christian Church of the town and of his own family. His notes are probably the best records of town affairs in existence. For many years he was identified with the Manchester Historical Association as one of its officers, and was a trustee of the New Hampshire Historical Society, a director of the Unitarian Society, and a member of the Derryfield Club. He was in his political affiliations a Democrat of the old school, but he was never known to be otherwise than tolerant of the opinions of others. His aspirations were ever along the line of good and worthy citizenship. "A serious business man, an earnest reader and student, Mr. Dowst yet possessed a wholesome sense of humor which made his companionship doubly enjoyable."

He married, 17 August 1873, Alma Leonora Olmstead, who died 22 March 1900, daughter of Alonson and Adelia (Ewings) Olmstead. A daughter, Ella Mabel Dowst, two brothers, Henry Dowst of Manchester and George Dowst of Allenstown, and two sisters, Mrs. Abram L. Ricker of Short Falls, N. H., and Annette L. Dowst of Allenstown, survive him.

IDA ELOISE McELWAIN of Brookline, Mass., a resident member since 1913, was born at Charlestown, Mass., 2 January 1870, the daughter of John Allen and Susan (Gilbert) McElwain, and died at Brookline 23 November 1917. She was descended from James¹ McElwain, originally from Argyllshire, Scotland, through Timothy,² John Allen,³ William,⁴ and John Allen,⁵ her father. Her mother was a descendant of Cotton Mather.

She was educated in the public schools of Boston, and after attending the Girls' High School continued her studies at Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw's private school. She taught for some time in the public kindergarten schools of Boston, and then travelled and studied art abroad.

HON. WILLIAM EATON CHANDLER, A.M., LL.D., of Concord, N. H., a resident member since 1883, was born at Concord 28 December 1835, the son of Nathan S. and Mary Ann (Tucker) Chandler, and died at Concord 30 November 1917.

He was educated in the public schools of Concord and at the academies at Thetford, Vt., and Pembroke, N. H., and, entering the Harvard Law School, received there the degree of LL.B. in 1854. He remained as a student at the Law School until 1855, was admitted to the New Hampshire bar, and was engaged thenceforth in the practice of law, in politics, and with the duties of important official positions in which he rendered notable service to his State and to the Nation. Dartmouth College conferred on him the honorary degree of A.M. in 1866 and that of LL.D. in 1901.

He was one of the young men who supported the Republican Party in its early days, and was secretary and afterwards chairman of the Republican State Committee of New Hampshire. In 1859 he was appointed reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, and published five volumes of reports. In 1862, 1863, and 1864 he was a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, serving as speaker for two terms, in 1863 and 1864. He was a vigorous advocate of the reelection of President Lincoln in 1864. In November of that year he was retained by the Navy Department as special counsel in the prosecution of the Philadelphia Navy Yard frauds, and in March 1865 President Lincoln appointed him Solicitor and Judge Advocate General of the Navy Department. This office he resigned in June of the same year, in order to accept an appointment to the position of First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, under Secretary Hugh McCullough; but after holding this office for more than two years he resigned it and resumed the practice of the law.

In 1868 he was a delegate at large from New Hampshire to the Republican national convention that nominated General Grant for the Presidency, and during the greater part of the administrations of President Grant he was secretary of the Republican National Committee. Although he did not hold this position in the Hayes-Tilden campaign of 1876, yet he was a staunch supporter of the Republican ticket, advocated the claims to election of the Hayes candidates for presidential electors in Florida before the canvassing board of that State, and was one of the counsel to prepare the Republican case for submission to the Electoral Commission. Afterwards he disagreed radically with the Southern policy of President Hayes. In the Republican national convention of 1880 he was again a delegate at large from New Hampshire, and favored first the nomination of Mr. Blaine and later that of Mr. Garfield. During the campaign that followed he was a member of the Republican National Committee. In March 1881 he was nominated by President Garfield for the post of Solicitor General in the Department of Justice, but the hostility of the Democrats in the Senate, with the help of a few Republicans, caused the rejection of the nomination in the following May. In 1882, however, President Arthur appointed him Secretary of the Navy, and in that department his work of reorganization was so effective that he has been styled by his admirers "the Father of the American Navy." It was Secretary Chandler who dispatched in 1884 an expedition, under the command of Capt. Winfield Scott Schley, to the Arctic regions for the relief of the Greeley exploring party, the survivors of which were thus rescued and brought back to Portsmouth Harbor.

In 1881 Mr. Chandler had again been a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, and was conspicuous during the session and after its close for his opposition to the domination of the railroads in New Hampshire affairs. After the death of United States Senator Austin Franklin Pike of New Hampshire on 8 October 1886, Person Colby Cheney was appointed to serve as his successor until the Legislature could elect a Senator for the unexpired portion of Senator Pike's term. This was done on 14 June 1887, when Mr. Chandler was elected and served as Senator until 3 March 1889. Then Gilman Marston was appointed to succeed Senator Chandler, the State Legislature not being in session; but when the Legislature met, it elected Mr. Chandler, 18 June 1889, for the term ending in 1895, and he was in due course reelected for another term, extending from 1895 to 1901. He was then appointed by President McKinley as president of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission, and held this position until 1908, when he resigned it and devoted himself again to his profession.

He was a member of the New Hampshire constitutional conventions of 1876 and of 1902, and in 1913 was made president of a State commission to erect a monument to President Franklin Pierce, the only President of the United States ever elected from New Hampshire. During the last four years of his life he was president of an association formed to restore the birthplace of Daniel Webster in Salisbury, N. H.

Mr. Chandler was a fearless advocate of whatever he believed to be right. Whether he was supporting the claims of Governor Hayes to the Presidency, advocating the rights of the Negro, opposing the rule of the railroads in his native State, or in his newspaper, the Concord Monitor, wielding a trenchant pen in defence of these causes or of any other cause that he deemed worthy of support, he was always a bold champion, a valiant fighter, and an incorruptible man.

He married first, 29 June 1859, Ann Caroline Gilmore, who died 20 March 1871, daughter of Hon. Joseph Albree Gilmore, Governor of New Hampshire from 1863 to 1865; and secondly, 23 December 1874, Lucy Lambert Hale, second daughter of Hon. John Parker Hale, the well-known antislavery Senator from New Hampshire. Four sons survive him, viz., by his first wife, Joseph Gilmore Chandler, born 23 April 1860, circulation manager of the Concord Monitor, William Dwight Chandler, born 3 February 1863, publisher of the Concord Monitor, and Lloyd Horwitz Chandler, born 17 August 1869, a captain in the United States Navy; and, by his second wife, John Parker Hale Chandler.

WILLIAM FRANCIS HARBACH of Newton, Mass., a resident member since 1887, was born at Newton 4 August 1842, the son of John Wilson and Charlotte (Pettee) Harbach, and died at Newton 12 December 1917. He traced his descent from Thomas¹ Harbach, who was in America about 1720, through Jonathan,² Thomas,³ and John Wilson,⁴ his father.

He was educated in the public schools of Newton, and when he was twenty-two years of age went to Chicago, Ill., where he was engaged in business until 1878. He then retired from business, and made Newton his residence for the remaining years of his life. He became interested in city affairs in 1889, when he served as an alderman from Ward 6, continuing in that office throughout 1892. He was at one time a candidate for mayor of the city. During his service in the city government he was prominent in the work of installing the present sewer system and in street improvements. During this time he was also a member of the Newton Water Board. In 1898 he accepted an appointment as a member of the Newton Board of Health, which he held until his death. His service in the city government was marked by great executive ability, positive opinions, and the courage to uphold them. In 1902 he became an incorporator in the Newton Savings Bank, a trustee in 1903, and was a member of the investment board from 1906 to the time of his death. For the last six months of his life he acted as president of the Bank.

Two sisters survive him: Sophronia Harbach of Newton and Charlotte, wife of Professor Newton L. Andrews of Hamilton, N. Y.

EDWIN PERRY WELLS, B.S., of Newton, Mass., elected a resident member in 1886 and made a life member in 1910, was born at Southbridge, Mass., 2 June 1859, the son of Hiram Cheney and Ellen Maria (Perry) Wells, and died at Newton 13 December 1917. His father was one of the founders of the American Optical Company, the largest industry in Southbridge, and his mother was a daughter of Daniel B. Perry of that town.

He was educated in the public schools of Southbridge, graduating at the high school there, and completed his preparation for college at the Hitchcock Free High School, Brimfield, Mass. He was a member of the Class of 1881 at Amherst College, having entered in the first term of the sophomore year; and he pursued the scientific course and received the degree of B.S. from that institution in 1882.

In the fall of 1882 he went into business in Boston, and was connected with the Suffolk Iron Company and the Ashcroft Manufacturing Company for two years and with the George F. Blake Pump Works for three years. In 1887 he was made foreman of the gold department of the American Optical Company at Southbridge, and while there was a director of the Southbridge Gas & Electric Company and of the Southbridge Water Supply Company. In 1895 he left Southbridge and became associated with the Globe Optical Company of Boston, of which he was president until 1903, when he retired from active business because of ill health. Afterwards he removed to Newton Centre, where he resided until his death.

Mr. Wells was fond of travel and made extensive journeys, visiting Bermuda and Porto Rico, spending seven months in Europe in 1903, visiting California, Oregon, the Yellowstone National Park, Alaska, and the Canadian Rockies in 1909, and being a member of a party of ten who made a journey around the world in 1912. He was much interested in photography, was also a genealogist of merit, and prepared a history, as yet unpublished, of the Wells family.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Boston, which he served in various official positions, he was for four years a trustee of the Newton Theological Seminary, and he was a member of Masonic and other organizations.

He married, 25 October 1882, Addie N. Greene, daughter of Henry and Joannah (Weeks) Greene of Warren, Mass., who survives him. He left no children.

Cf. Thirty Years After: A Record of the Class of Eighty-One, Amherst College, pp. 158-159.

WILLIAM ERASTUS CUSHING, A.B., LL.B., of Cleveland, Ohio, a resident member since 1913, was born at Cleveland 23 September 1853, the son of Dr. Henry Kirke and Betsey Maria (Williams) Cushing, and died at Cleveland 19 December 1917. He traced his descent from Matthew¹ Cushing of Hingham, co. Norfolk, England, who came to America in 1638 and settled at Hingham, Mass., through John,² Matthew,³ Josiah,⁴ David,⁵ David,⁶ Erastus,⁷ and Henry Kirke,⁸ his father.

He attended the public schools at Cleveland, and was graduated at Western Reserve College (now Adelbert College), Hudson, Ohio, in 1875, as valedictorian of his class, and at the Harvard Law School in 1878, again at the head of his class. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa during his junior year in college.

Returning to Cleveland, he began the practice of law, soon becoming a member of the partnership of Terrell, Beach & Cushing. The successive partnerships of Williamson, Beach & Cushing, Williamson, Cushing & Clarke, Cushing & Clarke, Cushing & Siddall, Cushing, Siddall & Lamb, and Cushing, Hopkins & Lamb followed during the active career in the practice of law in which his life was passed. He was a trustee of Adelbert College of Western Reserve University and also of the University School, Cleveland.

He married, 4 June 1884, Carolyn Kellogg, daughter of Ensign Hosmer and Caroline Lavinia (Campbell) Kellogg of Pittsfield, Mass., who survives him. There are no children.

JOSEPH WEBBER CHADWICK, A.M., of Malden, Mass., a resident member since 1909, was born at China, Me., 8 May 1836, the son of Abel and Elizabeth (Starrett) Chadwick, and died at Malden 21 December 1917. He traced his descent from James¹ Chadwick of Malden, a soldier in King Philip's War, through Benjamin,² James,³ Judah,⁴ and Abel,⁵ his father.

He was prepared for college at the New Hampton (N. H.) Literary Institution, where he excelled in Greek and was graduated in the Class of 1857. In 1858 he entered Bowdoin College, and although he taught during five of the twelve terms of his college course, he was graduated in 1862 with Phi Beta Kappa honors, ranking fourth in the class of thirty-seven. In 1865 he received the degree of A.M. from his alma mater.

Immediately after leaving college he became principal of the New Hampton Literary Institution, having special charge of the classical department and for four years doing vigorous work as teacher and principal. In 1866 he was elected professor of Latin in Bates College, but did not take up the duties of this position. In the same year he became usher in the Boston Latin School. He afterwards became in turn submaster and master there, and was at the head of the department of Latin from 1880 to 1906, when he retired from teaching.

In his home city of Malden he took an active part in church and municipal affairs. He served on the Malden School Committee, and was one of the founders and a trustee of the Public Library. He was also one of the incorporators of the Malden Industrial Aid Society, and assisted in establishing the Malden Home for Aged Persons, having been chairman of its executive committee from the beginning.

He was a deacon in the First Congregational Church of Malden, and a member of the Congregational Club of Massachusetts, the Pine Tree State Club, the Appalachian Mountain Club, and the Republican Club of Massachusetts.

He married first, at Malden, 26 October 1863, Sarah Ellen Roberts of Malden, who died in 1891, daughter of Stillman Killgore and Olive (Bradford) Roberts; and secondly, at Wolfsborough, N. H., 20 July 1893, Lydia Fernald Remick, a former graduate and teacher of the New Hampton Literary Institution, daughter of Charles and Elizabeth (Huggins) Remick, who with one son by his first wife, Stillman Percy Roberts Chadwick, A.B. (Harvard, 1892), A.M. (Harvard, 1899), head of the department of history in Phillips Academy, Exeter, N. H., survives him.

REV. LEVERETT WILSON SPRING, M.A., D.D., of Boston, a resident member since 1911, was born at Grafton, Vt., 5 January 1840, the son of Edward and Martha Maria (Atwood) Spring, and died in Boston 23 December 1917. His great-grandfather, Samuel Spring, a native of Weston, Mass., and an early settler of Grafton, Vt., was a descendant of John Spring, who came from Ipswich, co. Suffolk, England, to Watertown, Mass., in 1634, and his grandfather, likewise named Samuel Spring, was also of Grafton.

He was prepared for college at the Burr and Burton Seminary, Manchester, Vt., and was graduated at Williams College in the Class of 1863 and at the Hartford Theological Seminary in the Class of 1866. During the year 1866-67 he was a resident licentiate at Andover Theological Seminary. He received the honorary degree of M.A. from Williams College in 1886 and that of D.D. from the University of Kansas in the same year.

He was ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1868, when he was settled as pastor of the Rollstone Church at Fitchburg, Mass., where he remained until 1875. The next year he became pastor of the Plymouth Church, Lawrence, Kans., and remained there in that office until 1881, when he was made professor of English literature at the University of Kansas. He occupied this chair until 1886, when he was called to take a similar professorship at Williams College. He remained in active service at Williams until 1909, when he became professor emeritus of the English language and literature in the same institution. He resided in Boston in recent years.

Professor Spring's literary productions include the following: "Kansas," in the American Commonwealth Series, 1885, revised in 1906, "Mark Hopkins, Teacher," 1888, "Williams College," in the "History of Berkshire County," 1906, and various contributions to magazines. He also edited several addresses delivered at Williams on special occasions.

He was a member of the American Historical Association, the Massachusetts Historical Society, the Vermont Historical Society, and the St. Botolph Club.

He married at East Windsor Hill, Conn., 25 September 1867, Elizabeth Thompson, who died 19 March 1910, daughter of Professor William Thompson, D.D., of the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., and his wife, Eliza (Butler). His son, Romney Spring, B.A. (Williams, 1894), LL.B. (Harvard, 1897), born 22 October 1871, is a lawyer in Boston.

MRS. JENNIE B. (MORROW) FULLER of Boston, a life member since 1913, was born at Albany, N. Y., 14 August 1850, the daughter of John B. and Margaret B. (Craig) Morrow, and died in a hospital at Roxbury, Mass., after a brief illness, 24 December 1917.

She was married at Brooklyn, N. Y., 27 December 1880, by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher of the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, to Francis Henry Fuller, who was born at Lincoln, Me., 4 April 1846, and died in Boston 12 April 1913, the son of Timothy and Deborah Ellis (Baker) Fuller. Mr. Fuller had been a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1894, and a memoir of him may be found in REGISTER, vol. 68, p. lxy. He left no children.

For a short time Mrs. Fuller resided at San Francisco, Cal., when Mr. Fuller's genealogical work required his presence there. In more recent years she lived at the Trinity Church Home, South Huntington Avenue, Boston. She was a member of St. Paul's Church (Episcopal), now St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston. She is buried in the family lot in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, San Mateo Co., Cal., where her mother's body and her husband's ashes are interred.

In her last will Mrs. Fuller made a few bequests, including a bequest to the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and then provided that the residue of her property should go, in equal shares, to the New England Historic Genealogical Society, the Home for Deaf Mutes in Everett, Mass., the Trinity Church Home in Boston, and the Old People's Home in San Francisco, Cal.

Memoirs of the following-named members of the Society may be found as indicated:

NATHANIEL JOHNSON RUST, in the REGISTER of July 1917; FRANKLIN BENJAMIN SANBORN, in the REGISTER of October 1917; CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN, in the REGISTER of January 1918; HENRY DEERING, in the REGISTER of April 1918.

It is expected that memoirs of FRANKLIN HOWARD GILSON, PRENTISS CUMMINGS, and MOSES GREELEY PARKER will appear in future numbers of the REGISTER.

CHARTER AND ENABLING ACTS

An Act to incorporate the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECT. 1. Charles Ewer, J. Wingate Thornton, Joseph Willard, their associates and successors, are hereby made a corporation, by the name of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, for the purpose of collecting, preserving, and occasionally publishing, genealogical and historical matter, relating to early New England families, and for the establishment and maintenance of a cabinet; and for these purposes, shall have all the powers and privileges, and, be subject to all the duties, requirements and liabilities, set forth in the forty-fourth chapter of the Revised Statutes.

SECT. 2. The said corporation may hold and possess real and personal estate, to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars.

[Approved by the Governor, March 18, 1845.]

Acts and Resolves of the General Court of Massachusetts, 1845, chapter 152.

An Act to enable the New England Historic-Genealogical Society to hold an additional amount of property.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The New England Historic-Genealogical Society may take, by purchase, gift, grant or otherwise, and hold, real and personal estate not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, in addition to the amount authorized by the second section of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved April 1, 1868.

Acts and Resolves, 1868, chapter 100.

An Act to enable the New England Historic-Genealogical Society to hold additional real and personal property.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The New England Historic-Genealogical Society may take by bequest, gift, grant, or otherwise, and hold, real and personal estate not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars in value in addition to the amount authorized by section two of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and by section one of chapter one hundred of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and exclusive of the value of all books, papers, pictures and statuary now owned, or which may be hereafter acquired by said society.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved April 13, 1888.

Acts and Resolves, 1888, chapter 227.

An Act to enable women to become members of the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The New England Historic Genealogical Society, a corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth, may admit women to membership, subject to such restrictions as the by-laws of said corporation may from time to time impose.

Approved April 10, 1897.

Acts and Resolves, 1897, chapter 275.

The following is from the Revised Laws of 1902, Corporation Acts, chapter 125, section 8:

Any corporation organized under general or special laws for any of the purposes mentioned in section two [educational, charitable, antiquarian, historical, literary, scientific, etc.] . . . may hold real and personal estate to an amount not exceeding one million five hundred thousand dollars.

Owing to the large number of letters received by the officers of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, asking for genealogical or other information, to answer which satisfactorily would in many cases require extended investigations, it has become impossible for them to give personal attention to such inquiries, nor is it practicable to refer these letters to any of the assistants in the employ of the Society, because their time is fully occupied by their regular duties. The officers, however, are glad to help those seeking information by calling attention to the expert services of the genealogists, book dealers, printers and publishers, engravers and photographers, manufacturers of paper, etc., who advertise in the following pages. Inquirers should make their own business arrangements with those whose names are given below, as the Society assumes NO responsibility in the matter.

of the NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY asks for contributions for the continuance of its work in England. Subscriptions may be sent to the Treasurer of the Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

HERALDRY

THE COMMITTEE ON HERALDRY OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those respite for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manor houses, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

FOR SALE.—A complete set of the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, with the Consolidated Index. For price apply to THE TREASURER, 9 ASHBURTON PLACE, BOSTON, MASS.

MASSACHUSETTS VITAL RECORDS

ON 1 December 1918 the purchase and free distribution of printed Vital Records of Massachusetts towns prior to 1850 will be discontinued by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the law providing for such purchase and distribution having been repealed by the General Court of 1918. It is, however, exceedingly desirable that the records of the towns not yet printed be published in a form similar to those already issued. The New England Historic Genealogical Society is preparing for publication the records of several towns, and will carry on this work to completion provided that enough subscriptions be secured to warrant the undertaking. The Vital Records of Plympton and of Nantucket should be ready for printing in 1919, and those of Taunton, Dartmouth, and New Bedford would follow a little later. A circular giving full particulars will be sent on request. Address the Committee on Publications, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

PRICE LIST, 1918

THE REGISTER

The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, established in 1847 and published quarterly, in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains from eighty to ninety-six octavo pages of valuable and interesting matter concerning the History, Antiquities, Genealogy, and Biography of America, printed on durable paper made especially for the Society, with an engraved portrait in each number. A complete index to each volume in the October number. Subscription, $5.00 per year in advance, commencing in January. Current single numbers, $1.00. Supplement to April number, $1.00. Prices of complete sets, odd volumes, and single numbers quoted on application. Unobjectionable advertisements accepted at reasonable rates.

Consolidated Index of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vols. 1-50. Index of Persons (A to Z), Index of Subjects, and Index of Places. Price for the complete work, bound in cloth, 4 vols., $100.

The Register with its Consolidated Index is indispensable to family historians, genealogists, and all persons seeking information about American families. The number of complete sets in existence is limited, and their value is constantly increasing.

ENGLISH RESEARCH

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is now located in its new building at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, with adequate space for future growth, with safe quarters for its magnificent genealogical library, and with facilities for the economical administration of its various departments.

It needs substantial increases of endowment and income, in order to prosecute its work with vigor and to accomplish the objects for which it was founded.

Its past achievements, in gathering a library which is unrivalled in its field, in publishing data relating to American families unsurpassed either in amount or quality by any kindred institution, in making extensive researches in England, the results of which have been of national importance, in conducting monthly public meetings which are largely attended, and in promoting interest in genealogical studies in America throughout the entire period of its existence, entitle the Society to consideration by all interested in American genealogy, and ought to enlist the support of those who desire the preservation of the records of American families.

Its officers will gladly confer with anyone desiring to create memorial funds by gift or bequest, the income of which shall be used to promote the objects of the Society.

Its membership is open to all persons of good character who are interested in the work of the Society. Its quarterly periodical, THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, is the leading publication of its kind, and is sent free to resident and life members.

The fee for resident membership is $5.00 per calendar year, and the fee for life membership is $50.00.

GENEALOGIES COMPILED AND PUBLISHED

IMPORTANT NOTICE

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY announces that it is prepared to undertake the compilation and publication in book form of genealogies of American families. Its long experience in publishing, its unrivalled facilities for the collection and verification of genealogical data, its fireproof building with abundance of space for the carrying on of such work and for the safe storage of manuscripts and printed books, its equipment for advertising and selling genealogical publications, and its ability to supply expert superintendence for every branch of the work practically insure better results at less cost than can be obtained by the methods now ordinarily followed. The character of the work already done by the Society in publishing family histories and genealogical records is a guarantee that genealogies prepared under its supervision will be as free from errors of fact and of judgment as it is possible to make them and will be examples of good taste in arrangement, illustration, and the details of bookmaking. They will be printed on durable paper and will receive suitable bindings.

Those wishing to arrange for the publication of genealogies already compiled, for the completion of genealogies already begun, or for the entire work of compiling and publishing are invited to confer with
